INTRODUCTORY.

CAMBRIDGE is principally noted throughout the country as the seat of the oldest College in the United States. The town, originally called Newtowne, was settled in 1630, soon after the settlement of Boston. It had originally a very large extent of territory, the greater portion of which has since been set off, and now forms several of the adjoining towns. "Scarcely had the venerable founders of New England felled the trees of the forest," says Dr. Holmes, in his American Annals, "when they began to provide means to insure the stability of their colony. Learning and religion they wisely judged to be the firmest pillars of the common wealth." In 1636, the General Court appropriated In 1636, the General Court appropriated four hundred pounds towards the erection of a public school at Newtowne. In 1638, John Harvard, a minister of Charlestown, left by will nearly eight hundred pounds, to be devoted to the support of this school. The General Court soon after ordered that the school, in honor of its earliest benefactor, should be called Harvard College, and the town Cambridge, in memory of the place in England at whose university several of the most influential of the colonists had received their education. From that day to this, the College has been carried on successfully, constantly increasing in reputation throughout the country and the world, until now it is the best endowed of all our colleges, and with regard to library, professorships, and other literary advantages in general, it is the first institution of its kind in the United States. Hayward, in his Massachusetts Gazetteer, says truly that "the establishment of this College, 'consecrated to Christ and the Church,' has been generally regarded as a striking proof of the far-seeing wisdom of the fathers of Massachusetts. It shared the prayers and best wishes of ministers and churches, and proved the nursery of many 'plants of renown,' distinguished, not in the walks of sacred labor alone, but in council, at the bar, upon the bench, and even in the field." Several of the most talented men of New England have been proud of the (3)

title of President of Harvard College, and hosts of others, whose names are borne upon the college rolls of graduates, have, in years past, adorned, and still continue to adorn, the social, religious, political, and professional circles of every portion of the country.

In later years, Cambridge has become noted as containing the entrance to the beautiful Cemetery at Mount Auburn, which is situated partly in Cambridge, and partly in the adjoining town of Watertown.

It may be imagined that the location of a College at Cambridge rendered necessary, in early times, the contrivance of some means for public conveyance between the town on one side of Charles River, near its mouth, and what was then, and for many years after, the metropolis of the country, — Boston, — on a peninsula, on the opposite side of the mouth of the river. The only possible means of communication between the two places by land, was by passage over Boston Neck, through Roxbury, a long and tedious journey when compared with the short distance between the two towns by water. The ordinary method of public conveyance was therefore, in those early days, by means of a small ferry boat, which plied between the two places.

The two towns had no other means of direct communication between them until the erection of what is known as the West Boston Bridge, which was built across Charles River, and finished in the year 1793. This bridge was one of the first structures of the kind in the country. It is the one over which the Cambridge Railroad passes, and will be referred to more at length hereafter. The construction of this bridge added much to the importance of Cambridge, and its population has, as an evidence thereof, been rapidly increasing ever since its erection. In the year 1846, the town received a municipal charter from the state legislature, and assumed the form of city government common in New England, essentially the same as that of Boston. The place now, in 1858, has a population of about twenty-five thousand inhabitants. Should it increase in population as rapidly as it has for some few years past, it will before many years be one of the most populous of New England cities.

Cambridge is naturally divided into four parts: Old Cambridge, which contains the Colleges and Mount Auburn Cemetery; North Cambridge, beyond the College, in a northerly direction, toward the town of West Cambridge; Cambridgeport, which embraces the territory between the end of West Boston Bridge and Old Cambridge; and East Cambridge, the most recently settled part of the city, which is reached from Boston by another bridge, called Canal or Craigie's Bridge, a short distance north of the West Boston Bridge. East Cambridge, to a much greater extent than any of the other parts of the city, is devoted to manufacturing purposes. The works of the New England and Bay State Glass Companies are in this part of the city, where large numbers of persons find employment. There is considerable manufacturing carried on at Cambridgeport, and Old Cambridge has acquired some notoriety from the fact that within its boundaries are located several of the largest printing offices and stereotype founderies in the country. It is here that the plates of a large portion of the standard works published in Boston are cast, and it is here that the works themselves are printed. The first printing press in America was established in Cambridge, in 1639, by Stephen Day, and the first work printed thereon was "The Freeman's Oath." North Cambridge is principally noted for its cattle fairs, where immense numbers of cattle are sold weeklv.

Although, as has been remarked, Cambridge is to a certain extent a manufacturing place, much more so than the generality of suburban towns, yet, as will readily be imagined from a knowledge of its proximity to the capital, and the ready means of public conveyance between the two places, it is, and always must be, a place occupied principally for residences of persons doing business in the metropolis. The construction of the Horse Railroad has to an unusual extent contributed to make Cambridge desirable as a place of residence: and when it is remembered that the centre of the city is within half an hour's ride of the business part of Boston, that the city is supplied with gas, and furnished with a most abundant supply of the purest water, it would seem that a residence there must be almost as convenient as a residence in Boston, besides having all those attractions so eagerly wished for in a large city, and always expected in a country residence.

PUBLIC CONVEYANCES.

It may be interesting now to glance at the various means of public conveyance between the two cities, from the earliest times to the present day. The old ferry boat has already been noticed, as having been the only direct method of conveyance between the two places, from the settlement of Cambridge until the year 1793. Let the reader imagine, if he can, the appearance of the affair, which, in all probability, was nothing but a small row boat; then imagine the building of the new bridge, and what a wonder it must have been to the inhabitants, who saw, as it were, their town of Cambridge joined arm in arm with the metropolis; then imagine the first coach that was used to convey passengers from Old Cambridge to Boston, then the long omnibuses, and finally the horse cars.

THE OMNIBUSES.

For nearly two years after the ferry was abolished, and the bridge completed, there were no means by which the people of Cambridge and Boston could visit each other, except by a long walk from place to place over the bridge, or by the use of private conveyances. In 1795, Nathaniel Stimson and Joseph Seaver commenced running a coach to Boston twice a day. The coach was an ancient affair, was drawn by two horses, and carried eight persons, besides the driver. The driver in those days announced his approach with sound of a horn. In 1797, the originators of the enterprise sold out their interest to Jonathan Hersey, who ran the coaches until 1805 or 1806. Mr. Hersey then sold out to James Read. Mr. Read afterwards sold out to a Mr. Fuller, but subsequently bought back again, and continued to run the coach until 1828. In 1826, Ebenezer Kimball commenced running a hired hack from Cambridgeport every other hour. This enterprise was so successful, that he purchased a second-hand coach, and put it upon the route. In 1828, he purchased Mr. Read's interest in the Old Cambridge coach. Near this time, the use of the horn was discontinued, and a bugle substituted. The coaches were then drawn by four horses. The first omnibus was placed on the route on Commencement Day, 1834. In 1837, another omnibus was placed by Mr. Kimball on the route, and was run every other half hour. This was soon followed by another omnibus.

In 1839, what was long known as the Cambridge Stage Company was formed, composed of Abel Willard, Mark Bills, and Charles Haynes, who purchased all Mr. Kimball's interest, and continued to run two hourly and two half hourly coaches from Old Cambridge. Occasional coaches, running on Harvard Street and Broadway, were commenced in 1843. In November, 1843, Mr. Tarbox started an opposition coach, and in January, 1844, a regular opposition line was started by Messrs. Tarbox and Stearns. Mr. Stearns afterwards became sole proprietor of the opposition. united with the regular line, and commenced running every quarter of an hour. In 1847, two coaches were placed on Harvard Street, and a rival line on Broadway was purchased. Messrs, Willard and Stearns afterwards admitted Charles A. Kimball, son of Ebenezer Kimball, as a partner in the concern, and from that time until the establishment of the railroad, the business was carried on by Messrs. Willard. Steams, and Kimball, running trips every quarter of an hour, and oftener, when required. As soon as the railroad was completed, they made an amicable arrangement with the Union Railway Company, to whom the railroad had been leased, by which all their omnibuses, sleighs, horses, harnesses, &c., were passed over to the new company.

THE HORSE RAILROAD.

In the year 1853, several public spirited gentlemen applied to the legislature for a charter, with power to build a horse railroad from Boston to Roxbury. An application was made soon after by several gentlemen of Cambridge for a charter with like power to construct a horse railroad from Boston to Cambridge. In May, 1853, a charter was granted to the Roxbury company, and, a few days afterwards, another charter was granted to Gardiner G. Hubbard, Isaac Livermore, Charles C. Little, their associates and successors, under the name of the Cambridge Railroad Company. Nothing was done, however, under the charter, except locating the road, until the year 1855, when a contract was made with Gardner Warren for the construction of the road. Work under this contract was commenced September 1, 1855, and the road was so far completed on the 26th of March, 1856, that cars were run upon it on that day for the first time. The road had previously been leased to the Union Railway Company, another corporation, who purchased of the old omnibus proprietors all their interest and good will on the 1st of January, 1856, at which time they commenced running the omnibuses until the cars could be put upon the track. The omnibuses soon afterwards disappeared altogether.

The Cambridge road was the first horse railroad actually in operation in New England, although the Roxbury company was chartered a few days before the Cambridge

The road extends in a direct line to the College buildings, thence to Mount Auburn, and runs thence to Watertown Village. There are also branch tracks; one from the College buildings, through North Cambridge to the West Cambridge line, where a connection is made with the West Cambridge Railroad, which runs thence to the centre of West Cambridge; another branch from Cambridgeport to East Cambridge, and another from Cambridgeport through River Street to the Brighton line, where a connection is made with the Newton Railroad, which runs thence through Brighton. A line from East Cambridge to the College buildings, through Cambridge street, is projected, and will probably be completed before the issue of this work. The distances on these roads are

The equipment used by the Union Railway Company, consists of about 50 cars, 300 horses and other necessary articles, buildings, &c. The cars run about 275 trips per day, a trip being the journey from one terminus to another and back again. The average number of passengers carried over the road in a day is about 8000. The company employs regularly about 140 persons. The Union Railway Company have been remarkably successful since the opening of the road, and have not only paid their rent, their running expenses, and kept the road in repair, but have also paid to their own stockholders ten per cent. per annum.

THE ROUTE.

[The visitor is supposed to be going toward Cambridge.]

Supposing the visitor to be now seated in one of the cars from Boston, that the bell has been rung, and the car started, we will endeavor to accompany him, and point out objects of interest as they are passed.

Dr. Lowell's Church.

The street leading from the car station in Bowdoin Square, Boston, to the West Boston Bridge, before referred to, is called Cambridge Street. Just as the car begins to descend the hill, a large open space will be noticed on the right hand side of the street, with a small fountain in its centre. This square is called Lowell Square, and the church beyond, the West Church. Here the Rev. Dr. Lowell formerly preached. The society was formed in 1735, and the present church was erected in 1806, at about which time Dr. Lowell was settled as pastor. In 1837, Rev. Cyrus A. Bartol became colleague with Dr. Lowell, since which time Dr. Lowell has not attended to the active duties of his office.

THE MEDICAL COLLEGE.

At a short distance from the bridge is a small street called North Grove Street, leading from the right hand side of the street, at the end of which may be seen a large brick building, called the Massachusetts Medical College. This institution is properly a branch of Harvard College, the medical students attending here to hear lectures from the various professors. The building will accommodate several hundred students, has a large anatomical museum, and a well-selected medical library. The proximity of the College to the Massachusetts General Hospital affords students a fine opportunity to witness a great variety of interesting cases. By his will, Dr. John C. Warren ordered that his skeleton, properly prepared, should be presented to the institution, the objects of which he materially promoted during his lifetime. The Medical College is interesting as being the scene of the murder of Dr. George Parkman by Dr. John W. Webster, on the 23d of November, 1849. Dr. Parkman was a gentleman of wealth residing in Boston, who had loaned to Dr. Webster, the professor of chemistry at Harvard College, a sum of money, which he had made repeated attempts to obtain. On the day named above, he called at Dr. Webster's office in the Medical College, and demanded the money. It was refused, and high words passed between the two, when Dr. Webster struck Dr. Parkman with a stick near at hand, and killed him. Dr. Webster then attempted to destroy the body, by burning a part, and throwing the remainder into the college vault. The disappearance of Dr. Parkman caused intense excitement, and efforts were made to find a trace of him, but without success, until the janitor of the college discovered the remains in the vault. Webster was immediately arrested, tried, found guilty, and executed. Before he died, he confessed that he had killed Dr. Parkman. The whole matter, from the disappearance of Dr. Parkman to the execution of Dr. Webster, created the most intense excitement all over the country.

JAIL, AND EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY.

As the car nears the bridge, the visitor will see, on the right, a short distance back from the street, a massive granite building. This is the Boston Jail. The entrance is on a side street, called North Charles Street. This building is two stories high, built upon what is known as the Auburn plan—a prison within a prison. The main building is octagonal in form, with four wings, one from the north, south, east, and west. The lower story of the main building is used as kitchen, bakery, laundry, &c. The upper story is a guard and inspection room. The wings contain the cells. The entire building is strongly and expensively constructed, and is remarkably well adapted to the purposes for which it was intended. Charles Street is the street opposite that on which the jail is situated. On the right hand side of this street, a short distance from Cambridge Street, may be seen a very neatly constructed building, of brick, called the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary. This building is under the charge of a charitable association, and is intended for the use of the poor exclusively. No fees are ever charged by the society.

CAMBRIDGE BRIDGE.

The car next approaches the West Boston Bridge, heretofore referred to as having materially contributed to the prosperity of Cambridge. In 1792, certain influential and public-spirited persons of Boston were incorporated, for the purpose of building this bridge from what was then called the Pest House, in Boston, (at some distance east of the present Boston abutment of the bridge,) to what was called Pelham's Island, near Cambridge, with a causeway thence to the Cambridge shore. The work on the causeway was commenced July 15, 1792. The wood work of the bridge was commenced April 8, 1793. The bridge and causeway were opened for passengers November 23, 1793. The bridge was 40 feet wide, and 2845 feet in length. The causeway was 3344 feet long, and the whole cost £23,000, or about $76,666. The first bridge was built upon pine wood piles. which, going rapidly to decay, were replaced by oaken ones a few years later. By the original act of incorporation, the bridge corporation was granted a toll for seventy years from the opening of the bridge. This right of toll would have expired in 1863, but it was afterwards extended to the year 1879, in consideration of the granting of a charter to the proprictors of Canal Bridge to East Cambridge, the supposition being that the erection of the latter bridge would decrease the receipts on the West Boston Bridge. The proprietors of the bridge continued to take tolls until the year 1846, although for many years previously the payment of the toll was, by the citizens of Cambridge, universally felt to be an onerous charge upon them, and, to a certain extent, was thought to retard the growth of the town. In 1846, the legislature came to the relief of the people, and passed an act authorizing the crection of the Hancock Free Bridge between the two bridges. The construction of this bridge, it was seen by the two old corporations, would seriously interfere with their profits, the amount of which, although small at the commencement of their enterprises, had then for many years been excessive, and almost beyond belief. They therefore both offered to sell their bridges to the new corporation, i accordance with a provision in the charter of the latter. The proposed new free bridge was therefore never erected, but the two old bridges passed into the possession of the new corporation, whose object was to raise, by issue of stock, sufficient to pay for the bridges, then to raise a fund sufficient to pay off that stock with interest, and to keep the two bridges in repair forever; the bridges then to become free avenues for public travel. The amount paid for the bridges was $135.000, — $75.000 for the West Boston, and $60,000for the Canal Bridge. This was soon paid off; both bridges were substantially rebuilt, the causeway laid out as a public street, about seven hundred and fifty feet of the West Boston Bridge, principally on the Cambridge side, filled up solid, and a fund of $100,000 raised to keep the bridges in repair. This fund was then passed over to the city of Cambridge. according to law, and will be held by them forever for that purpose. On the 1st of February, 1858, the bridges were declared free, and the event was duly celebrated by the citizens of Cambridge.

MASSACHUSETTS GENERAL HOSPITAL.

As soon as the car reaches the draw of the bridge, the visitor will have a fine opportunity to view the jail again. The white granite building next beyond the jail, and to the left, facing the latter, is the Massachusetts General Hospital. The corner stone of this building was laid July 4, 1818, with great pomp, and the building was completed in September, 1821. The erection of the Hospital originated from a bequest of five thousand dollars, left by a gentleman who died towards the close of the last century, for the purpose of aiding in the erecting of a hospital. Nothing was however done until 1810, when steps were taken towards carrying out the wishes of the testator. In 1811 a large number of gentlemen, interested in the subject, procured an act of incorporation, under the name of the Massachusetts General Hospital. That act granted to the corporation an estate called the Old Province House, in Boston, where the governors of the province formerly resided, and which has since been turned into a negro concert hall. The grant was, however, upon the condition that one hundred thousand dollars additional should be raised by subscription within ten years. This sum was raised within a few years, soon after which the present building was erected, and an estate in Somerville purchased, for the accommodation of such insane patients whose friends were willing to pay their expenses. The insane asylum is called the McLean Asylum, from one of the largest benefactors of the hospital. The building in Boston has, within a few years, been materially enlarged by the addition of wings.

VIEW FROM THE BRIDGE.

The visitor will now notice the Canal Bridge to East Cambridge, the next bridge to the right when facing Cambridge. This bridge has been before referred to. Bunker Hill Monument, at Charlestown, will be seen towering in the distance, a short distance from which is the State Prison, a granite building, with a cupola, directly beyond one of the circular buildings used as a locomotive engine house. Next, the tall chimney of the New England Glass Company will be seen, and then in East Cambridge, near the end of the Canal Bridge, the county buildings of the county of Middlesex, the Court House, Registry of Deeds, Probate, &c., and in front of them, the House of Correction, Jail, &c.

On the left of the bridge, the polygonal shaped building on the Boston side is an enormous gas-holder, constructed by the Boston Gas Light Company in 1858, for the purpose of storing gas made during the day, for use at night. This is but one of several gas-holders owned by the company in Boston.

The bridge next to the West Boston Bridge on this side, is what is called the Mill Dam, or Western Avenue, leading from Boston to Brookline. This is a solid structure, commenced in 1818, and finished in 1821. It is a mile and a half long, and, in some parts, a hundred feet in width. The opposite shore, between the Mill Dam and the West Boston Bridge, forms parts of the towns of Brookline, Brighton, and Cambridge.

CAMBRIDGEPORT.

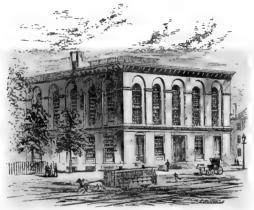

There will be found nothing of interest after the bridge has been passed, until the car turns the curve near the Universalist Church, in Cambridgeport.

That part of Cambridge extending from near the church to within about three quarters of a mile of the College buildings, is what is usually called Cambridgeport. That part of the city immediately beyond the bridge has usually been denominated the "Lower Port." This latter part of the city seemed at one time destined to become an important business place. It was one of the first enterprises after the adoption of the constitution of the United States, "and its successful progress in the outset was in accordance with the prosperity of the country under the impulses given to it by the first administration of the new government." Several large stores were erected there, a tavern was built, "and in a few years quite a handsome village sprang up, in a manner quite novel in that age." Roads, wharves, and canals were constructed at a great expense, to meet the expected trade, the place was made a port of delivery by Congress, plans were drawn of an embryo town, which contained reservations for court building, markets, &c., and every thing seemed to show that Cambridgeport would soon become a thriving place. "But competitors soon arose, in the form of new improvements, which attracted the public mind, and drew away the nourishment that sustained Cambridgeport, and dispersed it among numbers of hungry claimants. West Boston Bridge brought into existence Cambridgeport, and before it had time for any substantial maturity, clouds and darkness portended its fate. South Boston, Canal Bridge, and the Mill Dam followed in rapid succession, all expecting to derive their support from the same source which had cherished the little settlement of Cambridgeport - the trade of the county, and the sale of lands to actual set-Then came the embargo, which "palsied the energies of this thrifty village," and "thus ended the first splendid race of competition in the suburbs of Boston."

CITY HALL.

After passing the Universalist Church at the curve, the visitor fairly enters Cambridgeport. The first object of interest is the City Hall, a large brick building (a cut of which we give) at the left, a short distance beyond the church. This structure was erected for the use of the Cambridge Athenæum, and was, in 1858, sold to the city for a City Hall. Thomas Dowse, formerly well known as a resident of this part of the city, left by will a large sum of money, to be expended by his executors for charitable and literary purposes. Of this amount, ten thousand dollars were paid to the city in 1858, for the purpose of sustaining a course of public lectures in the large and beautiful hall in the second story of this building. The lower story is used for the public offices. The land on which the building stands was a gift from Edmund T. Dana. The city paid fifteen thousand dollars for the estate and personal property connected therewith, including the Athenæum Library, Mr. Dana consenting to the transfer, on condition that the city should, for six years, expend three hundred dollars annually toward the improvement of the library.

INMAN HOUSE.

There is no other object of interest to the stranger, after passing the City Hall, and before reaching the Colleges, excepting the Inman House, which is at a little distance beyond the City Hall, and on the right. It is at the corner of Main and Inman Streets, and is a large wooden building, standing far back from the street, with a spacious and beautiful lawn in front. This building was built before the revolutionary war, and was owned by Ralph Inman, a tory, who was unceremoniously dispossessed of his property. The building is remarkable on account of having been the head quarters of General Israel Putnam, while the American army was encamped at Cambridge, during the siege of Boston.

The lofty towers of Gore Hall next appear in sight among the College buildings on the right.

APTHORP'S PALACE.

We will leave Gore Hall for the present to notice a large wooden building standing back from the side of the street opposite that on which Gore Hall appears. This building is to this day called the "Bishop's Palace." It was erected by Mr. Apthorp, a gentleman of wealth, born in Boston, but who had been educated in England. The popular belief was, that he expected the appointment of Bishop of New England from the English government, and intended to make this building his official residence. He was disappointed, however; but the building yet remains, with traces of that former elegance which was the wonder of the good people of Cambridge, at the time of its erection. The British General Burgoyne resided here for some time as a prisoner of war.

HARVARD COLLEGE.

Harvard College has before been referred to in general terms. The visitor can now, if he chooses, leave the car, and enjoy a stroll through the College grounds. The situation of the various buildings, or halls, as they are called, will very readily be ascertained by reference to the accompanying plan.

Gore Hall, hefore referred to, contains the College library. The building is of rough Quincy granite, and was erected in 1838. It is in the form of a Latin cross, the extreme length being 140 feet externally, and through the transept 81 feet. The interior contains a hall 112 feet long, 35 feet high, with a vaulted ceiling, supported by twenty ribbed columns. The spaces between the columns and side walls are divided into alcoves, above and below a gallery. There are about seventy thousand volumes in the building, a collection of Greek and Oriental manuscripts, and a large collection of coins and medals. This building is named after the Hon. Christopher Gore, who bequeathed one hundred thousand dollars to the College.

The Dane Law School was erected in 1832, with funds contributed by the Hon. Nathan Dane, after whom it is named. This building is one of the most appropriately constructed of all the College buildings.

The long row of brick buildings in Harvard Square, opposite the Law School, is called Graduates' Hall. The upper stories are devoted to the use of graduates, and the ground floor is leased for various business purposes. These buildings were erected in the year 1832.

Massachusetts Hall, built in 1720, is the oldest of the College buildings. It is of brick, 100 feet long, and 41 wide; and contains rooms for the use of the students.

University Hall was erected in 1814. The outer walls are composed of Chelmsford granite. This edifice contains the chapel, lecture rooms, &c. Its dimensions are, length 140 feet, width 50 feet, height 42 feet.

Harvard Hall is a large brick building erected in 1766, 108 feet long, 40 feet wide, and 38 feet in height. It was erected at the expense of the State, to replace a building of the same name, which was burned in the winter of 1764-5, while occupied by the General Court, which had removed from Boston on account of the prevalence there of the small pox. The library was contained in the old building, and was destroyed, with the exception of such books as had been loaned. The present building formerly contained the library in the second story, and below had a chapel and lecture room. When the library was removed to Gore Hall, the lower story was remodelled, and now consists of a single room, where the Alumni dine on Commencement. Around it are hung the portraits of the benefactors of the College, many of them works of the first painters of the day. The mineralogical cabinet is above, and is a very fine collection. It contains the most perfect specimen of the skeleton of the mastodon ever discovered. The College bell is upon Harvard Hall.

Hollis Hall contains rooms for the students. It was erected in 1763, and is built of brick. It is 105 feet in length, 44 in breadth, and 37 in height. It was named after the Hollis family, several members of which were very large benefactors of the College.

Holden Chapel was erected in 1744, and is of brick. The funds for its erection were contributed by the widow and daughters of Samuel Holden, a merchant of London, who died a few years before its erection. This building was long used as a chapel, but is now devoted to medical purposes, and contains a large anatomical museum.

Stoughton Hall was built in 1805. It is of brick, and is devoted to the use of the students. It was named after William Stoughton, who was lieutenant governor and chief justice of the province.

Holworthy Hall, named after Sir Matthew Holworthy, a great benefactor of the College, who died in 1678, is also a brick building, erected in 1812, 138 feet long, 34 in breadth, and 37 in height. It is occupied by the students of the senior class.

Boylston Hall was erected in 1867. It is a rough granite building, nearly in front of Gore Hall. It contains the lecture rooms of the professors of chemistry and comparative anatomy, with a laboratory and museum. Near Boylston Hall is the building, still owned by the college, and formerly occupied by the presidents. It was built in 1726.

The Appleton Chapel is a large freestone building, erected in 1858, from funds bequeathed by the Hon. Samuel Appleton pleton.

Divinity Hall is very pleasantly located on Divinity Hall

Avenue, leading from Kirkland Street. It was erected in 1826, for the use of the divinity students. It is a brick building.

The Lawrence Scientific School stands on Kirkland Street. This is an uncommonly handsome brick building, devoted to the purposes of the Scientific School, founded by Abbott Lawrence, in 1848. In this school, young men, whether they have or have not received a classical education, can be taught the various scientific branches.

The Observatory is on an eminence at the left. It contains one of the best refracting telescopes in the world. which has contributed materially to many important discoveries in the solar system. The instrument was purchased with funds contributed by various wealthy gentlemen of Boston and vicinity. The building also contains all the instruments necessary for examinations of the stars, and for magnetic and meteorological purposes.

There is, at a short distance from the College buildings, on Linnaan Street, a Botanical Garden, seven acres in extent, under the charge of the professor of botany. This garden. first established in 1807, is laid out in an ornamental style, and is well furnished with an interesting collection of native and foreign trees, shrubs, and plants.

The government of the College is vested in a corporation, consisting of the president, treasurer, and five fellows, a board of overseers composed of the president of the college, the governor and lieutenant governor of the state, the members of the state executive council, and the senate, together with the speaker of the house of representatives, and thirty other gentlemen, (fifteen clergymen resident in Boston and vicinity, and fifteen laymen,) elected by the legislature. The faculty of instruction, embracing the professional and scientific schools, consists of the president, twenty-eight professors, five tutors, and several teachers. The degree of bachelor of arts is conferred at the close of a course of four years' study. The term of study in the Divinity School is three years, and in the Law School three years. The medical lectures are delivered in the Medical College in Boston.

Harvard College, as has been remarked, is the most richly endowed of all the colleges in the country. It received many benefactions from wealthy persons in England before the revolution, and both before and since that time, has received large sums from the state and private individuals. Recent contributions have been almost altogether from private citizens.

The church in the square opposite the railroad station is that of the Old Cambridge Baptist society. The church on the left, opposite the College buildings, is the Unitarian Church, in which the exercises are held on Commencement Day. Several of the Presidents of the College were buried in the graveyard adjoining this church. The wooden building with a circular end, near the Baptist Church, at the left, belongs to the College, and is used for a music hall.

Nearly opposite the college buildings is the Common, near the north-westerly corner of which is the famous Washington Elm. Beneath this tree General Washington first drew his sword as commander-in-chief of the American army, on the morning of July 3, 1775.

BRATTLE HOUSE.

The visitor should now reënter the cars, and proceed on the road to Mount Auburn. The Brattle House will soon be passed. This building was erected for a hotel, but the speculation proved a disastrous one to the originators, and the building was afterwards sold to the College authorities, and is now principally occupied by the law students.

Mr. Longfellow's Residence.

Some very beautiful residences will now be passed, on both sides of the road, which will attract the attention of the visitor. On the right will be seen a large wooden house, painted yellow, with white, ornamental columns. This building is supposed to have been erected by Colonel John Vassal, who died in 1747. It fell by descent to his son John, who was a noted royalist. It then became the head quarters of General Washington, during the siege of Boston. It was afterwards owned by Thomas Tracy, Joseph Lee, and Andrew Craigie, after whom it was called the Craigie House, and is now owned by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet. The room upon the lower floor, at the right of the door, was occupied as a study by General Washington, and is now used for the same purpose by Mr. Longfellow. The room over it was occupied by the general as a sleeping room. The room in the rear of the study was occupied by the aids-de-camp, and is now used as a library room. The poet's own lines refer, on several occasions, to the associations connected with the Craigie House. In his "Lines to a Child," it is thus referred to: -

MR. LONGFELLOW'S RESIDENCE.

"Once, ah, once, within these walls,
One whom memory oft recalls,
The Father of his Country, dwelt,
And yonder meadows broad and damp,
The fires of the besigging camp
Encircled with a burning belt.
Up and down these echoing stairs,
Heavy with the weight of cares,
Sounded his majestic tread;
Yes, within this very room,
Sat he in those hours of gloom,
Weary both in heart and head."

RIEDESEL House.

At a short distance above Mr. Longfellow's residence, at the corner of Sparks Street, may be seen the house in which the Brunswick general, Baron Riedesel, and his family were quartered, during the stay of the captive army of Burgoyne in the vicinity of Boston. This house may be recognized by the large number of beautiful linden trees around it. On a pane of one of the windows may still be seen the name of the baroness, supposed to have been engraved thercon by herself, with the diamond of her ring. The house is now occupied by John Brewster, Esq.

Dr. Lowell's Residence.

At the south-west corner of Elmwood Avenue is the estate of the Rev. Dr. Lowell. The house, almost entirely concealed from view by trees, was erected by the famous Andrew Oliver, the stamp commissioner, who was hung in effigy by the people of Boston in 1765, and whose stamp office, or rather a building supposed to be intended for a stamp office, was destroyed by a mob. Oliver was at his house in Cambridge at the time, and was waited upon by the mob, but they departed without doing him any injury. Oliver being a refugee, the estate was confiscated, and while the American army was quartered at Cambridge in 1775. the house was used as a hospital. Several soldiers must have been buried near the house, for when Mount Auburn Street was graded, a few years since, a large number of skeletons was found that had evidently been in graves. The estate was afterwards owned by Elbridge Gerry, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, a governor of Massachusetts, and, the time of his death, Vice President of the United States.

MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY.

In the year 1831, the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, of which Joseph Story, the late eminent jurist, was president, obtained from the legislature of the state an act authorizing them "to dedicate and appropriate" any part of the real estate then owned or to be afterwards purchased by them, "as and for a rural cemetery or burying ground." The ground selected for the purpose is the present Cemetery. enlarged by successive purchases to 1264 acres. It was named, from its principal eminence, Mount Auburn, which is one hundred and twenty-five feet above the level of Charles River. A tower, sixty feet high, has since been erected on this mount, from the top of which can be obtained one of the finest prospects in the environs of Boston. The grounds were consecrated on the 24th of September, 1831. A temporary amphitheatre was erected in a part of the grounds called "Consecration Dell," a deep, picturesque valley, with a platform for the speakers at the bottom. The services consisted of instrumental music; an introductory prayer, by the Rev. Henry Ware, Jr.; an original hymn, by the Rev. John Pierpont, sung by the audience; an address, by Judge Story; and a concluding prayer, by Mr. Pierpont. The following is the hymn written by the latter: -

- "To thee, O God, in humble trust,
 Our hearts their cheerful incense burn,
 For this thy word, 'Theu art of dust,'
 And unto dust shalt thou return.
- "And what were life, life's work all done, The hopes, joys, loves, that cling to clay? All, all departed, one hy one, And yet life's load borne on for aye!
- "Decay! decay! 'tis stamped on all;
 All bloom in flower and flesh shall fade;
 Yo whispering trees, when ye shall fall,
 Be our long sleep beneath your shade!
- "Here to thy bosom, Mother Earth,
 Take back in peace what thou hast given,
 And all that is of heavenly birth,
 O God, in peace recall to heaven."

A writer in a magazine published at that time thus describes the scene at the consecration:—

"An unclouded sun, and an atmosphere purified by the showers of the preceding night, combined to make the day one of the most beautiful ever experienced at that delightful season of the year. The perfect silence of the multitude enabled the several speakers to be heard with perfect distinctness at the remotest part of the amphitheatre. The effect produced by the music of the thousand voices which united in the hymn, as it swelled in chastened melody from the bottom and sides of the glen, and, like the spirit of devotion, found an echo in every heart, and pervaded the whole scene, we cannot attempt to describe. It is believed that in the course of a few years, when the hand of Taste shall have passed over the luxuriance of Nature, we may challenge the rivalry of the world to produce another such abiding place for the spirit of beauty. It has now become holy ground, — a village of the quick and the silent, where Nature throws an air of cheerfulness over the labors of Death. To what better place can we go with the musing of sadness, or for the indulgence of grief? where to cool the burning brow of ambition, or relieve the swelling heart of disappointment? We can find no better spot for the rambles of curiosity, health, or pleasure; none sweeter, for the whispers of affection among the loving; none holier, for the last rest of our kindred.

"If there be any wisdom to be gathered among the tombs, any useful though hard lessons to be learned there, is it profitable to place cemeteries where they will seldom be entered by either the thoughtless, the reflecting, the gay, or the grave? Who would richly endow a school, and place it where a pupil would seldom come? A tomb is, it has been said, a monument on the limits of both worlds; it is a tower on the narrow isthmus that separates life from death, and time from eternity; and standing upon it, we look back with double regret on the misprized and misspent past, and renew our failing resolutions for the dark and boundless future. 'Shadows, clouds, and darkness rest upon it;' it is but natural to strive after more perfection, and to feel the better hopes of hereafter, when surrounded by the graves of good men who have gone before.

'Tully was not so eloquent as thou, Thou nameless pillar with the broken base.'

Mount Auburn, too, will have its own persuasive eloquence."

In memory of the day of consecration, the following stanzas were written soon after by Charles Sprague, Esq.: —

"There was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre."

"What myriads throng, in proud array,
With songs of joy and flags unfurled,
To consecrate the glorious day
That gave a nation to the world!

"We raise no shout, no trumpet sound, No banner to the breeze we spread; Children of clay! bend humbly round; We plant a city to the dead.

"For man a garden rose in bloom,
When you glad sun began to burn;
He fell, and heard the awful doom,—
'Of dust thou art; to dust return!

"But HE in whose pure faith we come, Who in a gloonier garden lay, Assured us of a brighter home, And rose, and led the glorious way.

"His word we trust! When life shall end, Here be our long, long slumber passed; To the first garden's doon we bend, And bless the promise of the last."

The Massachusetts Horticultural Society were proprietors of the Cemetery grounds until the incorporation of the "Proprietors of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn." in the year 1835, when all the rights of the former society to the premises were transferred to the present proprietors. By the act of incorporation, every person owning a lot in the Cemetery, containing three hundred square feet, is a member of the corporation. Meetings of the proprietors are held annually, for choice of officers for the management of the funds, and care of the grounds. The affairs of the corporation are at present managed by a board of twelve trustees, a treasurer, secretary, superintendent, and gate keeper.

The present price of ordinary lots in the Cemetery is at the rate of fifty cents per square foot. The lots usually contain about three hundred square feet. Choice lots are held at advanced prices.

The funds received from the sales of lots are devoted to the care of the grounds, to beautify and adorn the Cemetery, and to form a reserve fund, which shall accumulate, and the interest of which shall be used at some future time. when the wants of the corporation require it, for the payment of its expenses. Proprietors, it is expected, will keep their own lots in order, and the fences and monuments in repair, but the corporation will receive from any proprietor a sum of money to be agreed upon, and will give a guarantee that the lot or lots of such proprietor shall be kept in perpetual repair. To every proprietor is given a ticket entitling him and his household to drive with a carriage into the grounds. These tickets are not transferable. Strangers can obtain special tickets to allow them to drive into the Cemetery with a carriage, by applying to one of the officers of the corporation. The Cemetery gates are open from sunrise to sunset every day, excepting Sundays and holidays, for the free admission of the public on foot. No one but a proprietor, or person bearing a ticket of admission, will be allowed to enter the Cemetery with a vehicle. The Cemetery gates are closed on Sundays and holidays to the public, but a proprietor can obtain admission on presenting his ticket. Relatives or near friends of persons interred within the Cemetery can also obtain admittance on Sundays or holidays, on presenting a ticket, to be obtained of one of the officers of the corporation.

Certain regulations have been adopted by the trustees, to be observed by visitors to the Cemetery, which may be read at length posted in various places within the grounds.

Before the visitor enters the Cemetery, the gateway will naturally attract his attention. This gateway was built of solid Quincy granite; the design was taken from the entrance to an Egyptian temple. It bears the following inscription:—

THEN SHALL THE DUST RETURN TO THE EARTH AS IT WAS:
AND THE SPIRIT SHALL RETURN UNTO GOD WHO GAVE IT,
Eccles. xii. 7.

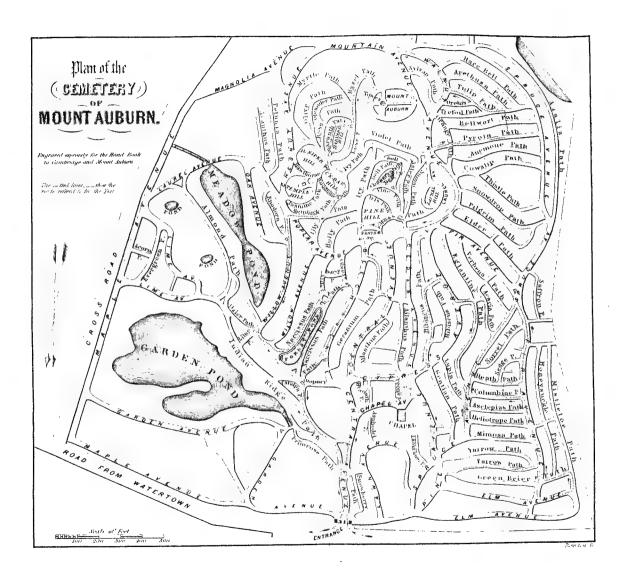

The visitor is now supposed to enter the Cemetery.

"With thy rude ploughshare, Death, turn up the sod, And spread the furrow for the seed we sow; This is the field and Acre of our God, This is the place where human harvests grow."

On the interior of the gateway is inscribed — Mount Auburn, consecrated September 24, 1831.

ENTRANCE TO MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY.

We propose now to lay out a Route through the Cemetery, by following which the visitor will be enabled to view the most prominent and interesting monuments, and to visit the most attractive points in the grounds. By following this route, there will be fine opportunities to view the Spurzheim, Bowditch, C. J. F. Binney, Magoun, Knight. Richardson, Appleton, Amos Binney, Kirkland, Ossoli, Thayer, Ashmun, Appleton, Murray, Hannah Adams, Whiting, Buckingham, Story, Webster, Winchester, Bigclow, Perkins, Tisdale and Hewins, Story, Allen, Lawrence, and many other monuments and lots that attract notice, not only from the associations connected with the names they bear, but also on account of the refined taste exhibited in the designs, and the beauty displayed in the execution. The route, as here laid down, shows the visitor to the Chapel, the Tower, to Harvard Hill, the burying place of persons connected with the College; it shows them the way to Juniper, Cedar, and Pine Hills, and also to Central Square, and leads them directly, not only to the borders of Meadow, Forest, and Garden Ponds, but also to the celebrated Consecration Dell, where the ceremonies of consecration were performed, September 24, 1831. As we pass along this route, we shall notice the more prominent monuments and lots, and when possible, without exceeding our limits, shall give the inscriptions on the most interesting monuments, in full. We shall not, however, enter upon any architectural descriptions of the various monuments, nor indulge in any remarks concerning the want of good taste that may seem to have been exhibited in the arrangement of any of the lots, the designs of any of the various memorials, or in the selection of some of the inscriptions. Want of space will forbid the one, and our own sense of propriety the other. Our object is not to describe Mount Auburn as any one thinks it should be, but to lead the visitor through the most interesting portions of the Cemetery, to call the attention to every thing on the route worthy of observation, and thus enable him to view Mount Auburn as it is - as Nature, Art, and Affection have made it.

For those visitors who do not desire to accompany us in our description of the grounds, but only wish to avail themselves of our proposed route, we have prepared the following condensed directions, which are the same as those to be given in succeeding pages with the descriptions. Visitors who desire to see the grounds and monuments from the best possible points of view, should follow strictly the Directions.

Central Avenue, it should be remembered, is the principal avenue in the Cemetery, and leads directly to the Gate. The route crosses Central Avenue several times. Visitors, therefore, who do not desire to go through the entire route, can, after having passed over a portion of the route, and again reached Central Avenue, return directly to the Gate.

THE ROUTE IN THE CEMETERY.

CENTRAL AVENUE.

Pass down Central Avenue. The first monument seen is that of Gaspar Spurzheim, the celebrated phrenologist, born Dec. 31, 1775, died in Boston, Nov. 10, 1832, aged 57. This monument is of white marble, is on an eminence at the left, and will readily attract the visitor's attention. It is beautifully designed and executed, and is inclosed with an ornamented circular railing. This was one of the earliest erected monuments in the Cemetery.

SPURZHEIM MONUMENT.

See page 32.

The Goddard monument on the right will next attract attention, and then that erected to the memory of Gedney King, beyond. The Willis lot on the left contains a monument of a very neat and appropriate design, the lot being inclosed by an iron fence, also of a very appropriate design. The lot of George H. Jones on the right will be particularly noticed as containing, at the side of the large monument, two smaller figures, male and female. Under the latter is the word Not, and under the other SEPARATED. The Goddard monument at the right will next be noticed. This is a neatly ornamented column, with an urn at the top, encircled with a wreath of flowers. Turn to the right, and pass into Chapel Avenue.

CHAPEL AVENUE.

At the visitor's left hand will be seen the celebrated bronze statue of Dr. Nathaniel Bowditch. This statue represents Dr. Bowditch calmly seated with a globe and quadrant at his feet, his right arm resting upon a book. The statue was designed by Ball Hughes, and was cast in Boston at the foundery of Messrs. Gooding and Gavett. It was the first full length bronze statue ever cast in this country, the Franklin statue in front of the City Hall, Boston, being the second.

Dr. Bowditch is known as the author of the "American Practical Navigator," the translator of the first four volumes of "Méchanique Célcsté," and as author of various other scientific communications, memoirs, &c. A memoir of his life has been published, and to it we refer those who desire to gain further information concerning one whose "name," as Mr. Quincy, in his History of Harvard University, says, "became, before his death, identified with the lofticst branches of science, and united indissolubly with those of Newton and La Place." Dr. Bowditch was born in Salem, Mass., March 26, 1773, and died in Boston March 6, 1838.

The statue was erected over the tomb of Dr. Bowditch in 1847. When it was on its way to the Cemetery, it was carried, at the hour of high 'Change, to State Street, Boston, where it remained for some time, gazed upon by many who had known the living subject. The incident called forth the following anonymous lines published in one of our papers of the day:—

BRONZE STATUE OF DR. NATHANIEL BOWDITCH.
See pages 34 and 36

THE BRONZE STATUE.

Friends and neighbors, cease your traffic! What is this comes passing

Heavy, o'er the groaning pavement, moving slowly like a bier?
Lo! it seems the sculptured semblance of an old and reverend man:
Bid them stop a while before us: let us all the features scan.
Well we know him —yes! we knew him;—see his high and massive

But how solemn looks he sitting! meditating seems he now. Yes, those firm and solemn features - fall the night and rise the morn — Shall be seen by mortal vision when a thousand years are gone.

Tell us thou how runs his story, while we contemplate its end;
Thou whose hoary head bespeaks thee friend and conrade of our friend.

"Child of this our great Republic, brother of the toiling poor,
Slight assistance gained his labors from the Wealthy's golden store.
But his reasoning tracked the mazes where abstrusest science dwelt;
Early he, an earnest pilgrim, at the feet of Knowledge knelt.
Then we saw him, as a seaman, gain and learning seek to reap;
Thinking, as he ploughed the ocean; studying, on the roaring deep.
Unsought honors beckoned to him, foreign lands proclaimed his worth,
And they named the learned sailor 'mongst the honored ones of earth.
Many tongues he spake and studied; gauged the fiery meteor's mass;
And expounded to the people where the blazing comets pass.
Fresher wreaths he gave his country; not the warrior's bloody bays,
But the glory which the century to the 'man of uses' pays.
Failings had he—he was mortal; friends, he numbered many a one;
Turn your eyes upon the statue, for my tale is nearly done.
Full of years, he closed his eyelids, softly drew his dying breath,
And the flags of many nations waved at half-mast on his death."

Sits the form like Archimedes, in his closet as he staid, Solving earnestly his problem, heedless of the Roman blade. Messenger to unknown futures, reflex of our age and clime, Leader of a stately phalanx, lengthening down the road of time; Rising now there comes before ne visions of the glorious day, When the veil that blinds the people, rent in rags, shall float away. O, my nation! free and fearless, may thy future glory he To count amongst thy sons of labor many millions such as he.

Place the statue on the hillock, where we laid his bones, alas! Leave it there until he rises. Back! and let the statue pass.

In the rear of the Bowditch statue may be seen a broken column erected on the Coleman lot, with the hour-glass and other emblems sculptured upon it.

Behind the Coleman monument there is a marble cenotaph, erected by the officers of the United States Exploring Expedition to the memory of departed comrades. It bears the following inscription:—

To the memory of Liêutenant Joseph A. Underwood and Midshipman Wilkes Henry, U. S. N. To the memory of Passed Midshipmen Jas. W. E. Reid and Frederick A. Bacon, U. S. N. This centagh is erected by their associates, the officers and scientific corps of the U. S. Exploring Expedition. Lieutenant Underwood and Midshipman Henry fell by the hands of savages, while promoting the cause of science and philanthropy, at Malolo, one of the Fiji Group of Islands, July 24, 1840. Passed Midshipmen Reid and Bacon were lost at sea, off Cape Horn, May, 1839.

DR. SHARP'S MONUMENT See Page 88.

At the right of the Bowditch statue the lot of Messrs. Little and Brown will be noticed. This lot attracts attention from the peculiar appropriateness of the design of its two freestone Gothic monuments, and the care that is evidently bestowed upon the lot itself. Every thing about it looks neat and in good taste, and devoid of any attempt at display. The original owners of this lot were partners in the well-known publishing house of Little, Brown & Co., of Boston. The remains of Mr. Brown rest near the monument bearing his name. Simple headstones mark the place of burial of members of the two familes.

The monument erected to the memory of Dr. Sharp, late pastor of the Baptist Church in Charles Street, will next be seen upon the left side of the avenue. It is an exceedingly ornate structure, and attracts considerable attention from the peculiarity of its design. It bears the following inscription:—

To the Rev. Daniel Sharp, D. D.; born in Huddersfield, Yorkshire, England, Dec. 25, 1783; died at Stoneleigh, near Baltimore, Maryland, June 23, 1853, in the seventieth year of his age.

On the reverse side is the following: -

To the Rev. Daniel Sharp, D. D., Pastor of the Charles Street Baptist Church and Society, Boston, from April 29, 1812, to June 23, 1853. The love and veneration of his people, and the wide-felt respect with which he was honored beyond the circle of his official labors, have prompted the erection of this monument.

The Lawrence inclosure on the left is, to every visitor, one of the most attractive in the Cemetery. There are six ordinary-sized lots inclosed within the railing, each of which is owned by one of the members of this well-known family of Boston merchants. The tall marble column upon a massive marble pedestal on the lot at the left is to the memory of Abbott Lawrence, born at Groton, Massachusetts, Dec. 16, 1792; died at Boston, August 18, 1855.

The column is surmounted by an urn partially covered with drapery. This monument was designed and executed by Joseph Carew. On one of the rear lots is a tablet

In memory of Amos Lawrence, who was born in Groton, April 22, 1786; died in Boston, Dec. 31, 1852.

Servant of God, well done;
Rest from thy loved employ;
The hattle fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy.
The voice at midnight came;
He started up to hear;

A mortal arrow pierced his frame; He fell — but felt no fear.

There is also a monument within the inclosure

To the memory of William Lawrence; born in Groton, Sept. 7, 1783; died in Boston, Oct. 14, 1848. The memory of the just is blessed.

There are in the inclosure several smaller tablets to the memory of other members of the family.

THE CHAPEL.

The visitor will shortly reach the Chapel. This edifice is of granite, and of a Gothic design. It was erected for the purpose of affording a suitable place for funeral services, and for the reception of statues and other pieces of delicate sculpture unfit to bear exposure to the air of our variable climate. There are at present two statues of marble in the building; one of Joseph Story, the late eminent jurist, and first President of the Proprietors of Mount Auburn, executed by his son, and the other of John Winthrop, first Governor of Massachusetts, executed by Richard Greenough. Both of these statues are in a sitting posture. Two other statues are to be added hereafter; one of John Adams, second President of the United States, and the other of James Otis, the American patriot. This Chapel is the second erected upon the spot. The first was built in 1848, but after having been erected a few months, began to show signs of decay. The atmosphere acted upon the stone of the outer walls, and rapidly decomposed and stained it, owing to the fact that it contained iron. It soon became necessary to remove the structure; this was done, and the present building was erected in its place. The new Chapel is very nearly a copy of the old one. Opposite to the entrance to the Chapel there is a beautiful ornamental lot belonging to the corporation, which is kept in most excellent order.

After having left the Chapel, continue on in the same path as before, and turn to the right into Pine Avenue.

PINE AVENUE.

On the left is the Shaw lot, containing a very appropriate freestone temple, on which is inscribed, —

Robert Gould Shaw. 1843.

There is a white marble slab in front of the temple, beautifully sculptured in relief. Next to the Shaw lot is the Trull lot, with an appropriate marble monument to the memory of Mary Trull, died June 10, 1856, aged 70 years.

See page 40.

On the right are three very tall columns — W. H. Delano and W. F. Whitney, both of granite, and H. T. Rice, of marble. These are inclosed in a triple lot, and are exceedingly appropriate, but plain, and attract considerable attention. On the left are monuments on the Thayer, Viles, and Dodd lots, and on the right a monument of marble, with a female figure resting on an urn, inscribed, — erected to the memory of Charles Valentine.

My Husband;

Died Jan. 10, 1850, aged 52 years, 10 months.

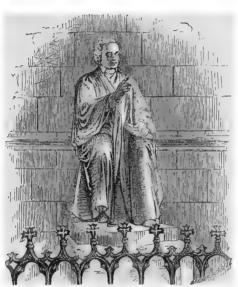

This life's a dream; an empty show; But the bright world to which I go Hath joys substantial and sincere; When shall I wake and find me there?

On the left is the Wetherell lot, and behind it a most beautiful granite obelisk, erected by Thomas Dowse to the memory of Franklin, and bearing the following upon its front:—

To the memory of Benjamin Franklin, the Printer, the Philosopher, the Statesman, the Patriot, who by his wisdom blessed his country and his ago, and bequeathed to the world an illustrious example of industry, integrity, and self-culture. Born in Boston, MDCCVI.; died in Philadelphia, MDCCXC.

The lot upon which the Franklin monument stands is on Gentian Path, and immediately in front of that monument is one of similar construction, but smaller, erected by Mr. Dowse over his own tomb. Mr. Dowse was a leatherdresser, and had his place of business in Cambridgeport. By his own exertions he accumulated a large fortune. He was of a literary turn of mind, and formed during his lifetime a most valuable library of standard and rare works. which, a short time before his death, he presented to the Massachusetts Historical Society. This collection is now known by the donor's name. He left by will a large sum of money to be distributed by his executors for such charitable or literary purposes as they might deem expedient. Of this sum ten thousand dollars were presented to the city of Cambridge, the income of which is to support a course of public lectures in the City Hall. Mr. Dowse was born Dec. 28, 1772, and died Nov. 4, 1856.

Marble monuments on the Dorr and Harris lots, at the right, will be noticed, and next beyond them, on the same side, a most beautifully-sculptured marble on the lot of Levi Brigham. At the left, on the corner of Spruce Avenue, is a monument on the Dillaway lot. This monument always attracts attention; it is exceedingly appropriate in design, and is most beautifully executed. On the left is the marble monument on the Adams lot, recently erected by Alvin Adams. It is of pure white marble, exceedingly rich in design and beautiful in execution. On the corner of Pine and Yarrow Paths is the Homer lot, with a large freestone monument, in form like a sarcophagus, —

In memory of George Joy Homer, a citizen of Boston, who was born Jan. 4, 1782, and died June 7, 1843,—an intelligent and upright merchant, a friend and benefactor of the poor, a guide and consoler of the erring, tender and true in all the relations of domestic life, a devout and sincere Christian,—this monument is erected, to commemorate his virtues, by many friends.

On the right, opposite the Homer lot, is a very neat and appropriate monument, erected to the memory of Sumner Hudson.

YARROW PATH.

A small marble monument on the right is to the memory of Thomas Green Fessenden, well known to a former generation as a writer on agricultural and kindred subjects, and for many years editor of the New England Farmer. He died Nov. 11, 1837. This monument was erected by the Massachusetts Society for Promoting Agriculture. a small marble column on the Buck lot at the left. Marble monuments on the Winsor and Turner lots, at the left, are noticeable. Each of these monuments is in the form of a sarcophagus. In the rear of these lots may be seen a lot with a very singular granite inclosure, the property of Messrs. Chaplin and Dexter, designed by the latter. On the Robinson lot at the left there is a small figure of a kneeling child, and another of a sleeping infant. On the right is a marble monument to the memory of Edward Dillingham Bangs, for many years Secretary of the Commonwealth; and in the same inclosure is another to the memory of George P. Bangs, a well-known Boston merchant. On the Whipple lot at the right is a marble bearing this inscription : -

We have eternity for Love's communion.

MONUMENT ON THE LOT OF ALVIN ADAMS. See page 44.

Shed not for her the bitter tear, Nor give the heart to vain regret; 'Tis but the casket that lies here, The gem that filled it sparkles yet.

The Dana monument, of granite, may be seen at the right, and also the Kendrick monument, of marble, surmounted by a cross.

Turn to the right, and pass into Fir Avenue.

While standing in Fir Avenue, the Magoun monument, one of the most beautiful in the grounds, will be noticed at the left; a large pedestal of marble, with two weeping female figures, one bending over the other, sculptured above it.

A household's tomb, to Faith how dear!
A part have gone; part linger here;
United all in love and hope,
One household still!
Together we shall sleep,
Together may we rise,
And sing our morning hymn,
One household still!

ELM AVENUE.

On the left is a small marble monument on the Sargent lot. At a short distance to the right will be seen the Norcross lot, upon which is a beautiful marble column and pedestal, surmounted by an urn, to the memory of Otis Norcross, died Nov. 22, 1847, aged 42. He loved his fellow-men. Never mortal left this lower earth better prepared to pass death's scrutiny. Samuel D. Norcross died Dec. 21, 1839, aged 21. An affectionate son and brother, and true friend. Sleep! thou who wast weary with the march of life! Sleep on!

Return to Elm Avenue, and view the Stedman monument on the right, and the Knight monument on the same side of the avenue.

Wm. H. Knight, born in England. Elizabeth S. Knight, born in Framingham, May 22, 1794; died in Boston, Sept. 10, 1852, in the hope of eternal life. "One Lord, one Faith, one Baptism." "God is love," "Thy loving kindness is better than life." "In Thy presence is fulness of joy." "At Thy right hand are pleasures forevermore."

On the left are the marble monuments on the lots of J. Stedman, Solomon Piper, and Henry A. Reed. That on the latter is inscribed,—

Henry A. Reed, died May 20, 1852. No more to suffer, but for aye to be In God's eternal sunshine, blest and free.

MAGOUN MONUMENT.

FIR AVENUE.

The visitor will now pass the Boynton lot on the right, the Jones lot on the left, the Magoun monument again, on the right, and reach the Shaw lot on the same side. There is in this lot a granite obelisk with base, at the top of which is sculptured a hand pointing upwards.

Boast not thyself of to-morrow.

This is the state of man: to-day he puts forth the tender leaves of hope, to-morrow blossoms; the third day comes a frost, a killing frost, and (—) nips his root.

A beautiful marble column in the Chamberlin lot at the right will be noticed as very appropriate. There is also a small marble monument in the Harris lot at the left.

Turn into Heliotrope Path on the left, examine the Gardner monument, and then return to Fir Avenue.

The Gardner lot contains Mr. Dexter's sculpture of Little Frank, in marble, beneath a freestone temple. On returning to Fir Avenue, the Reed lot will be passed at the right, and on the left will be seen a slab of marble, erected to the memory of Lucius Bolles, D. D., with the Bible, belt, and crown.

Girt about with truth. Born at Ashford, Conn., Sept. 25, 1779; died at Boston, Mass., Jan. 5, 1844.

On the left is a small white marble obelisk in the Ordway lot. Mr. Ordway is a musician, and the harp on the front of the obelisk, together with the inscription below, are very appropriate. There is this inscription:—

Staccato is life - Presto is death - Placido the grave.

Turn to the left into Columbine Path, examine the Thayer and Binney monuments, pass between the two into Heath Path, and then return to Fir Avenue.

the front a beautiful figure of an angel. It is inscribed, — Amos Binney, M. D., died at Rome, February 18, 1847, aged 41.

Returning to Fir Avenue, we pass on the right the Poor, Pratt, Leland, and Dunbar lots, all appropriate; that of John H. Kelsey on the left. The weeping figure in this lot is beautifully executed. On the right is Dr. S. O. Richardson's monument to the memory of Ella, a white marble temple, with a sleeping child therein. On the right is the public lot called St. John's. There is nothing particularly worthy of the visitor's notice here, except a tablet to the memory of Capt. Josiah Cleveland, a soldier of the revolution.

To the memory of Captain Josiah Cleveland, of Owego, N, Y., this tablet is erected by those among whom he departed this life, and who felt respect for his private virtues and gratitude for his public services. He was born at Canterbury, Conn., Dec. 3, 1753. He died at Charlestown, Mass., June 30, 1843. He was an officer of the Army of Freedom. He served his country bravely and faithfully through the whole war of the Revolution. He fought her battles at Bunker Hill, Harlem Heights, White Plains, Trenton, Princeton, Monmouth, and Vorktown. He sustained an unblemished reputation, and lived in the practice of every Christian virtue. He loved, feared, and served God. In the ninetieth year of his age he journeyed nearly five hundred miles from his home to be present at the celebration of the completion of the monument on Bunker Hill. He lived to witness that memorable spectacle. He was satisfied. He laid down quietly, and yielded up his breath near the scene of his first condict with the enemies of his country. He came among strangers; he died among friends.

SPRUCE AVENUE.

On this avenue the first lots that attract attention are those of French and Pearl, on the right; the next, that of Robert C. Mackay, on the same side. The latter contains a very appropriate marble monument, with the Bible and cross sculptured upon it, and these lines:

I am the Resurrection and the Life. He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live. Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit shall Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was, and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.

Several other monuments on this avenue are worthy of particular mention, but our limited space forbids our referring to them at length. It will be sufficient for our purpose, to call the visitor's attention to them, to say that we refer to the Wesson monument on the left, the Fitz, on the left, the Tubbs, on the right, G. C. Richardson, on the left, and the Blanchard monument on the right. The Austin lot on the left has a slab with this inscription:—

Joseph Austin, of Boston, Mass., died July 27, 1847, aged 85.

His soul to Him who gave it rose; God led it to its long repose, Its glorious rest! And though the good man's sun has set, Its light shall linger round us yet, Bright, radiant, blest!

RICHARDSON MONUMENT. See page 50.

The monument on the Wells lot at the right is a peculiar but very appropriate one. The material is of a grayish sandstone. There is no ornament whatever about it; but near its top it is cut through from side to side, showing a hollow cross on each of its four sides. On the Watson lot at the right there is a large marble Gothic monument, and a small marble column on the Heath lot on the same side of the avenue. The Stickney and Wason monuments on the right also deserve attention. At the corner of Heliotrope Path the visitor will have an opportunity to view the monument on the Allen lot. This monument has been frequently noticed by many as being one of the most appropriate and beautifully-executed in the Cemetery. It is to the memory of Samuel P. Allen, died Jan. 24, 1850, aged 36 years.

This monument is highly ornamental, and is of a design exceedingly difficult to describe in the limited space at command. It should be noticed by all visitors. From this spot may be seen, at the right, the fronts of the Franklin and Dowse monuments.

After having viewed these, the visitor will return, and turn to the left into Eglantine Path.

EGLANTINE PATH.

The first monument in this path is one on the left, —

In memory of Benjamin Thompson, of Charlestown, Mass. Born Aug. 5, 1798. Died Sept. 24, 1852. He possessed the entire confidence and respect of his fellow-citizens, was honored with many places of official trust, and, at the time of his death, was a Representative in the Congress of the United States. His amenity and integrity, mature judgment and devotion to duty, gave dignity to his public station. His strength of love for home and kindred made him the idol of his family. The sincerity of his friendship, the purity of his conversation, and the charm of his companionship endeared him to all, and made his private life the scene of his chief enjoyment and of the most delightful manifestations of his character. Sacred to the memory of his life and virtues.

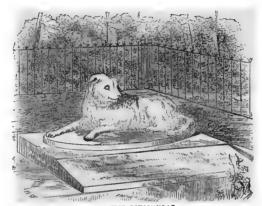

There is an uncommonly neat and appropriate monument on the Tilton lot at the left, to the memory of Stephen Tilton, died Jan. 12, 1857, aged 66 years.

There is a beautiful marble monument on the Dana lot, at the right, and there is also on the Reed lot another of marble, with a wreath and cross at the top.

Therefore be ye also ready; for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh.

William Gordon Reed, died in Paris Feb. 13, 1849, aged 37 years. His remains were here interred the 6th of the following April.

PERKINS MEMORIAL. See page 56.

On the Eldridge lot there is a very large granite monument, with a slab inserted in the front, with a bass relief in white marble, of Christ blessing little children.

Turn to the left, pass between the Pierce lot, No. 991, and the Bagley lot, 1539, and turn to the right into Cypress Avenue.

CYPRESS AVENUE.

On the right there is a marble slab to the memory of Dr. W. G. Chandler and two children, erected by his wife.

Rest with your father, beloved children, till the morn of the Resurrection dawns.

The Blake, Baxter, and Norcross monuments on the left will be passed before reaching the St. James public lot on the right. On the Norcross lot is a large and beautiful marble monument to the memory of Father, Mother, Son.

There is also in this lot a smaller pedestal, upon which is the in age of a sleeping child, inscribed, "Little Addison," and over the grave of the child is inscribed upon the head-stone.—

I have laid him under this fresh green sod, With a heart almost broken, yet trusting in God; The heart and the form which I cherished here, I shall meet again in a happier sphere.

The various memorials in the public lot are worthy of examination, but our limited space will prevent our referring to them.

N. arly opposite the public lot is a small path, through which pass, and turn into Hibiscus Path, the second path on the left, examining the Thayer monument on the right side of the short path.

-HIBISCUS PATH.

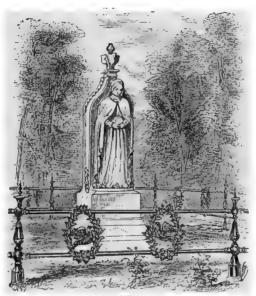

On the right, on the lot of the late Rev. Frederick T. Gray, will be seen an exceedingly appropriate memorial. It represents an open Bible upon a pulpit desk, and carved upon the book is, —

Whisever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?

On the Garrett lot, at the right, is a marble obelisk; on the $A\alpha$ ams lot, at the left, a tall marble column, with urn and di pery. We next reach the lot on which has been erected a freestone slab, with cross above, —

To the memory of John Farrar, Professor of Mathematics and Natural Philosophy of Harvard College; a lucid, eloquent, and devout expositor of the material laws of the universe; in his manners, dignified, simple, refined; in his dealings with others, kind and upright. After fourteen years of painful disease, borne with patience and serenity, he died as he had lived, an humble disciple of Jesus Christ.

After passing the Thacher monument on the right, the visitor will turn to the right, and pass into Cypress Avenue.

CYPRESS AVENUE.

As the visitor turns into this avenue he will see on his right the beautiful monument erected on the Humphrey lot, representing Hope with an anchor; and on the left a small but neat and appropriate memorial to the late Leopold Herwig. On the right again will be seen a broken granite column, marked Lienow; then the Gould monument on the The ornamental lot of Messrs. Tisdale and Hewins will be noticed on the left, and will undoubtedly attract the particular attention of the visitor. To the great credit of the owners of this lot, it may be remarked, that it is always in the best order, and the keeping it so seems to be to them a pleasure. We wish we could make the same remark concerning all the lots in the Cemetery. There are a few that seem to be totally neglected. On the right the Bridge lot will be passed.

Turn to the right, and pass into Central Avenue.

CENTRAL AVENUE.

On the left, the dog on the Perkins lot will first be noticed. This is a most beautifully-sculptured representation of a Newfoundland dog, the owner of which was buried beneath the monument. The dog died soon after its owner.

In the rear of the Perkins lot may be seen a memorial to the memory of

Nathaniel Goddard, born June, 1767. Died Aug. 9, 1853. A good man and a just.

On the left is the Billings monument; on the right, the Ward — a marble slab, with a full length female figure, in relief; on the left, the Alden; on the right, a small circular marble column on the Lothrop lot; and on the left, the Kittredge monument. On the right is a memorial to the memory of John Parker.

The memory of the just is blessed. Their works do follow them.

On the same lot are also memorials inscribed, —

Mrs. Dorcas Sargent Chandler. Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

Epes Sargent, Jr. Living and dying, we are the Lord's.

Catherine Sargent.

Think not her hopes of heaven were vainly based On the rare virtues that her long life graced, She built not on the sand, but on a Stone, And rose sublime, sustained by Christ alone.

ALLEN MONUMENT. See page 52.

Dorcas Sargent. She took upon her the voke of Christ. She learned of Him, and she found rest unto her soul.

Epes Sargent. He walked in the light of his Saviour's countenance. and in his righteousness was he exalted.

On the monument in the Trull lot, on the right, is inscribed. —

Thus passes away the glory of the world. The next lot on the right is owned by John M. and David

Barnard. It incloses a marble monument, on which are inscribed the names of infant children, and these words: -

This place, the place of our sepulture, is wholly to be disregarded by us, but not to be neglected by our surviving friends.

The Abbe lot on the left will next be passed, on which is an appropriately-designed marble monument, with a hand pointing upward sculptured upon its front, and this inscription: -

There is rest in Heaven.

Christ is the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in Him, though he were dead, yet shall he live. Although worms destroy our bodies, yet in our flesh shall we see God, whom we shall see for ourselves and our eyes shall behold. In these sentiments we repose.

Jesus, to thy most faithful hand Our living souls we trust; Our flesh shall wait for thy command. While crumbling into dust. O thou majestic Saviour, come, That jubilee proclaim, And teach us language fit to praise So great, so dear a name.

In the same lot there is a monument marked B. Burgess, with a bird sculptured on its front, bearing upwards in its beak a scroll, and upon it the words: -

This is not our home.

God will redeem our souls from the power of the grave. Where, O Death, is now thy sting, O Grave thy victory, where? Also, in the same lot, a marble monument marked Gibbs.

When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with Him in glory.

On the Phelps lot, on the left, there is a freestone Gothic monument; and marble ones on the Barney and Frost lots. on the right. Beyond these, on the left, there is a broken marble column, to the memory of

Wm. W. Peck, died Sept. 12, 1846, aged 36 years. The Lord knoweth the days of the upright, and their inheritance shall be forever.

> In memory of departed relatives. Remembrance strews their graves with flowers.

BALLOU MONUMENT. See page 60.

On the right there is a marble obelisk on the Brown lot. On the same side, on Ailanthus Path, will be noticed the granite tombs of Samuel O. Mead and William Read.

On the left is the statue of Rev. Hosea Ballou. memorative statue of this eminent man, who was so universally beloved and respected for his talents, his life devoted to the promulgation of the word of God, to the building up and extension of the church to which he belonged, and to the practice of all the virtues which adorn, beautify, and dignify social existence, was purchased by subscriptions from the Universalist denomination at large, and was executed by Edward A. Brackett, the well-known sculptor.

Those who from long familiarity with the departed are entitled to express an opinion of the artist's fidelity, are satisfied with the result of his labors, while viewed simply as a work of art, we think that a high rank will be accorded to this effort. The statue is of pure white marble, standing upon a granite pedestal. There is no inscription, recording in florid terms the titles of the deceased to love and veneration: none such were needed. His memory requires no monument: his epitaph is written in the hearts of those who loved him; his fame will live with that great body of Christians, which he saw increase from a small band of worshippers to a widespread, powerful, and influential denomination, and with whose progress and development he was identified through a long, laborious, self-sacrificing life. His reputation will live outside even of the wide circle of his followers, among all who cherish the memory of the good, the pure, the wise, the charitable, and the sacrificing.

The Rev. Mr. Ballou was born April 30, 1771, in Richmond, N. H., and died in Boston, on the 7th of June, 1852; a long life vouchsafed to but few among the sons of men. Yet to the last his mind was active, and to within a few weeks of his death, he was constantly occupied in the sacred duties of his calling.

"We weave no dirge for thee, -It should not call a tear To know that thou art free: Thy home. - it was not here! Joy to thee, man of God; Thy heaven-course is begun; Unshrinking thou hast trod Death's vale. - thy race is done! "

STETSON MONUMENT.

Δ

See page 62.

Turn to the left, pass between the Gray and Prince tombs and the Stetson monument, and turn to the right into Geranium Path.

GERANIUM PATH.

Notice the beautiful Stetson monument on the right, one of the most noted in the Cemetery. As a memorial to the dead, it is appropriate in design and execution, and viewed as a work of art alone it always attracts the notice of the visitor. It bears the following inscription:—

The memory of the Just is blessed.

The dead in Christ repose in guarded rest. Hope, in their graves, hath her never-dying lamp, and throws upon their treasured dust a steady ray, full of immortality.

The memorials on the Upton and Swallow lots, at the left, will next attract attention. The Walker monument, on the right, has this inscription:—

My flesh shall slumber in the ground Till the last trumpet's joyful sound; Then burst the bands with sweet surprise, And in my Saviour's image rise.

On the same lot there is a memorial to James C. Peverlev.

Sleep, loved one; thy sufferings all are o'er; Pain ne'er again can heave thy breast, Nor anguish wake thy spirit more From its eternal, quiet rest.

On the same lot there is a small marble memorial, marked with this touching inscription: —

My Wife. Mrs. S. P. W. Crocker, died May 18, 1856, aged 47 years and 10 months. She was always so pleasant.

We next pass the Harrington, Rice, Greene, Gates, and Labree lots, on all of which there are appropriate memorials.

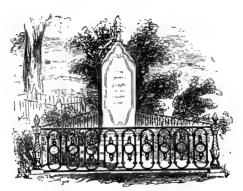

Turn to the right into Beech Avenue, and pass through Beech Avenue toward Central Square.

CENTRAL SQUARE.

On the left will be seen a memorial to Martha Whiting, — In memory of our Teacher, who died Aug. 22, 1853, aged 58 years. She hath done what she could. Erected by the pupils of the Charlestown Female Seminary.

On the right, between Beech and Central Avenues, may be seen the monument, probably the first erected within the grounds, to the memory of Hannah Adams, and inscribed,—

To Hannah Adams, Historian of the Jews and Reviewer of the Christian Sects, this monument is erected by her female friends First Temant of Mount Auburn. She died Dec. 15, 1821, aged 76.

WHITING MEMORIAL.
See page 62.

The lot on which this monument stands is a very small one, and the monument itself is simple and unpretending. It will be noticed that the inscription declares that Miss Adams was the "first tenant of Mount Auburn." This is not the exact truth. The records of the Corporation show that the first burial in Mount Auburn was of a child of James Boyd, July 6, 1832, in lot No. 182, on Mountain Avenue. The second burial was of Mrs. Hastings, wife of Thomas Hastings, of East Cambridge, July 12, 1832, in lot 301, on the same avenue. Mrs. Hastings was therefore. although she died many years previously, the first adult buried in Mount Auburn, as the monument on the Hastings lot declares. There was doubtless no misstatement intended, in relation to Miss Adams, by the writer of the inscription. She died in December, 1831, only about three months after the Cemetery was consecrated. It was impossible to place her body in Mount Auburn at that season of the year; and it was in all probability placed in some temporary place of deposit in Boston, with the intention of removing it as soon as the weather would permit. It may have been that the placing the body in a receiving tomb in Boston was considered the same as a burial at Mount Auburn to all intents and purposes; or it may have been that the monument was prepared in anticipation of the removal of the body to Mount Auburn, but that some delay occurred, and it was not deemed necessary to be at the expense of altering the inscription. However this may be, Miss Adams was not the "first tenant of Mount Auburn," but the ninth, her remains having been placed in the Cemetery November 12, 1832.

John Murray, Preacher of the Gospel, Born in Alton, Eng., Dec. 10, 174; died in Boston Sept. 3, 1815. Re-interred beneath this stone June 8, 1837.

Pass through the narrow path at the right, passing near the Dana lot, and then turn to the left, into Walnut Avenue.

WALNUT AVENUE.

On this avenue are various tombs, appropriate in every respect, but not sufficiently attractive to the visitor to need particular mention. The lot of the Scots' Charitable Association, on the right, is noticeable from the peculiarity of its railing. The Wales, Salisbury, and Welles monuments, on the right, will next be noticed, particularly the latter to the memory of John Welles; then, on the left, the Smith an Tilson lots; the Sumner, Hall, and Kimball on the right A short distance to the right will be seen the monument erected to the memory of the various members of the Os good family, of which Mrs. Frances Sargent Osgood, th poetess, was one. A harp with broken strings surmount this monument. The Holmes monument, on the left, withen be noticed, and on the same side that to the memory of Noah Worcester. Born at Hollis, N. H., Nov. 25, 1758. Died : Brighton, Mass., Oct. 31, 1837, aged 79 years. Blessed are the peacmakers, for they shall be called the Children of God.

The Field monument on the right, a marble obelisk, deserve the attention of the visitor.

PYROLA PATH.

There are several beautiful memorials on this path, by the most of which we cannot, for want of space, mention i particular, beyond giving the names. On the left there : one to the memory of Barnabas Bates, "Father of Chea Postage" — a tall marble obelisk on a massive pedestal one of granite on the Tyler lot at right; one on a lot owner by Charles Leighton and Benjamin Beal; the peculia whiteness of the granite used for this monument is worth of more than a passing notice; the Edwards lot on righ with a peculiarly-constructed railing, in which the hour glass is plainly observable; and the beautiful marble mon ument erected to the memory of the Rev. Addison Searle, Chaplain in the Navy, buried at sea, Aug. 2, 1850. W now reach the Fuller lot, on the left, in which there ar tributes to the memory of the late Hon. Timothy Fulle: who died Oct. 1, 1835, his daughter Mrs. Margaret Fulle Ossoli, and various other members of the family. We giv the inscription on the Ossoli tablet in full. Above th tablet is a cross, beneath which is sculptured - portrait (Mrs. Ossoli, with book and sword.

In memory of Margaret Fuller Ossoli. Born in Cambridge, Mass., May 23, 1810. By birth a child of New England—by adoption a citizen of Rome—by genius belonging to the world. In youth an insatiate student, seeking the highest culture; in riper years, teacher, writer, critic of literature and art; in maturer age, companion and helper of many earnest reformers in America and Europe. And of her husband, Giovanni Angelo, Marquis Ossoli. He gave up rank, station, and home for the Roman Republic, and for his wife and child. And of the child, Angelo Eugene Philip Ossoli, born in Rieti, Italy, Sept. 5, 1848, whose dust reposes at the foot of this stone.

They passed from this life together by shipwreck July 19, 1850. United in life by mutual love, labors, and trials, the merciful Father took them together, and in death they were not divided.

The rough freestone cross on the Eliot lot will be passed, after noticing which the visitor will continue on, turn to the left, passing around the Dehon lot, into Bellwort Path, and then cross over again in the same vay into Trefoil Path, the next path beyond, and turn to the left.

TREFOIL PATH.

There is nothing noticeable on this path but a large inclosure of four lots, with a large granite obelisk in the centre, on each side of which is one of the names of Otis, Bates, Rice, and Bordman.

Pass through Trefoil Path a short distance only, and turn into Tulip Path, the first path on the right.

TULIP PATH.

The Gahne monument will be noticed here; also the Brooks lot, on the left; the Payson, on the right; and the Devens, Hubbard, and Robbins lots on the right.

Turn to the right into Walnut Avenue; pass through Walnut Avenue, noticing the Crockett and Snow lots on the left, and then turn to the left into Mountain Avenue.

MOUNTAIN AVENUE.

There are several tombs on this avenue. On the left, as you turn to the tower, is the Hastings lot before referred to. It is really three lots with one inclosure. On each lot is a large marble monument, with an urn above. The centre one, the Hastings monument, has this inscription:—

Mary Robbins, wife of Thomas Hastings, died July 12, 1818, aged 26. The first adult buried at Mount Auburn.

The Bemis monument is at the left of the Hastings memorial, and the Kimball monument on the right, the latter inscribed. —

Ebenezer Kimball, died Aug. 14, 1839, aged 47 years. A kind husband, a beloved father, and a good citizen. He possessed, in an unwonted degree, those qualities of head and heart which endeared him to those among whom he dwelt.

The visitor can now ascend to the top of the Tower, from which he will be enabled to obtain, as has been before remarked, one of the finest prospects to be had in the suburbs of Boston. The city, the country towns around, Charles

See pages 25 and 68.

River at the foot, all contribute to make up a view that, for real beauty of natural scenery, few will have an opportunity to see surpassed.

After having descended, the visitor will pass around the Tower, and enter Hazel Path.

Just before entering Hazel Path, there will be seen, on the left, two large granite obelisks, the largest in the Cemetery, erected to the memory of various members of the Fuller family. On the right will be seen a small obelisk on the Eaton lot.

HAZEL PATH AND HARVARD HILL.

Pass through Hazel Path, passing the Farnum tomb, on the left; then turn to the right and pass across Harvard Hill; pass the Kirkland and Ashmun monuments.

On Harvard Hill, the visitor will notice the monument to the memory of Rev. John Thornton Kirkland, formerly President of Harvard College, with an inscription, in Latin. Near this memorial is another, inscribed as follows:—

Here lies the body of John Hooker Ashmun, Royall Professor of Law in Harvard University, who was born July 3, 1800, and died April 1st, 1833. In him the science of law appeared native and intuitive. He went behind precedents to principles, and books were his helpers, never his masters. There was the beauty of accuracy in his understanding, and the beauty of uprightness in his character. Through the slow progress of the disease which consumed his life, he kept unimpaired his kindness of temper and superiority of intellect. He did more work sick than others in health. He was fit to teach at an age when common men are beginning to learn, and his few years bore the fruit of long life. A lover of truth, an obeyer of duty, a sincere friend, and a wise instructor. His pupils raise this stone to his memory.

In the vicinity of the Kirkland and Ashmun monuments may be seen those of others connected with the College. This spot is one of the most romantic in the Cemetery. It is visited by but a very few compared with the whole number who enter the grounds. The stranger, therefore, who may never have an opportunity to visit Mount Auburn a second time, should by no means omit to stop here for a few moments.

After viewing the Ashmun memorial, keep to the left, and descend the hill; pass in front of the Fuller tomb, on Woodbine Path; then ascend Cedar Hill, alongside of the Appleton monumental temple.

CEDAR HILL.

On Cedar Hill will be seen the very beautiful marble temple, beneath which rest the remains of the Hon. Samuel Appleton. A cut of this structure will give the reader a better idea of it than words.

APPLETON MONUMENT.

See page 70.

From this spot Consecration Dell may be seen, at the left. Presuming the visitor to be standing with the Appleton monument at his right, he should then continue on nearly in a straight line, slightly inclining to the right, however, descend the hill, and enter Lily Path.

LILY PATH.

The Richards lot, on the left, and the Gray lot, on the right, are the only ones noticeable in this path. On the former there is a beautiful granite memorial, and on the latter a large marble column, surmounted by an urn.

The visitor will then turn to the right, into Hemlock Path, the first path on the right, noticing, as he turns, the sun dial on the corner lot at the left.

HEMLOCK PATH.

On the right will be seen three large lots inclosed in one, each of which has upon it a marble monument, one marked Young, one Farnsworth, and one Loring. The first-named is also inscribed : -

In memory of Rev. Alexander Young, D.D., born in Boston, Sept. 22, 1800. Graduated at Harvard College 1820. Ordained Pastor of the New South Church in Boston, Jan. 19, 1825. Died March 16, 1854, in the 29th year of his ministry. An accomplished scholar, a profound theologian, a consistent and faithful minister, his character was marked with piety, truth, honor, and a tender sense of domestic ties. In the midst of his usefulness, surrounded with affectionate relatives and friends, he was unexpectedly summoned away, and found ready. This token of respect and love has been erected by his bereaved congregation.

On the right will be noticed the Humphrey and Wheeler lot, and the Fairbanks and McDonald lots on the left.

WILLOW AVENUE.

On the right is a small marble obelisk, on the Williams lot, inscribed : -

I know that THOU wilt bring me to death and to the house appointed for all living.

On the right, the Waterhouse lot should be particularly noticed, and, on the same side, the Bradlee monument. On the left, the Randall monument will then be noticed. There is a small marble monument on the Pratt lot, on the left, which bears this inscription : -

> O, when a mother meets on high The babes she lost in infancy, Hath she not then, for pains and fears, The day of woe, the watchful night, For all her sorrows, all her tears, An over payment of delight?

The visitor will then pass the Chamberlain, Prentice, Bartlett and Carr, Cushing and Knapp lots, on the left. In the latter is a marble slab to the memory of John Knapp, died March 19, 1849, Æt. 70 years. In him were blended the tenderest affections, learning without ostentation, and worth without pretension.

The visitor will have an opportunity to view, from this spot, the beautiful Meadow Pond.

The Torrey lot, and the Thayer lot, on the left, will next be passed. On the latter is a very peculiar three-sided monument, to the memory of Amasa Thayer and wife, and inscribed. —

They meet to part no more, And, with celestial welcome, greet On an immortal shore.

There are two very appropriate, but similarly constructed, monuments on the Norcross and Hurlburt lots, on the left. The Buckingham lot will next be reached, in which rest the remains of several members of the family of the Hon. Joseph T. Buckingham, of Cambridge, formerly editor of the Boston Courier. A neat marble memorial was erected to the memory of Edwin Buckingham, a son, a young man of more than ordinary promise, born 1810. He edited, until his death, the New England Magazine. He died at sea, and his loss was sincerely regretted.

"Rest, loved one, rest — beneath the billow's swell, Where tongue ne'er spoke, where sunlight never fell; Rest — till the God who gave thee to the deep, Rouse thee, triumphant, from the long, long sleep.

The Howe and Wyman lots, on the right, and the Taylor lot at the left, will then be seen; after noticing which, the visitor will turn to the left into Narcissus Path.

NARCISSUS PATH.

The path to be followed winds along by the left side of Forest Pond, both sides of which are principally devoted to tombs. The Hosmer lot, on the right; the monuments on the Wingate and Webster lots, at the left; the Pierce, Carnes, Winchester, Samuel Henshaw, and Cushing tombs, will be particularly noticed. On the Ayer lot there is a memorial to Lucy Adelaide Ayer, died Aug. 10, 1845, aged 21.

Sleep on, sweet one, thy rest has come;

'T is for myself I mourn,
And for this precious babe, to whom
Thou never must return.

Lone are my paths and sad the hours Now thy meek smile is gone; But O! a brighter home than ours In heaven is now thine own.

Blessed are the pure in heart.

On the left will be noticed the lot in which rest the remains of the late eminent jurist, Joseph Story, first President of the Proprietors of Mount Auburn.

Keep to the right, and turn into Alder Poth; pass through Alder Poth, and turn to the right into Locust Avenue, and turn again to the right into Beech Avenue.

BEECH AVENUE.

There is on this avenue a small granite memorial to Mrs. Sarah T. Holt, inscribed, —

Farewell! departed and beloved spirit; Our heavy loss is thy eternal gain.

Passing along to the left, will be seen very appropriate, and in some instances beautiful monuments, on the Emery, Boardman, S. F. Coolidge, Green, Jacob Bigelow, and Gould lots; and also on the Harrod, Nichols, Fales, Greenwood, Tirrell, Coburn, and Ellis lots, at the right.

Turn to the right into Linden Path.

LINDEN PATH.

On the Fisher lot there is a monument to the memory of several infant children, inscribed, —

The mother gave, in tears and pain,
The flowers she most did love;
She knew she should find them all again
In the fields of light above.

The Bird lot, on the right, and the Barnard lot, on the left, will then be passed. On the right a monument has been erected to the memory of Samuel B. Doane, obit. Sept. 3, 1845, aged 63 years. He is not here, but has ascended to the hosom of his Father and his God.

The Thaxter lot, on the right, and the broken marble column, on the left, will attract attention.

The visitor will then continue on, almost in a straight line, into Catalpa Path.

CATALPA PATH.

On this path there are but few monuments. One on the Davis lot, at the right, and a Gothic freestone erection on the Hatch lot, on the same side, will be particularly noticed.

Continue on, keeping to the left, into Indian Ridge Path.

INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

The beautiful marble monument on the Merrill lot, at the right, will here receive attention; after noticing which, continue on, and turn to the right into Central Avenue, which leads directly to the Gate.

It is not to be supposed that the foregoing route and description embrace all the objects worthy of notice in the Cemetery. If the route has been followed, the visitor has seen the principal objects of interest within the grounds; he has visited the most attractive places, and viewed the most interesting monuments, including the larger number of those most frequently inquired for by strangers; in fact, the visitor has seen sufficient to enable him to obtain a correct idea of the appearance of the entire Cemetery. There are, however, on other avenues and paths much that is worthy of observation; and a visit to them would well repay the time occupied in doing so.

By leaving Mount Auburn, and turning to the right, and then passing through Coolidge Avenue, the visitor will reach the Cemetery of the City of Cambridge, where will be found much that will prove interesting.

MOUNT AUBURN MEMORIAL.

"A token of all the heart can keep.

Of holy love in its fountains deep."

The Proprietors offer this publication to the proprietors of Mount Auburn, and the public generally, as one well deserving of their consideration and support. It is a paper issued in weekly numbers of eight pages each, and is printed in a form that makes it very desirable and suitable for binding, and will make an appropriate addition to the center-table, everything being excluded which could offend the most fastidious. Its design is not only to contain matter relating to Mount Auburn, but it also contains selections from the pens of the most celebrated English and American authors; making it a publication of a high literary

The following extracts, among a few, show how its merits are estimated by the Press:-

The paper is unique, the only one in the world, so far as we know, which is devoted to these chronicles of the departed, in a spirit which Scott's "Old Mortality" would have deemed congonial in its reverent carefulness. It interferes, tality" would have deemed congonial in its reverent carefulness. It interferes, therefore, with the province of no other publication, and deserves a wide circulation throughout New England and beyond its borders. Typographically speaking, that is a very neat little sheet, containing eight pages each week, only one of which is devoted to advertisements. It is of a size suitable for binding. Mr. Safford has peculiar adaptedness to a work of this kind, having for a series of years furnished the general press with articles respecting Mount Auburn.—

BOSTON JOURNAL.

BOSTON JOURNAL.

It contains most interesting and valuable biographical sketches of the distinguished statesmen and orators, the noble poets and artists who lie buried in Mount Auburn's consecrated grounds. In addition to this leading feature, it has many poetical gens, original and selected, and choice narratives and stories which are well adupted to the tastes of young and old, sedate and joyous. It is which are well adupted to the tastes of young and old, sedate and joyous. It is beautifully printed on pure white paper, in good form for binding; and we wish its editors the wide-spread patronage among all those who value New England Cometories and Memorials, which their sheet so richly descreen.—Spirit or 76.

We have received a copy of the Mount Auburn Memorial, containing a portion of Mrs. Hanafords "In Memoriam," recently published in the Citizen. We like the appearance of the little sheet, which is in quarto form, convenient for binding. It descrees the words of commendation with which Mrs. Hanaford referred to it in that article. Those who have visited Mount Auburn would be especially interested in it, but it has also merits apart from its local articles. Its typographical execution is excellent.—Bevery Citizen.

Tho Memorial will make a valuable book of 416 pages, when bound at the close of the year.—WALTHAM SENTINEL.

The editors have also received numerous letters, all praising the design and execution of the enterprise. One lady, in particular, says:-

"The Memorial is every way a beautiful sheet. The interest has been charmingly sustained. I never could have thought it possible, in so restricted a field, to have made a journal as thoroughly interesting to general readers. It has been eagerly welcomed by my daughters in Mississippi. It is about the only Northern journal I dare send them."

It is now near the close of the first year of its publication. The second volume will commence about July 3, 1860, with change of type and other attractive attentions; and the chilors are determined to spare no efforts to make it a paper worthy of an extensive circulation. Each volume will contain a neat title-page and copious index. It is published at Mount Abuurn, near the Post Office, at $1.50 per year, postage prepaid, by

NOTICE

TO THE

PROPRIETORS OF MT. AUBURN.

THE first number of the Second Volume of the Mt. Auburn Memorial will be issued on the first of July next. The proprietors are happy to state that this sheet has awakened a very deep interest wherever it has been circulated. As the only paper of this particular stamp in the world, it is calculated to present an entirely new field for both writer and reader. To those who hold an interest in these consecrated grounds, it is of great importance, gathering up, from week to week, articles upon the distinguished men who slumber here, and all items of interest connected with our beautiful city of silence.

The delay in commencing the new year is owing to the necessity of reprinting some of the early numbers of the the last year, with which to supply a number of new subscribers who are desirous of binding the first volume. The price will be reduced to $1.50 per year for single subscribers.

We have yet on hand a few complete sets of the first volume, which, when bound, make a volume of over Four Hundred pages of Biography, Miscellany, Editorials, etc., with an index.—a book, the interest of which will increase, as a faithful record of the early history of Mt. Auburn, its successive additions and improvements, up to the date of the last number of the volume.

All Proprietors not already subscribers, should at once secure the first volume, as well as send in their subscriptions for the next year.

Respectfully,

T. H. & DE F. SAFFORD,

Editors Mt. Auburn Memorial.

INTRODUCTION.

THE seventh Catalogue makes its appearance three years after the publication of the sixth. Numerous changes are apparent upon its pages, but time has been no less busy with the facts than the figures. About three hundred and fifty proprietors have been added to the list, and not less than one hundred and fifty have been gathered to the shades of Mount Auburn. The early proprietors have held their lots upwards of twenty-five years, and the mortality in their ranks is visibly increasing. The present number of lot owners being about 3,000, upon the usual estimate of duration of human life, nearly one hundred of these must annually become tenants of this consecrated spot. Hence, in order that the systematic regulation of the affairs of the Cemetery may not be disturbed, it is obviously important to keep the places of the departed supplied with living representatives, and the prompt attention of the families or friends of such proprietors is invited to this point. By great efforts, extensive correspondence, and personal appeal, representatives have been designated for the lots of nearly all deceased proprietors - now numbering about five hundred. In endeavoring to attain this result, the completion of the Catalogue was delayed for some time; but as the deficiencies in this list are so nearly made up, it is believed that, by punctually notifying the parties in interest, whenever new cases may occur, the task of preparing future editions of the Catalogue need not, for this cause, be made more difficult.

For the sake of diminishing the danger of destruction, and of making it more readily accessible to proprietors, a duplicate Register of Interments has been made, and will be kept at the office of the Secretary.

An extensive survey of the whole Cemetery, indicating the lots and the intermediate spaces upon a scale of twenty feet to the inch, is now in progress, and will be completed during the present season. This will enable persons wishing to purchase, to see the position of the unsold lots or pieces of land, as it will also proprietors to ascertain the number of feet in the spaces adjacent to their lots, and, at a very moderate cost, protect themselves from the possibility of any future appropriation thereof to the use of other persons.

For the purpose of guarding against mistakes, and of bringing more directly to the notice of proprietors the various matters which require attention, some further observations are here inserted under the head of

MEMORANDA FOR PROPRIETORS.

TRANSFERS.

The Records of the Corporation are the only evidence of the title of a proprietor recognized by the corporation. Consequently, when a person receives a lot by transfer from a proprietor, he should send his deed at once to the office of the Secretary for record. This suggestion would almost seem unnecessary, but experience has proved it otherwise, since the record of such transfers has sometimes been neglected for years, and sometimes the deed has been sent to the County Registry for record.

TRANSFER BY WILL.

The foregoing remarks are also applicable to lots devised to any person. The certified copy of the will containing any such devise, should be exhibited to the Secretary, and the proper extract from the same, with the necessary certificate, will be recorded upon the book of Special Transfers, and reference made thereto upon the original record. It matters not whether such devise is expressed in such general terms as are usually contained in the residuary clause, or whether the lot is specifically mentioned; in either case, the record should be made.

Persons can, since the act of the Legislature of 1859, dispose of their lets by will, either to one person specifically named, or to "heirs at law," "devisees," or "trustees," who take as tenants in common, but, under the construction of Sec. 8 of the Charter, are treated as one person, in law, and for whom, or of whom, some one is designated to represent the lot. If, however, the design is to devise the lot for the benefit of a number of individuals, the less circuitous and more practicable method is to make such devise to one person as trustee.

SOLE HEIR AT LAW.

By reference to the 8th Section of the Charter, and to the 20th By-Law, it will be seen that provision is made for any one who claims to be the sole heir-at-law of a proprietor, to assert his title to a lot. By making the affidavit required, he will gain a presumptive title, and will be treated as the proprietor until his claim to the lot shall be shown to be void.

REPRESENTATIVE OF A DECEASED PROPRIETOR.

Section 8th of the Charter, and Articles 16th and 20th of the By-Laws, indicate the importance of giving attention to this matter. The need of such representative results from the provision of the Charter that a lot can have but one proprietor. Consequently, upon his death, whenever it may fall by devise or inheritance to several persons, provision is made for one of them to step into the place of such proprietor, and exercise the legal control of the lot during the continuance of his appointment, which may last for his lifetime, or he may be superseded at any time, as circumstances shall require. Of course, therefore, no heir or devisee parts with any title which he may have, by reason of such appointment of his co-heir or devisee. It is the practice of the Trustees to appoint such representative upon the petition of the parties in interest, in which the person deemed by them most suitable or desirable is nominated. Such person may be the husband or the widow of the deceased, or either of the children of proper age, the guardian of minor children, or a trustee under the will - preference generally being given, however, to a person resident in this vicinity, or to the one residing nearest to the Cemetery.

A blank for such petition may always be had upon application to the Secretary, who will furnish any requisite information upon the subject.

CARE OF LOTS.

For the transient care of lots, proprietors are at liberty to contract with any suitable person whom they may select; but they are recommended to employ the person who holds the appointment of Gardener under the Trustees, he being considered as responsible to the Corporation for any abuse of trust. They should be particular to specify, so far as is in their power, what care they desire to be devoted to their lots, and contract for the same at a fixed price, and sign their names to such agreement in a memorandum book kept for the purpose. By this means the danger of mistakes and occasions of difference will be avoided. If proprietors desire the perpetual care of their lots, it is competent for them to make a contract to that effect with the Corporation. This is fast becoming a favorite method with owners of lots, and should be resorted to by all who can spare a sum, the income of which is sufficient for the purpose. An object so easily secured in one's lifetime, or, if not then convenient, under his last will, should never be relinquished to the caprices of fortune. or the supposed gratitude and affection of kindred, while dilapidated lots and neglected graves in all our cemeteries are so often the monuments of ingratitude or extinguished respect. The 29th By-Law gives further information upon this subject.

INTERMENTS.

Much confusion and trouble has arisen from proprietors too frequently allowing or requesting the undertakers to sign the orders for interments. As the Register of Interments is made up entirely from these written orders, it will be seen that the danger of mistakes in names and other important facts, is too great, to intrust this duty to strangers to the parties, who must necessarily write them upon the information of others, and in the hurry of business. Holders of lots are therefore requested to remember that one of the By-Laws requires that the order for interment shall be made "by the proprietor of the lot, or his legal representative," and that every order signed by the undertaker will be refused. Great pains have been taken to correct the old register, in which were found too many errors arising from this source, and this labor will appear to have been lost unless the practice shall be discontinued.

ERRORS AND CHANGES IN THE CATALOGUE.

Whenever any errors are noticed in the Catalogue or Plan, in the names of proprietors, or the number or location of their lots, or when they desire a change of residence to be entered, notice should be given at once to the Secretary.

VALUE AND COST OF THE CEMETERY.

As Mount Auburn was, in point of time, the first of American rural cemeteries, so, without disparagement to others, it stands, perhaps, by the general confession, at the head of all—not in extent of territory, nor in populousness—but, in its natural beauties, and its elements of stability and permanency. This last word, however, reminds the writer of the remark of a gentleman the other day, that doubts about the permanent existence of Mount Auburn had been injected into his mind in only one way, and that was by contemplating the remote possibility of Boston being the object of attack by a hostile beleaguering army, which should be reduced to the necessity of breaking up the iron fences and monuments to carry on the bombardment.

For the benefit of proprietors who have often expressed a desire to know the cost of the various solid improvements, and the value of the permanent resources of the Cemetery, some items are here inserted, collected in part from the History of Mount

When no place of residence is given with the name of the proprietor, it generally indicates that such residence is, or was when the deed issued, at Boston; but, not unfrequently, the residence is omitted because it has never been known, the proprietor having received his lot from another person, by a transfer which did not set forth the place of residence of the purchaser.

The following persons hold certificates entitling them to locate lots of 300 feet each:

> Augustine Heard, Francis J. Oliver, Jeffrey Richardson, Jonathan Whitney.

There is also an outstanding certificate in the hands of some unknown person, dated July 27, 1844.

NAMES OF PROPRIETORS.

ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED.

An asterisk * indicates that the person has deceased, with which is included, in a parenthesis, the year of decease. When the interment was made in a year subsequent to that of decease, this date also is given, preceded by the sign t. When the deceased has not been interred in the Cemetery, it is indicated by the sign t.

Where different proprietors bear the same name, they are to be distinguished by the addition of their respective residences, or the location of their lots. Lots of deceased proprietors, to which representatives have been appointed, may be found under either the name of the deceased proprietor, or of the representative. So, lots belonging to aggregate bodies which are represented, are indexed twice.

A zero (0) indicates that the proprietor has not yet located a lot.

Proprietors in Alphabetical Order	127

INTRODUCTION.

THE Proprietors of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn are presented with the sixth regular Catalogue, which it is hoped will be found to have made some approximation towards accuracy and completeness. So much new matter, important to all having an interest in the Cemetery, has claimed admission to the book, thus rendering the Catalogue but a part of it, that it has been thought practicable to adopt a different arrangement.

Accordingly the fundamental law of the Corporation is first introduced, followed by the By-Laws, which now, for the first time, — by the careful labor of the Trustees in collecting the scattered votes of a quarter of a century, and in pruning off and inserting new provisions — are thrown into a Code. In this code new and old enactments are so closely interwoven, that it would be difficult to remark particularly upon its new features, while such service is rendered impracticable by its systematic arrangement. New wants will, it is not unlikely, require further provisions; but it is thought that present wants are amply met.

No material change has been made in the Regulations for Admission, which are contained in Art. 27, and in Appendix D.

The legal forms presented in Appendix C, are the same as heretofore in use.

To the usual form of conveyance of land, a new covenant has been added, growing out of the plan recently proposed and adopted to secure a fund for the perpetual care and preservation of the Cemetery, in effect pledging the good faith of the Corporation in every sale made, to the steady accumulation of said fund.

The very able Report by the Committee, unfolding the above mentioned plan, which, it should be added, received the approval of several most eminent lawyers, may be found upon the 34th page, and will well repay a careful perusal on the part of proprietors, among whom the subject has already excited a deep interest.

A new form of conveyance has been added for the intermediate spaces between lots.

In pursuance of a requirement in the By-Laws, a list of the lots, the repair of which has been contracted for by the Corporation, is here published, together with the names of the proprietors, and the sums respectively devoted to that purpose.

The Catalogue of proprietors and their lots, has been prepared with much labor and care, the numerical and alphabetical parts have been very diligently compared to insure a correspondence, and the plan of lots and the grounds has been thoroughly revised. By perseverance, many errors in former editions have been corrected, in regard to some of which no ready means of information were presented. Some errors, in the nature of things, can hardly become known, until the occurrence of some accident; among these, for example, is the discrepancy between the actual and the recorded location of a lot, which, it is supposed, has generally arisen from a change of location, after the original selection was reported. Few such errors, however, have occurred, and it is believed that very few. if any, will hereafter be found to exist.

The upper portion of Garden Pond, together with the old house and out buildings, formerly used by the Superintendent, have been effaced from the plan; and it will be seen that a large and very desirable range, extending from Central Avenue to the easterly line, and embracing the whole north eastern portion of the Cemetery, will, in due time, be opened for occupation. The removal of the hill near the gate, which has been nearly effected, will enlarge the view from without, and add to the beauty of the Cemetery.

Another new feature of the Catalogue, to which much time and labor have been devoted, is the publication of a large list of representatives of lots of deceased proprietors. It was found that between three and four hundred of the names upon the Catalogue were those of deceased proprietors, whose heirs or devisees, in most cases, had no voice or vote in the doings of the corporation, and no one, of course, to exercise legal control over their respective lots. It was considered that the Catalogue should contain, so far as possible, an accurate list of proprietors, and the legal representatives of deceased proprietors, so that it might easily be known upon inspection who are members of the Corporation. Many votes offered at the last annual meeting were thrown out, because offered by persons who had not, in compliance with the Charter, been designated to represent the lots of deceased proprietors.

With this notice, and after the efforts that have been made to apprize all such of their privileges, it is hoped that none will be disfranchised through their own ignorance or inattention.

A list of the few persons who have the right to locate lots, is found at the end of the numerical Catalogue.

As an item of historic interest, there is presented (see page 13,) a tabular view of the officers since the commencement of the Cemetery. For the first four years, Mount Auburn was under the direction of "the Garden and Cemetery Committee," a board of nine gentlemen elected annually by the Massachusetts Horticultural Society. Since the present Corporation assumed the control, the practice has been, till the last two years, to choose nine Trustees, under a Charter, which allows "not less than seven nor more than twelve." For two years twelve have been chosen.

With these observations, it is deemed proper to conclude with some suggestions—which will probably here receive greater publicity among the Proprietors than through any other medium—under the head of

MEMORANDA FOR PROPRIETORS.

TRANSFERS.

The Records of the Corporation are the only evidence of the title of a proprietor recognized by the Corporation. Consequently when a person receives a lot by transfer from a proprietor, he should send his deed at once to the office of the Secretary for record. This suggestion would almost seem unnecessary; but experience has proved it otherwise, since the record of such transfers has sometimes been neglected for years, and sometimes the deed has been sent to the County Registry for record.

TRANSFER BY WILL.

The foregoing remarks are also applicable to lots devised to any person. The certified copy of the will containing any such devise, should be exhibited to the Secretary, and the proper extract from the same, with the necessary certificate, will be recorded upon a book prepared for this purpose, and reference will be made thereto upon the original record. It matters not whether such devise is expressed in such general terms as are often contained in the residuary clause, or whether the lot is specifically mentioned. While the former course is very frequent, the latter is the better one. But, in either case, the record should be made.

Persons in disposing of their lots by will, should bear in mind that, as by the Charter there can be but one proprietor of a lot, a devise of it to more than one person cannot be recognized by the Corporation. If the design is to transmit it to more than one, the better way is to devise it to one as trustee.

SOLE HEIR AT LAW.

By reference to the 8th Section of the Charter, and to the 19th By-Law, it will be seen that provision is made for any one who claims to be the sole heir at law of a proprietor, to assert his title to a lot. After making the affidavit required, he will be regarded as having presumptive title, and will be treated as the proprietor till the contrary shall be made to appear.

REPRESENTATIVE OF A DECEASED PROPRIETOR.

Section 8th of the Charter, and Articles 15th and 19th of the By-Laws, indicate the importance of giving attention to this matter. The need of such representative results from the provision of the Charter that a lot can have but one proprietor. Consequently, upon his death, whenever it may fall by devise or inheritance to several persons, provision is made for one of them to step into the place of such proprietor, and exercise the legal control of the lot during the continuance of his appointment, which is revocable, and may last for his lifetime, or may be superseded at any time, as circumstances shall require. Of course, therefore, no heir or devisee parts with any title which he may have, by reason of such appointment of his co-heir or devisee. It is the practice of the Trustees to appoint such representative upon the petition of the parties in interest, in which the person deemed by them most suitable or desirable is nominated. Such person may be the husband or the widow of the deceased, or either of the children of proper age, the guardian of minor children, or a trustee under the will — preference generally being given, however, to a person resident in this vicinity, or to the one residing nearest to the Cemetery.

A blank for such petition may always be had upon application to the Secretary, who will furnish any requisite information upon the subject.

CARE OF LOTS.

A book is kept at the Superintendent's office, at the Cemetery, in which are entered all orders for the care of lots. Proprietors should be particular to specify what care they desire to be devoted to their lots, and, so far as is possible, contract for a fixed price. All orders thus given will be regarded as in force until revoked. They need not be renewed from year to year. It is desirable that they should be in writing.

ERRORS AND CHANGES IN THE CATALOGUE.

Whenever any errors are noticed in the Catalogue or plan, in the names of proprietors, or the number or location of their lots, or when they desire a change of residence to be entered, notice should be given at once to the Secretary.

Thirdly, That the proceeds of the first sales of such lots, after deducting the annual expenses of the Cemetery establishment, shall be applied to the extinguishment of the present debts due by the said Horticultural Society on account of the said Garden and Cemetery. SECRETARY'S OFFICE, Boston, May 23, 1850.

I certify the foregoing to be a true copy of the original Act. WM. TUFTS, Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth.

At a meeting of the Trustees, on the 7th of July, 1856, the President, (Dr. Bigelow,) and Messrs. Crocker and Nazro were chosen a Committee to prepare, arrange and submit, in such form as they should deem advisable, all rules and standing votes of the Corporation and Trustees; and, on the 3d of November, they presented the following Report, and a Code of By-Laws, which, after several meetings of the Trustees, for the consideration of the same, and the adoption of various amendments, were passed as a whole, January 5th, 1857, to which one or two additions have since been made.

The Committee appointed to prepare a Code of By-Laws respectfully Report:—

That with the assistance of the Secretary they have examined the records of the Corporation and Trustees, and have selected therefrom such standing votes as appeared to them to require incorporation into the proposed code of By-Laws. They have endeavored to arrange, condense and simplify said votes so as to make them intelligible and convenient of reference. They have omitted some things which appeared to them superfluous, and have introduced others which they considered essential to the connection and completeness of the code.

If the code now reported shall be adopted, they recommend that all previous votes incompatible with the provisions of said code, or with the Act of Incorporation, shall be repealed, and that a copy of the new code shall be printed with the next edition of the Catalogue.

They shall direct the Treasurer in regard to all sales and all investments of the funds of the Corporation not otherwise provided for, or any part of the same. They shall also act as auditors, and shall examine the Treasurer's accounts before each annual meeting, and satisfy themselves in regard to the correctness of said accounts, also in regard to the safe preservation of all evidences of property belonging to the Corporation; and they shall annex their report to the annual report of the Treasurer.

COMMITTEE ON LOTS.

ART. 12. The Committee on Lots shall consist of three Trustees. They shall have the general supervision of all sales, locations, and enlargements of lots, also of all questions of right between individual proprietors, or between proprietors and the Corporation. No transfer or conveyance of land by the Corporation shall take place until it has received the approval, in writing, of a majority of the Committee on Lots. If an appeal to the Trustees is made by any party in interest, before the delivery of a deed, the Secretary shall delay acting until the case has been brought before the Trustees, and acted upon by them. The Committee on Lots shall have power, subject to the concurrence of the Trustees, to contract with any proprietor for the repair of his lot perpetually, or for an indefinite time. They shall at least twice in each year inspect the lots which the Trustees have undertaken to keep in repair, and see that the trust is duly executed.

COMMITTEE ON GROUNDS.

ART. 13. The Committee on Grounds shall consist of five Trustees. They shall have general charge of the grounds, trees, avenues, and paths in the Cemetery, with power to make such alterations, repairs and improvements therein, as they shall deem expedient. Until otherwise ordered, two dollars and fifty cents shall be charged for digging a grave and making an interment, and fifty cents additional for recording the same. A deduction of one dollar shall be made from the above charges for a child under ten years of age. For each interment in a tomb, a charge shall be made by the Superintendent, according to the amount of service rendered in the case.

The particulars and amounts of fees for burial shall be printed on the back of the order from the proprietor, together with the words, "payable at the time of interment."

LOTS AND SPACES.

ART 16. Lots shall be laid out by the Superintendent, subject to the approval of the Committee on Lots. In all future sales of lots, a space of not less than three nor more than six feet in width, at the discretion of the Committee on Lots, shall be reserved between the fence limits of different lots, unless otherwise ordered by vote of the Trustees.

The land left vacant as intermediate space between lots in Mount Auburn, and not exceeding ten feet in width between any two lots, may be sold to the nearest lot holder or holders, at one third of the selling prices per foot at the time of said sale, with the condition that said land shall forever be kept open and without interments: provided that, if the Committee on lots deem it inexpedient in any special case to make such sale, the question may be submitted to the Board of Trustees.

The price of a full lot, until otherwise ordered, shall be one hundred and fifty dollars, or fifty cents per square foot. Enlarged lots, small lots, and land additional to lots, will be sold at a corresponding rate per foot. Choice lots in such places as the Trustees may designate, will be held at an advanced price.

No lots shall be gratuitously conveyed to public bodies or private individuals.

PUBLIC LOTS.

ART 17. Interments may be made in the public lots belonging to the cemetery, and the graves numbered on stone, on payment of twelve dollars each, together with the customary fees payable in other cases of interment; but no slab, monument, or fence shall be creeted upon or around said graves without the approval of the Committee on Lots.

SALES AND CONVEYANCES.

ART. 18. Lots applied for by purchasers shall be laid out by the Superintendent, subject to the approval of the Committee on Lots. If the sale is approved by a majority of said Committee, the purchaser shall then pay to the Treasurer the customary or stipulated price of the lot sold him, and the Secretary's fee of one dollar, and receive a certificate therefor. The Secretary, on receiving the Treasurer's order for the deed of said lot, shall make, record, and return said deed to the Treasurer, who will deliver the same to the purchaser, upon his presenting the certificate, and receipting for said deed. In any doubtful case the Secretary or Treasurer shall ask instruction from the Trustees before executing a deed.

No deed of any lot shall be issued to more than one grantee; nor to any person as trustee, executor or administrator, except by the vote of the Trustees, or the authority of the Committee on Lots. No deed of any lot shall contain any special declaration of trust, without a vote of the Trustees therefor.

All deeds of conveyance by the Corporation shall be under the common seal, which shall be that heretofore adopted; and signed by the Treasurer, and countersigned by the Secretary, and recorded in the books of the Corporation. One dollar shall be paid to the Secretary for recording any deed of transfer, and giving the due certificate of the same.

The forms of conveyance given in Appendix A, shall be used until otherwise ordered by the Trustees.

LOTS OF DECEASED PROPRIETORS.

ART. 19. When the devisee of a deceased proprietor of any lot in the Cemetery shall desire to place upon the record of the deed of said lot, at the Sccretary's office, the evidence of his title to the same, he may do so by producing a certified copy of the will of such proprietor, (if the title is deducible therefrom,) or of such portion of said will as relates to said title; and the same shall be duly recorded in a book kept for that purpose, and proper reference thereto be made upon the margin of the original record. The Secretary shall receive the affidavit of any person who shall claim to be the sole heir at law of the deceased proprietor of any lot, in which the material facts necessary to support such claim shall be set forth, and he shall file the same with the papers of the corporation, with proper reference thereto, upon the margin of the original record.

When the devisees or heirs at law of any deceased proprietor, or the guardian or trustee of such persons being infants, shall desire the appointment of a person to represent the lot owned in common by them, written application to the Trustees shall be made by them, in that behalf.

PLANS AND PORTFOLIOS.

ART. 20. A large map or plan of the Cemetery shall be kept at the Secretary's office, and a duplicate of the same at the Superintendent's office. On these shall be entered, under the direction of the Committee on Lots, by a surveyor to be from time to time designated by them, all avenues and paths duly named, and all lots sold or laid out by the Corporation duly numbered. If any avenue, path or lot shall be given up, altered or removed by the Trustees, a corresponding alteration shall be made in the plan.

The Secretary shall procure and keep one or more portfolios, in which he shall insert such plans as proprietors may respectively procure to be made of their lots, such plans to be drawn by a surveyor approved by the Trustees, on paper of uniform size, which shall be furnished by the Secretary, and no plans shall be introduced into the portfolio unless they shall have been examined and approved by the Committee on Lots, or a majority of them, and certified by the Superintendent to be correct. Proprietors shall pay the expense of their own plans, and one dollar to the Secretary for examining and introducing the same into the portfolio and placing the name in the index.

TREES.

ART. 21. Trees standing within lots can be removed, if desired, by an application from the proprietor to the Superintendent, subject to the approval of the Committee on Grounds. The Committee on Grounds have likewise charge of the general subject of introducing and cultivating, also of trimming and removing, trees and shrubs in other parts of the Cemetery.

TOMBS.

Aur. 22. Lots for tombs may be sold in places approved by the Trustees, and at prices fixed by them. Such tombs shall be made in a strong, tight, and durable manner, and every part, including the door, shall be at least one foot under ground.

RECEIVING TOMBS.

ART. 23. Bodies may be deposited in the receiving tombs on payment of fifteen dollars to the Superintendent. But if within four months after interment, the deposited body shall be removed to any part of Mount Auburn, ten dollars of the above sum shall be refunded, otherwise the whole fifteen dollars shall be forfeited to the Corporation; and the Superintendent shall remove the body to such place as shall be directed by the Committee on Grounds. But the friends or relatives, with the consent of the Superintendent, and in a legal way, may, at their own expense, remove said body from the Cemetery.

MONUMENTS, STONES, FENCES, ETC.

ART. 24. Proprietors have the right to erect on their lots, fences, monuments, and stones, of appropriate character. Wooden fences and grave-stones of slate are not permitted. Live hedges of small or moderate size are allowed.

APPROPRIATIONS.

ART. 25. No appropriation of money exceeding one thousand dollars for any one object, unless it be for the liquidation of a debt previously existing, shall be made by the Trustees, except at a meeting at least seven days subsequent to the meeting in which the said appropriation has been moved; whereof special notice shall have been given.

REPAIR FUND.

ART. 26. The Trustees will receive in trust from any proprietor, a sum of money not less than one hundred dollars, the income of which shall be appropriated to the repair of his lot, according to the terms of trust given in Appendix B.

The Trustees may also guarantee the perpetual repair of lots, on the payment to the Treasurer of a sum not less than three hundred dollars, according to the terms of trust given in Appendix C. In this case, if the Repair Fund should ever be lost, the whole property of the Corporation is held for the perpetual repair of such lots.

All monies received from proprietors, for the purpose of keeping lots in repair, shall collectively constitute a separate fund, to be called the "Repair Fund," and shall be kept invested, under the direction of the Committee on Finance, in some public stock of this State, or of the National Government, or in the stock of some bank or banks of this State, or in some personal notes or obligations of private persons, secured by a satisfactory collateral pledge, or mortgage on interest.

Each lot, in relation to which such contract shall have been made, shall be credited in a book kept for the purpose, with the principal sum given on account of said lot, and at the close of each year, a ratable proportion of the net income of the whole repair fund, less one half per cent., shall be carried to the credit of each lot, and the proper entries made accordingly.

The Treasurer shall keep the Superintendent constantly informed as to all lots which the Corporation have agreed to keep in repair, and shall also state the sums paid by the proprietors as consideration for such agreements.

A list of the lots, the repair of which has been contracted for by the Corporation, shall be published in each edition of the Catalogue of Proprietors, together with the names of the present owners, and the sums respectively paid on said lots.

ADMITTANCE.

ART. 27. The Secretary shall furnish to each proprietor who may request it, a ticket, entitling him and his household to drive with a carriage into the Cemetery. These tickets are not transferable.

In all cases where the Secretary is satisfied, by a written petition to the Trustees, that the heirs or devisees in common of any lot have agreed upon any one person to represent the same, he may issue the ticket for such lot to the person designated in such petition as representative of such lot, to remain good until the further action of the Board. The petition, however, shall be presented, with notice of the Secretary's action, at the next meeting of the Trustees.

The Secretary is authorized to issue more than one ticket upon one lot, where he is satisfied that two or more persons are actual owners of a lot in fact, though the title is in the name of one only.

The Secretary is authorized to replace tickets which he is satisfied are actually lost. But if the lost ticket is found, the duplicate shall be returned to the Secretary.

Strangers from a distance, also persons having business in the Cemetery, may be admitted with carriages on presenting a note or ticket of admission signed by a Trustee or by the Secretary or Treasurer. The Trustees, however, may from time to time pass such votes for the admission of strangers and other non-proprietors, and under such regulations as they may deem expedient.

The public are, at present, allowed to walk into the Cemetery, except on Sundays and holidays. Persons having a relative or near friend interred there, may enter the Cemetery on Sundays and holidays, on presenting a card of admission from a Trustee, the Secretary, or Treasurer. All visitors are subject to the conditions and regulations prescribed in the by-laws.

Teams, carts, and heavy loaded vehicles are not allowed to enter the front gate without the order of a Trustee. No omnibuses are allowed to enter the Cemetery.

The rules and regulations concerning visitors to the Cemetery shall be as given in Appendix D, until otherwise ordered by the Trustees.

FUNERALS.

ART. 28. Early notice of funerals should be given to the Superintendent on the ground at Mount Auburn. When a funeral arrives, a person will be in readiness at the gate to conduct the procession to the place of interment. If military funerals on foot or on horseback are admitted, no music nor firing of volleys will be allowed within the Cemetery.

ALTERATIONS OF BY-LAWS.

ART. 29. No alteration nor addition shall be made in any of the By-laws, unless the proposed alteration or addition shall have been submitted to the Trustees at a meeting at least seven days previous to the meeting at which it is to be acted upon.

REPORT

OF THE COMMITTEE UPON THE ACCUMULATING FUND FOR THE PRESERVATION OF THE CEMETERY.

This Committee, consisting of Messrs. Curtis, Little and Nazro, were originally appointed in April, 1856, and a plan was reported by a majority of the Committee in January, 1857, and the same was adopted.

At the meeting in February following, the whole subject was re-opened for the purpose of making some more effectual provision to ensure the safety of said fund, and was referred to the same Committee in the following terms: "To consider and report upon a plan for securing the preservation and continuance of the fund which has been ordered to be established, for the perpetual care and preservation of the Cemetery and its appurtenances; and also to report such regulations for the investment and use of the said fund as they may deem expedient."

A report, with the orders accompanying, was presented by a majority of the Committee, April 6, 1857, and on the same day was adopted by the Board of Trustees, and is as follows:

The undersigned, the majority of the Committee appointed to report a plan for ensuring the preservation and continuance of the accumulating fund, have considered the subject and ask leave to report:

That they find that the establishment of the said fund is an act generally received with favor by the proprietors whom they have conferred with; and they have no doubt that it will be universally approved, when it is known that by it the future prosperity of the Cemetery will be secured. With a view to this end, your Committee have taken into consideration the means of securing the perpetual preservation of this safety fund; and after consulting some of the most sagacious proprietors, they have come to the conclusion to recommend the adoption of an order by the Trustees,— that in all the deeds of lots which shall hereafter be issued, there be inserted a covenant, that this fund shall be increased by yearly additions and by the accumulation of the interest, until it reaches the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars; when the interest, and that alone, may be applied, if the wants of the corporation require it, to the payment of the expenses of the Cemetery. If the Trustees in office at that time shall not need the income of this fund for expenses, they can, if they see fit, permit it to accumulate still longer.

In order to carry this design into effect, it will be expedient to amend the proposition adopted January 5th, 1857, by providing, that instead of placing the income at the disposal of the officers, at the end of twenty years, it shall not be made use of until the accumulated capital shall amount to the sum before mentioned, namely, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

With these views, your Committee recommend the passage of the following orders.

CHARLES P. CURTIS, CHARLES C. LITTLE.

It is ordered, by the Trustees of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn, that in the month of December of each year, the Treasurer of the Proprietors of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn shall deposit with the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company, if they will receive it on as favorable conditions as other deposits, in trust for the said Proprietors, a sum equal to one fifth part of the gross proceeds of the lots and parts of lots and intermediate spaces between lots, which shall have been sold subsequently to the first day of December, in the year preceding; the interest of which sums shall, annually or oftener, be added to the capital, for the purpose and upon the principle of accumulation, until the whole of said deposits, with the accumulated interest, shall amount to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

And when the said fund shall have amounted to the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, it shall be lawful for the Trustees, if they see fit, to withdraw the income thereof, and appropriate the same to the care, preservation, and keeping in order of the Cemetery and its appurtenances, to the payment of the salaries, and to the other necessary expenses of the institution; and by vote of four-fifths of the Trustees for the time being, they may withdraw, from time to time, the principal of the said fund, and invest the same as hereinafter is prescribed.

If, at any time, the Trustees shall deem the Massachusetts Hospital Life Insurance Company to be an unsafe place of deposit of the said fund, and shall, by a vote of a majority of all the members of the board so declare of record, the said fund may be withdrawn from the custody of the said Insurance Company, as soon as by the conditions of the deposit it may be, and shall then be invested in the name of the Proprietors of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn, upon the same trusts, in the public debt of the United States, or in that of the State of Massachusetts, or in the debt of the City of Boston, or the City of Charlestown, or the City of Roxbury, or the City of Cambridge, or in mortgages of real estate in Boston: provided that no mortgage shall be taken for a sum exceeding two-thirds of the value of the estate as it stands, when taken, on the valuation books of the assessors of the city taxes; nor for a period exceeding five years; nor in which the interest shall not be payable as often as annually; to which shall be added insurance against fire by some competent insurance company in Boston, for the amount of the loan, or such proportion thereof as the value of the buildings on the land shall enable the owner to obtain; which insurance shall be renewed from time to time at the expense of the mortgagor and his assigns, and shall be payable, in case of loss, to the Trustees of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn.

It is ordered, that in all the deeds which shall hereafter be issued, to the purchasers of lots, parts of lots, or other parcels of land in the Cemetery, the following covenant shall be inserted:

"And the said Proprietors of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn further covenant to and with the said heirs and assigns, that the Provisions of an order passed by the Trustees of this Corporation, on the sixth day of April, in the year eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, (which is made part of this covenant, as if herein repeated,) for the establishment and security of a fund for the preservation of the Cemetery and its appurtenances, shall be forever kept, observed, and performed by the said Corporation."

NAMES OF PROPRIETORS,

ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED.

An asterisk * indicates that the person has deceased.

Where different proprietors bear the same name, they are to be distinguished by the addition of their respective residences, or the location of their lots. Lots of deceased proprietors, to which representatives have been appointed, may be found under either the name of the deceased proprietor, or of the representative. So, lots belonging to aggregate bodies which are represented, are indexed twice. A zero (0) indicates that the proprietor has not yet located a lot.

BOSTON, 1850.

NATHANIEL DEARBORN,

ENGRAVER & PRINTER, 104 WASHINGTON STREET, BOSTON,

Has lately issued a pocket volume of 450 pages, entitled "Boston Kotions," being an authentic and concise as mant of "THAT VILLAGE," from 1630 to 1848; contaming 53 pages. — Ways. Maniatures, Wood Cuts, &c.

This work is highly appreciated by antiquarians and modern book worm gormandizers; among numerous other curiosities, it contains an account of all the inhabitants of Boston from 1630 to 1656; a last of the inhabitants for 1655, and a reprint of the first Directory for Boston, of 17-9 unmerous primitive laws: the trials for Heresy, Witchery, treatment of Quakers, Episcopaliais, and Bailetists; a history of all the churches, with a record of all the ministers, to 18. The volume is bound in moreceo and sold at $4.50.

The Morning Post of May 2d, 1-1%, says "This throw little book contamore, it appears to us, than any one volume extant, excepting perhaps Webs large Dictionary; the literary part of the work is written in a peculiar and or inal style, which cannot fail to please. In this age, when every body publish has bentbrations, it is no easy matter to produce any thing which shall be "new and true;" but we believe Mr Dranforn has fully succeeded in giving to the world something both unique and valuable."

From Hen. James Savage, I.L. D. Author of Winthrep Journal, &c. Mr. Nathaniel Dearborn,

Dear Sir—You have laid our native city under great obligation, by printing your "Boston Notions". The title, however, is not descriptive of its scope or merits: who ever looks over the copious Index will be directed to very man points of our peninsula, which he never visited, and must indeed, be a geograph is of extraordinary necuracy, if he ever heard of all of them before. Every and in the year he may take up the work and near the oil of December, still find something new

But it is not merely novelty, with which the reader of your book shall be granted. There is much, very much, of exact information, defined it in assistance research in places maccossible to most people. Even the errors will have the advantage of driving some explorers to unusual helds of investigate, in or the pleasure of exposing the small number of them. More than the cost of the whole volume is well laid out for the knowledge of the curious census, in either of the places between pages 42 and 65, and page 270 to 277, respectively one hundred and high, and two hundred years back. No other city in the world. I presume, can show lists of ag distant times, with such approach to perfection.

With great regard, I am Sir, your much obliged fellow worker,
Temple Place, 22 Nov., 1848.

MOUNT AUBURN CHAPEL.

ERRCTED 1847.

ODE ON

MOUNT AUBURN CHAPEL AND CEMETERY,

By Nathaniel Dearborn.

This mystic Fane in Auburn's sculptured grounds, Prefers to Heaven the griefs and suppliant sounds In aid of our infirmity;

The chastened heart to save, the mourner cheer, The message-promise from Jehovah hear

Of bliss through an eternity;

And here the bosomed relic of a friend, Returns to what it was, and is, an end

To re-produce frail, dying man;

The soul is called to Jesus' heavenly shrine, Beatic essence of the mind divine,

Communing with the GREAT I AM.

MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY, CAMBRIDGE.

4 1-2 miles west from Boston -- 1 1-4 miles west of Harvard University.

This spot of land was formerly called 'STONE'S WOODS:' its uncommonly gorgeous and beautifully varied scenery; its full grown umbrageous trees of many tribes, alluring numbers to its silent and peaceful shades, its name was changed by common consent to that of "SWEET AUBURN;" Under this appropriate appellation, it became more eminently a favorite grove for the lovers of nature, to enjoy the pleasing and healthy color and balmy atmosphere of green trees, shrubbery, grassy hills, solitary grottos, yet enlivened with music from the feathered songsters throughout this best elysium of nature's work.

The original lot comprised an area of 72 acres; but by an after purchase of 38½ acres, it now measures 110½ in all: the whole obtained at a cost of $9,766.89: The Trastees of Mount Auburn Cemetry contemplate adding about 100 acres of adjoining land to the present grounds of that cemetery, during the present season. The "HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY OF MASSACHUSETTS" were nobly impressed with the importance of an extensive rural cemetery for the burial of the dead, and after the above named purchases by them, they transferred the whole grounds to a society of gentlemen, who had labored for the accomplishment of this object, ever since the year 1825, for the sum of $4,222,42; thus making a generous gift of $5.544.47.

This latter society was Incorporated, as "THE PROPRIETORS OF MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY," June 23, 1831, and the ground consecrated on the 24th of Sept., in that year: the first meeting for agitating this subject, was held in 1825, at the house of Dr. Jacob Bigelow, the present President of the society; with the aid of the late George Bond, Wm. Sturgis, the late Hon, John Lowell, the late Samuel P. Gardiner, Thomas W. Ward, Nathan Hale, and John Tappan; who realized their fondest hopes in founding the FIRST, by date; the most enobling, and most beautiful garden cemetery in this extensive country; to become in time a paradise of sculptuary; of monuments and mausoleums, interspersed amid nature's lovliest productions; the capaciousness of the ground will permit 20,000 lots of 300 superficial square feet, each of which is offered at 100 dollars if purchased from any of those surveyed and located for the sale list; but if a lot be preferred in any part of the grounds not thus prepared, an additional sum will be required, say 10 dollars or more; around these lots the Avenues for carriages, 20 feet wide, and Paths for pedestrians, 6 feet wide, are laid out circuitously, to an extent, if measured in one straight line, would span a distance of 30 miles: about 1700 Lots have been disposed of, and about 350 Monuments, Shafts, Cenotaphs, Obelisks, and Slabs, have been raised to hallow and adorn the spot. All monies received from the sale of Lots or from any other source, is expended in ornamenting and improving this Garden Cemetery. During the two first vears of its consecration, upwards of 30,000 dollars were expended in grading the roads, building a house, &c. for the Superintendent, fencing, &c. The front entrance Gate from Cambridge road, is a design from an Egyptian model, and is masterly chiseled in Granite, at a cost of about $10,000'; and the cast iron picketed fence on that whole front line was erected at a cost of about $15,000 :- a splendid Chapel was completed within its grounds in 1848, at a cost of about $25,000. The highest mound in the Cemetery is called Mt. Auburn, and is 125 feet above Charles River, which meanders by the grounds on its southern border: 'It is proposed to erect on this summit a Tower; after some classic model, of sufficient height to be seen above the surrounding trees, to subserve the triple purpose of a landmark,—to identify the spot, and for an Observatory, commanding an uninterrupted view of the surrounding landscape" of cities, towns, hills, farms, rivers, Massachusetts Bay. with its many islands and shipping; the lantern or cupola of this Tower. to be at least 185 feet above the river Charles.

MR. RUFUS HOWE,

The Superintendent of Mount Auburn, resides within its borders; and conducts the affairs of the internal management of the Cemetery, in a very eminently judicious manner: any one applying to him for information concerning the lots on sale, for burials, or any other item appertain-

ing to those grounds, will receive every polite attention; a direct application to him is therefore most advisable, to save trouble and time.

By a reference to the Map of Mt. Auburn, which is on the last page of this pamphlet, the Avenues and Paths exhibit an universal curvature; their lines are "not straight, but crooked;" and if one is not familiar with their windings, a visit there may be attended with much fatigue and exhaustion; and that too, without the compensating gratification of seeing the beautiful and grand mementos of the living to the dead: to aid the visitor to thread this mazy labyrinth, with a tolerable understanding, attended too with a satisfactory result, a direct guide through MOUNT AUBURN, pausing at the various clusters of Monuments and Shafts, by the most convenient route, is to be found on page 8; the fifty-four engraved representations of them, are placed in the same progressive rotation; so, that, as one advances in the circuit laid down, by the printed guide, the monuments, engraved, will be met with in their designated accompanying position:-thus; the Sarcophagus of the late Dr. Spurzheim is the first one approached, and that is the first engraving and the first one named in the printed Guide: the monument of Eldredge, being nearly the last one on passing through the Cemetery, by the printed Guide, the engraving of it is placed last in this work.

The order of the consecration of Mount Auburn, was an address from the late Hon. Judge Story, who was then President of the Institution; prayers from Dr. Ware and Rev. John Pierpont, with the following impressive hymn from the pen of the latter.

HYMN.

To thee, O God, in humble trust, Our hearts their cheerful incense burn, For this thy word, "Thou art of dust," And unto dust shalt thou return.

And what were life, life's work all done, The hopes, joys, loves, that cling to clay, All, all, departed, one by one, And yet life's load borne on for aye! Decay! decay! 'tis stamped on all, All bloom in flower and flesh shall fade, Ye whispering trees when ye shall fall, Be our long sleep beneath your shade!

Here to thy bosom mother earth,
Take back in peace what thou hast giver
And all that is of heavenly birth,
O God, in peace, recall to heaven.

HYMN.

Home of the coming dead!
The spot whereon we tread
Is hallowed ground:
Here earth, in sacred trust,
Shall hold their sleeping dust,
Until her bonds they burst,
And rise unbound.

Here shall the weary rest, And souls, with woes oppress'd, No more shall weep: And youth and age shall come, And beauty in her bloom, And Manhood, to the tomb; Sweet be their sleep! Around their lowly bed
Shall flowers their fragrance shed,
And birds shall sing:
On every verdant mound
Love's offering shall be found,
And sighing trees around
Their shadows fling.

And there's a holier light!
Hope, with her taper bright,
On every tomb,
Points upward to the sky;
There every tear is dry;
There is no mourner's sigh,
Nor death, nor gloom.

"There's beauty all around our paths, if but our watchful eyes
Can trace it midst familiar things, and through their lowly guise;
We may find it where a hedgerow showers its blossoms o'er our way
Or a cottage-window sparkles forth in the last red light of day.
Yes! beauty dwells in all our paths — but sorrow too is there;
How oft some cloud within us dims the bright, still summer air!
When we carry our sick hearts abroad amidst the joyous things
That through the learly places glance, on many colored wings.
With shadows from the past, we fill the happy woodland shades,
And a mournful memory of the dead is with us in the glades;
And our dream-like fancies lend the wind an echo's plaintive tone,
Of voices, and of melodies, and of silvery laughter gone.
They hold us from the woodlark's haunts, and the violet-dingles back,
And from the lovely sounds and gleams in the shining river's track;
They bar us from our heritage of spring-time hope and mirth,
And veigh our burdened sprints down with the cumbering dust of earth."

GASPER SPURZHEIM, BORN D

This eminent and talented lecturer in the cause of science and humanity, was born on the banks of the Moselle, at Longvich; was educated at the college of Treves, and destined for the church; but the war with France, in 1797, dispersed the students, when Spurzheim went to Vienna, a pupil to Dr. Gall, and became his partner: they commenced their lectures on Phrenology, in 1804: the next year they were in Germany, teaching the science to academic Professors: in 1807, and till 1813, in Paris: in 1814, Dr. S. visited England and Scotlend; he tarried there three years; then returned to Paris, and espoused an accomplished lady: in 1832 he visited this country, landing at New York, and died in Boston, Nov. 10, 1832.

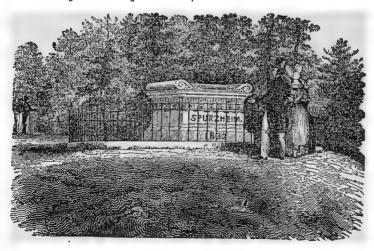

The most expressive tokens of regard and respect, and of mournful regret, were shown at his decease, by the government of the University at Cambridge, and an Eulogy pronounced by Dr. Follen; the following Ode by Rev. John Pierpont, was written for the occasion.

Stranger, there is bending o'er thee Many an eye with sorrow wet: All our stricken hearts deplore thee Who, that knew thee, can forget? Who forget what thou hast spoken? Who, thine eye,—thy noble frame? But that golden bowl is broken, In the greatness of thy fame.

Autumn's leaves shall fall and wither,
On the spot where thou shalt rest;
Tis in love we bear thee thither,
To thy mourning mother's breast:
For the Stores of science brought us,
For the charm thy goodness gave;
For the lessons thou hast taught us,
Can we give thee but a grave?

Nature's priest, how pure and fervent
Was thy worship at her shrine!
Friend of man,—of God the servant,
Advocate of truth divine,—
Taught and charmed as by no other,
We have been and hope to be;
But while waiting round thee, brother,
For thy light,—'tis dark with thee!—

Dark with thee! no; thy Creator, All whose creatures and whose laws Thou did'st love,—shall give thee greater Light than earth's, as earth withdraws. To thy God, thy godlike spirit Back we give in filial trust; Thy cold clay—we grieve to bear it To its chamber—but we must.

HOM. MATHANIEL BOWDITCH, L L. D. Died March 16, 1838.

The Bowditch Statue is placed about midway on Central Avenue, at the junction of Central and Chapel Avenues: the figure is of a Metalic composition (whose weight is about 2500.) representing that supreme Mathematician in a contemplative, studious, sitting attitude; with his volume of "MECANIQUE CELESTE," on which he rests his right arm, as if it were fully sufficient for the support of a more important part: that of mind, talent, industry and character; and beside him is a tome from his mathematical energies, of equally important contents:-that of his "AMERICAN NAVIGATOR," whereby most of the ships and floating craft on the broad expanse of ocean, which covers 3-5ths of the earth, are guided and directed safely to their destined port, if the elements of nature permit:—and next to that, is the Globe over which he traversed as a navigator many years; and which furnished his gigantic mind with the only basis for his immortal productions, and caused him to out-reach every one of his age in the abstruse yet sublime study of mathematics; to become President of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and to be invested with the collegiate degree of Doctor of Laws ;-and yet, he set out in life with a common school education, and was brought up as a sailor boy from the port of Salem, Mass.; he removed to Boston in 1823, and died at the age of 65 years.

"I've lost a day!" The Prince who nobly cried, Had been an Emperor without his crown. So should all speak; so reason speaks to all; Time, the supreme! Time is Eternity; Pregnant with all eternity can give! Who murders time, but crushes in the bud A power etherial, only not adored."

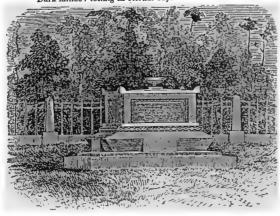

ROBERT G. SHAW. LOT OU. AARE A.

"Be wise to-day; 'tis madness to defer:
Next day the fatal precedent will plead:
Thus on, till wisdom is push'd out of life.
Procrastination is the thief of time;
Year after year it steals, till all are fled,
And to the mercies of a moment leaves
The vast concerns of an eternal scene.
If not so frequent, would not this be strange?
That 'ties so frequent, this is stranger still."

REV. WILLIAM ELLERY CHANNING, D.D. GREEN BRIER PATH.

"The sage, peer, potentate, king, conqueror!
Death humbles these; store harbarous Life the man!
Life is the triumph of our mouldering clay:
Death is the spirit infinite! divine!
Death has no dread but what frail Life imparts,
Nor Life true joy but what kind death improves.
No bliss has life to boast. till Death cas give Far greater. Life's a debtor to the grave:
Dark lattice! letting in eternal day."

ELISHA TURNER. LOT 714. YARROW PATH,

"O'ye, whose hours in jocund train advance, O, ye, while Fate delays th' impending woe, Whose spirits to the song of gladness dance, Be roused to thought,—anticipate the blow; Whose flowery plains in endless pomp survey, Lest like the lightning's glance, the sudden ill Glittering in beams of visionary day;

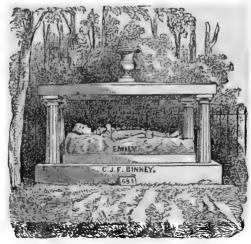

Flash to confound, and penetrate to kill.

LOT 681. DEXTER'S SCULPTURE OF EMILY, ON YARROW PATH.

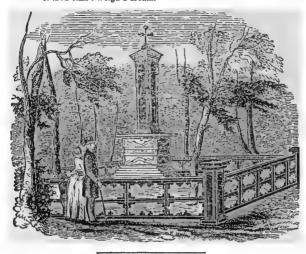

Death found strange beauty on that polished brow, And dashed it out. There was a tint of rose On cheek and lip. He touched the veins with ice And the rose faded. Forth from those blue eyes There spake a wishful tenderness, a doubt Whether to grieve or sleep, which innocence
Alone may wear. With ruthless haste he bound
The silken fringes of those curtained lids Forever. But there beamed a smile, So fixed, so holy, from that cherub brow, Death gazed, and left it there. He durst not steal The signet-ring of Heaven.

MRS. L. H. SIGOURNEY.

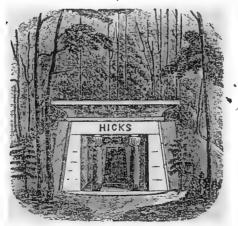

JOHN H. GOSSLER. LOT 1129, YARROW PATH.

"Alas! how vain
The wreath that Fame would bind around our tomb—
The winds shall waste it, and the worms destroy;
The fickle praise of far posterity,
Come, weigh it at the grave's brink, here with me,
If thou came't weigh a dream."

ZACHARIAH HICES. LOT 168, WALNUT AVENUE.

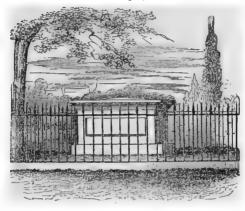

"I saw an aged man upon his bier:
His hair was thin and white, and on his brow
A record of the cares of many a year;
Cares that were ended and forgotten now:
And there was sadness round, and faces bowed,
And women's tears fell fast, and children wailed aload.

HENRY ANDREWS, LOT 930. AMARANTH PATH.

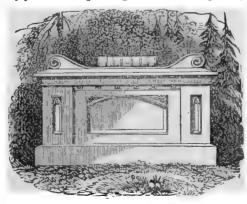

" Not lost, but gone before."

6-For scarce upon our infant eyes, The sprinkled dew of baptism dries, E'er the thick frost of manhood's care. And death's strong icy seal is there."

JOHN THORNTON KIRKLAND, LL. D. HARVARD HILL.

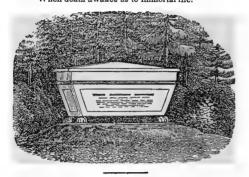

John Thornton Kirkland was President of Harvard University, from 1810, to 1828; which was a prosperous era for that institution: it was crowded with students, but his generosity kept him pennyless during the whole term: he loved his mother; in his memorandum book, he wrote, "one misfortune befel me in my junior year, which this world can never repair; my mother, on 23d Jan. 1788, died: the highest pleasure I could ever enjoy was that of pleasing her." he died April 26, 1840, Æ 69.

JOHN HOOKER ASHMUN. HARVARD HILL, COLLEGE LOI.

Deceased April 1st, 1833, aged 33 years.

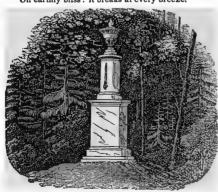

'Instructive emblem of this mortal state!
Where scenes as various every hour arise
In swift succession, which the hand of Fate
Presents, then whirls them from our wandering eyes.
Be taught, vain man, how fleeting all thy joys,
Thy boasted grandeur and thy glittering store:
Death comes and all thy fancied bliss destroys,
Quick as a dream it fades and is no more.
Through earth's thronged visions while we toss forlorn,
'Tis tumult all, and rage, and restless strife,
But these shall vanish like the dreams of more
When death awakes us to immortal life.'

MONUMENT TO HOFFMAN. COLLEGE LOT.

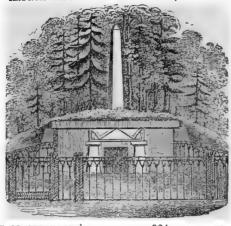

'In memory of a beloved and only son, Frederick William, son of David and Mary Hoffman, of Baltimore, Maryland. Accompanied by his parents for Italy, he died at Lyons, France, on the 30th of November, 1833, aged 17 years."

"How mortals dream of things impossible, Of joys perpetual, in perpetual change! Where now my frenzy's pompous furniture? The cobweb'd cottage, and its ragged wall Of mouldering mud, is royalty to me; The spider's most attenuated thread Is cord, is cable to man's tender tie On earthly bliss: it breaks at every breeze."

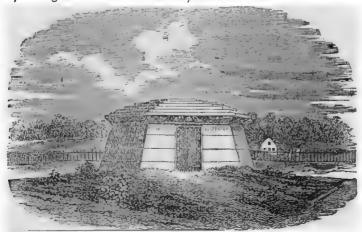

GEORGE W. COFFIN. LOT 30, CHESTNUT AVENUE.

"O Thou! whose word from solid darkness struck That spark, the Sun; strike wisdom from my soul; My soul, which dies to thee, her trust, her treasure, As misers to their gold, while others rest: Through this opaque of Nature and of Sout, This double night, transmit one pitying ray, To lighten and to cheer. O lead my mind (A mind that fain would wander from its woe,) Lead it through various scenes of life and death, And from each scene the noblest truths inspire."

TREMONT OR STRANGERS' TOMB. LOT 324, CHESTNUT AVENUE.

Owned by the Proprietors of the Tremont House, Boston; built in 1833, of a pentagonal form, one side being occupied by the descending entrance steps, and on each of the other four sides, are three rows of horizontal cells, having three cells each, making 36 in all: if the remains are permanently deposited, the cell is closed with a marble tablet, bearing the name of the deceased, &c.

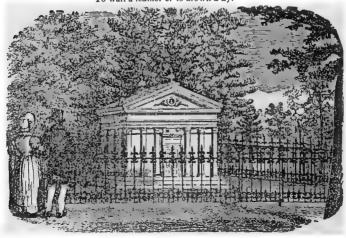

CHARLES T. HILDRETH. Los aus, causina saim.

"We frail and blind, to whom our own dark moon, With its few phases is a mystery! Back to the dust, most arrogant! Be still! Deep silence is thy wisdom! Boast no more! But let thy life be one long sigh of prayer, An hymn of praise, till from thy broken clay, At its last gasp, the unquenched spirit rise, And, unforgotten, 'mid unnumbered worlds, Ascend to Him, from whom its essence came."

SAMUEL APPLETON. LOT 411, CEDAR HILL.

"Is it in the flight of human years
To push eternity from living thought,
And smother souls immortal in the dust?—
A soul immortal, spending all her fires,
Wasting her strength in busied idleness,
Thrown into tumult, raptured or alarmed
At aught this scene can threaten or indulge,—
Resembles occan into tempest wrought,
To waft a feather or to drown a fly."

Z. B. ADAMS. LOT 455, ROSEMARY PATH.

"And is this all—this mournful doam? Beams no glad light beyond the tomb? Mark how yon clouds in darkness ride; They do not quench the orb they hide; Still there it wheels—the tempest o'er In a bright sky to burn once more; So, far above the clouds of time, Faith can behold a world sublime— There when the storms of life are past, The light beyond, shall break at last."

MONUMENTS AT THE JUNCTION OF IVY AND ASTER PATHS, LOT 407.

The centre Shaft is in memory of the late Francis Stanton, merchant, and the right and left monuments are to the late Joshua Blake and to George Hallet.

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power,
And all that beauty, all that wealth e'er gave,
Await alike th' inevitable hour:—
And paths of glory lead but to the grave,
Can storied urn or animated bust
Back to its mansion call the fleeting breath?
Can Honor's voice provoke the silent dust,
Or Flattery soothe the dull cold ear of death?"

FREDERICK P. LEVERETT.

Matilda, wife of F. P. Leverett, died April 17, 1834, aged 20 years. Frederick P. Leverett died Oct. 5th, 1836, aged 33 years.

His hope we trust was in Christ.

"The distinguished reputation of a scholar, the exalted integrity of a man, the noble qualities which grace a husband, father, son, brother, friend, as they were his, won the praise and love of every heart: so are they his just memorial. Quis desiderio sit pudor aut modus Tam chari capitis."

WM. A. STEARNS. LOT 646. MOSS PATH. MON. TO SAM'L H. STEARNS.

"Ay, freely hath the tear been given—and freely hath gone forth
The sigh of grief, that one like thee should pass away from earth;
But those who mourn thee, mourn thee not like those to whom is given
No soothing hope, no blissful thoughts of parted friends in Henveu:
They feel that thou wast summoned to the Christian's high reward,—
The everlasting joys of those whose trust is in the Lord."

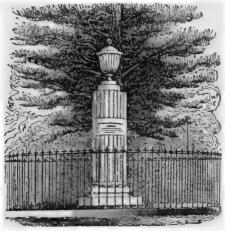

HANNAH ADAMS. LOT 180, CENTRAL SQUARE. Historian of the Jews, &c. Deceased, Dec. 15, 1831, Aged 76, the first burial in Mt. Auburn.

"Hear, ye fair daughters of this happy land!
Whose radient eyes the vanquished world command,
Virtue is beauty; but when charms of mind
With elegance of outward form are joined;
When youth makes such bright objects still more bright,
And fortune sets them in the strongest light,
'Tis all of heaven that we below may view
And all but adoration is your due."

REV. JOHN MURRAY. LOT 587, MOSS PATH.

"The Soul!—the Soul! with its eye of fire,
Thus, thus shall it soar when its foes expire;
It shall spread its wings o'er the ills that pained,
The evils that shadowed, the sins that stained,
It shall dwell where no rushing cloud hath sway
And the pageants of earth shall have melted away.

WARREN COLBURN, DIED 1833. æ 40 YEARS. LOT 429, LOCUST AVENUE.

Cherished in classic lore! Though short thy date!

"Virtue, not rolling suns, the mind matures.
That life is long which answers life's great end.
The time that bears no fruit, deserves no name:
The man of wisdom is the man of years:
In hoary youth Methusalems may die
Then how misdated on some flattering tombs!"

CHARLES CHOATE. LOT 42, POPLAR AVENUE.

"Faith builds a bridge from this world to the next, O'er Death's durk gulf, and all its horrors hides: Praise, the sweet exhalation of our joy, That joy exalts, and makes it sweeter still: Prayer ardent, opens Heaven, lets down a stream Of glory on the consecrated hour Of man in audience with the Deity? Who worships the great God, that instant joins The first in Heaven."

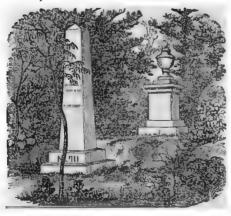

HENRY BLAKE MC CLELLAN. DECEASED 1833, &. 22. LOT 123, POPLAR AVENUE.

"We lately mused beside thy peaceful grave,
In Auburn's sweet and consecrated shades;
'Twas Autumn, and a mellow sunset cast
Its golden smile through variegated woods,
And silence waved her tranquillizing wing.
There rose the beech-tree in its dying pomp,
The maple and the sumac clad in gold,
The sycamore in princely garments drest,
And the pale silvery birch, kissed by the glowing west."

ISAAC WILLIAMS. LOT 142, WILLOW AVENUE.

"The bell strikes one. We take no note of time But from its loss: to give it then a tongue Is wise in man.— If heard aright, It is the knell of our departed hours. Where are they? With the years beyond the flood; It is the signal that demands despatch: How much is to be done! my hopes and fears Look down—on what? A fathornless abyse, A dread eternity! how surely mine! And can eternity belong to me, Poor pensioner on the bounties of an hour? ??

EDWIN BUCKINGHAM, DIED 1833, & 23 YEARS. LOT 134. WILLOW AVENUE.

"Rest, Loved One, rest—beneath the billow's swell, Where tongue ne'er spoke, where sunlight never fell; Rest—till the God who gave thee to the deep, Rouse thee, triumphant, from the long, long sleep. And you, whose hearts are bleeding, who deplore That ye must see your Edwin's face no more, Weep—he was worthy of the purest grief; Weep—in such sorrow ye shall find relief; While o'er his doom, the bitter tear ye shed, Memory shall trace the virtues of the dead; These cannot die! for you, for him, they bloom, And scatter fragrance round his ocean-tomb."

THOMAS WETMORE. LOT 581, ALDER PATH.

"A part how small of the terraqueous globe
Is tenanted by man!—the rest a waste,
Rocks, deserts, frozen seas, and burning sands!
Wild haunts of monsters, poisons, stings, and death.
Such is Earth's melancholy map! but, far
More sad! this earth is a true map of man:
So bounded are its haughty lord's delights
To woe's wide empire, where deep troubles toss,
Loud sorrows howl, envenomed passions bite,
And threatening Fate wide opens to devour.?

MON. TO SAVAGE, ON GARDNER GREENLEAF'S LOT NO. 74, ALDER PATH.

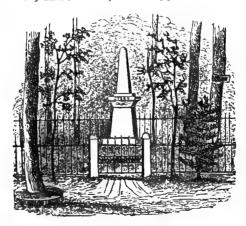

"The dead, the much-loved dead! Who doth not yearn to know The secret of their dwelling place, And to what land they go?

"Ye are not dead to us; But as bright stars unseen, We hold that ye are ever near, Though death intrudes between, What heart but asks with ceaseless tone For some sure knowledge of its own?" Like some thin cloud, that veils from The countless spangles of the night." Lake some thin cloud, that veils from sight

HON. JOSEPH STORY, LL. D. LOT 313, NARCISSUS PATH.

"Death! great proprietor of all! 'tis thine To cast out empire, and to quench the stars; The sun by thy permission, brilliant shines, But one day thou shalt pluck him from his sphere, And in this mighty plunder, was thy mark on me, Insociate archer! once could not suffice, Thy shafts flew thrice, and thrice my peace was slain."

LOT 301, NARCISSUS PATEL.

JOHN W. WEBSTER,

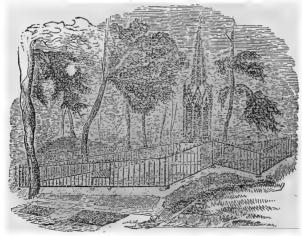

"Henceforth I learn, that to obey is best,
And love with fear the only God; to walk
As in his presence; ever to observe
His providence; and on him sole depend,
Merciful o'er all his works, with good
Still overcoming evil, and by small
Accomplishing great things by things deemed weak,
Subverting worldly strong, and worldly wise,
By simply meek; that suffering for truth's sake
Is fortitude to highest victory,
And to the faithful, death the gate of life!"

HENRY OXNARD. LOT 364. NARCISSUS PATH.

"Ye living friends to sooth thy pain,
Remember we shall meet again!

Quell with this hope the victor's sting,
And keep it as a signet-ring;
Keep thou that hope to light the gloom,
Till the last trumpet rends the tonib."

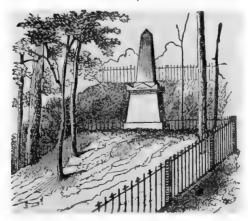

CLEMENT DURGIN. LOT 433, NARCISSUS PATH.

"Clement Durgin, Associate principal of Chauncy Hall School, Boston, born Sept. 29, 1802, died Sept. 30, 1833: a student and lover of nature, in her wonders, he saw and acknowledged and through them adored her benificent Author: his life was a beautiful illustration of his philosophy—his death, of the triumph of his faith: his pupils have reared this monument as an imperfect memorial of their great affection and respect."

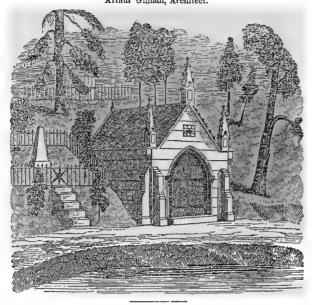

NATHANIEL FAXON. LOT 384 NARCISSUS PATH,

"There I placed
A frail memorial,—that when again
I should revisit it, the thought might come
Of the dull tide of life, and that pure spring

TOM3 OF WM. P. WINCHESTER. LOT 380, NARCISSUS PATH. Arthur Gilman, Architect.

MARTIN BRIMMER. LOT 394. INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

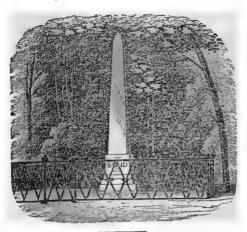

"The departed! the departed!
They visit us in dreams,
And they glide above our memories,
Like shadows over streams;
But where the cheerful lights of home
In constant lustre burn,
The departed! the departed!
Can never more return!

The good. the brave, the beautiful! How dreamless is their sleep, Whore rolls the dirge-like music Of the ever-tossing deep:— Or where the harrying night winds Pale winter robes have spread, Above the narrow palaces, In the cities of the dead!"

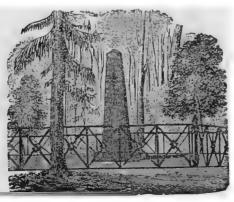

GEORGE BOND. LOT 156, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"Lost Friend, I shrink to say, so frail are we— So like the brief ephemeron that wheels Its momentary round, we scarce can weep Our own bereavements, ere we haste to share The clay with those we mourn."

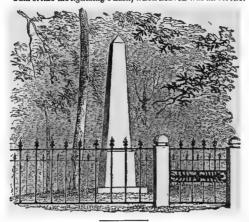

BENJAMIN SEAVER. LOT 158, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"I looked on manhood's towering form
Like some tall Oak when tempests blow
That scorns the fury of the storm
And strongly strikes its roots below:
Again I looked—with idiot cower
His vacant eye's unmeaning ray
Told how the mind of godlike power
Passeth away."

SAMUEL GREENLEAF. LOT 409, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"Angel of death! did no presaging sign
Announce thy ceming, and thy way prepare?
No warning voice, no harbinger was thine —
Danger and fear seemed past — but thou wer't there!
Prophetic sounds along the earthquake's path —
Foretel the hour of Nature's awful throes;
And the volcano, ere it bursts in wrath,
Sends forth some herald from its dread repose:
But thou dark Spirit! swift and unforeseen,
Cam'st like the lightning's flash, when heaven was all serene."

ENOCH PATTERSON. LOT 438, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"For this mortal must put on immortality,"

TO THE MEMORY OF DAVID PATTERSON.

"He sleeps beneath the blue lone sea, Fe lies where pearls the deep, He was the loved of all; yet none O'er his low bed may weep."

ALEXANDER WADSWORTH. LOT 431. INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

An infant son, born March 25, died March 29, 1837.

"Before the heart might learn In waywardness to stray, Before the foot eculd turn The dark and downward way;" "Shall love with weak embrace
Thy heavenward flight detain?
No! Angels seek thy place
Among you cherub-train."

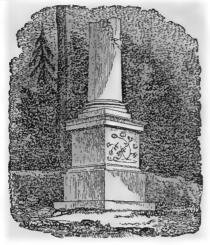

NATHANIEL FRANCIS. LOT 333, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"For them no more the blazing hearth shall burn, Or busy housewife ply her evening care: No children run to lisp their sire's return, Or climb his knees the envied kiss to share. Full many a gem of purest ray serena, The dark unfathom'd caves of ocean bear; Full many a flower is born to blush unseen, And waste its sweetness on the desert air. Oh, who, to dumb forgetfulness a prey, This pleasing anxious being e'er resign'd, Left the warm precincts of the cheerful day, Nor cast one longing, lingering look behind!"

'JOHN TAPPAN'S MONUMENT. LOT 307.

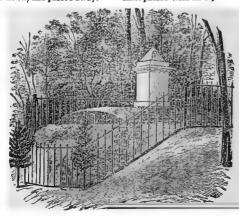

At the junction of Linden and Narcissus Paths is a broken shaft, as an emblem of an unfinished course of life; with a rose bush limb, from which five of its flowers and buds have been broken off, leaving five roses on the principal stem; betokening the number of the social circle alive and deceased.

LEVI THAXTER. LOT 406, LINDEN PATH.

God is love.

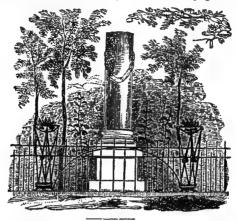

No bitter tears for thee be shed, Blossom of being! dead and gone! With flowers alone we strew thy bed, O blest departed one! When all of life, a rosy ray Blushed into dawn, and passed away. Thou wer't so like a form of light,
That Heaven benignly called thee hence,
Ere yet the world could breathe one blight
O'er thy sweet innocence:
And thou, that bright home to bless,
Hast passed with all thy loveliness.

DR. JACOB BIGELOW. LOT 110, BEECH AVENUE.

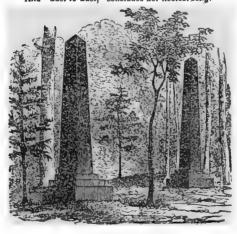

"How sleep the brave who sink to rest,]
By all their country's wishes blest?
When Spring, with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to deck their hallow'd mould.
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than fancy's feet have ever trod."

"By fairy hands their knell is rung, By forms unseen their dirge is sung; There honor comes, a pilgrim gray, To bless the turf that wraps their clay, And Freedom shall awhile repair. To dwell a weeping hermit there!

STONE AND STEVENS. LOT ON BEECH AVENUE,

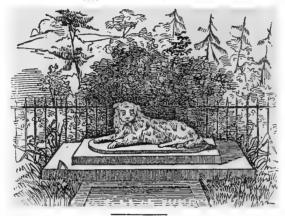

"We see the circling hunt of noisy men
Burst law's enclosure, leap the mounds of right,
Pursuing and pursued, each other's prey,
As wolves for rapine, as the fox for wiles,
Till Death, that mighty hunter earth's them all.
Why all this toil for triumphs of an hour?
What though we wade in wealth, or soar in fame?
Earth's brightest station ends in "HERE HE LIES;"
And "dust to dust," concludes her noblest song."

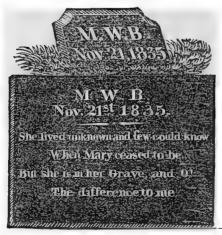

THE NEWFOUNDLAND WATCH DOG,

On Lot No. 108, on Central Avenue, belonging to Mr. Thomas H. Perkins, Jr. is much admired;—and as history makes record of so many acts of fidelity, watchfulness and sagacity of the Dog, it is here considered appropriate to place him, as an apparent guard to the remains of the family who were his friends;—it was beautifully sculptured in Italy from the purest Italian marble.

"O Contemplation! I do love
To indulge thy grateful musings: Why along
The dusty track of commerce should I toil,
When with an easy competence, content,
I can alone be happy, — and loose the wings of Fancy?
And to be happy here, is man's chief end;
And to be happy, he must fain be good!"

SLAB AT THE NORTHEAST PART OF THE PUBLIC LOT; ON CYPRESS AVENUE,

REV FREDERICK T. GRAY: LOT 1843.

Is a lowly, neat monument of a Bible opened, encircled with a branch of Olive, resting on an inclined slab, supported by a marble base.

'How beautiful on all the hills
The crimson light is shed!
'Tis like the peace the Christian gives
To mourners round his bed.

How mildly on the wandering cloud The sunset beam is cast! 'Tis like the memory left behind When loved ones breathe their last," "And now, above the dews of night,
The yellow star appears;
So faith springs in the heart of those Whose eyes are bathed in tears.

But soon the morning's happier light Its glory shall restore, And eyelids that are sealed in death. Shall wake to close no more."

JESSE PUTNAM. LOT 473, BEACH AVENUE.

"T is night, and the landscape is lovely no more:
I mourn, but, ye woodlands, I mourn not for you;
For morn is approaching, your charms to restore,
Perfumed with fresh fragrance, and glittering with dew;
And durkness and doubt are now flying away,
No longer I roam in conjecture forlorn;
So breaks on the traveler, faint, weary, astray,
The bright and balmy effulgence of morn.
See Truth, Love and Mercy, in triumph descending,
And nature all glowing in Eden's first bloom!
On the cold cheek of Death smiles and roses are blending,
And beauty immortal awakes from the tomb."

PAITH AND THE CROSS. MARIA LOUISA FORD.

"Farewell my best beloved! whose heavenly mind,
Genius with virue, strength with softness joined;
Devotion, undebased by pride or art,
With much simplicity, and joy of heart:
Tho' sprightly, gentle, though polite, sincere;
And only of thyself a judge severe;
Thou was't beyond what verse or speech can tell
My guide, my friend, my best beloved, farewell!"

QUOTATIONS OF HUMOR, WIT, AND WISDOM.

A volume of 300 pages, with this title, has just been issued by Nathaniel Dearborn; embelished with 10 engravings on wood: about one quarter of the work is original, and the Quotations were carefully examined and prepared, for the correct taste of those who enjoy a little pure, rational, whity sport. Price 50 cents, bound in cloth, gift.

1774, Dec. 19. Cheering information was received from Portsmouth, N. U. that a body of their people and attacked the Port at New Castie, on the 15th of December, scaled its walls, disarmed the commander and his men, and taken of 97 barrels of powder, 60 stands of muskets, and 16 pieces of cannon, and conveyed the whole to a safe retreat in the country. This acquire tout made a granifying offset to the loss at Cambridge. The Governor of N. H. Covery proclaimed the act to be "open hostility and direct oppugnation to this Majesty's Government." - Dearborn's Boston Notion:

NATHANIEL

ENGRAVER & PRINTER, 104 WARRINGTON DIFFERENCE

Has lately issued a pocket volume of 450 pages, entitled "Boston Notions," being an authentic and concise account of "THAT VILLAGE," from 1630 to 1848; containing 53 plates,—Maps, Miniatures, Wood Cuts, &c.

This work is highly appreciated by antiquarians and modern book worm gormandizers; among numerous other curiosities, it contains an account of all the inhabitants of Boston from 1630 to 1656; a list of the inhabitants for 1695, and a reprint of the first Directory for Boston, of 1789: numerous primitive laws: the trials for Heresy, Witchery, treatment of Quakers, Episcopalians, and Baptists; a history of all the churches, with a record of all the ministers, to 1848. The volume is bound in morocco and sold at $1.50.

The Morning Post of May 2d, 1849, says "This thick little book contains more, it appears to us, than any one volume extant, excepting perhaps Webster's large Dictionary; the literary part of the work is written in a peculiar and original style, which cannot fail to please. In this age, when every body publishes his lucubrations, it is no easy matter to produce any thing which shall be both "new and true;" but we believe Mr. Dearborn has fully succeeded in giving to the world something both unique and valuable."

From Hon. James Savage, LL. D. Author of Winthrop Journal, &c. Mr. Nathaniel Dearborn.

Dear Sir—You have laid our native city under great obligation, by printing your "Boston Notions." The title, however, is not descriptive of its scope or merits: whoever looks over the copious Index will be directed to very many points of our peninsula, which he never visited, and must indeed, be a geographer of extraordinary accuracy, if he ever heard of all of them before. Every day in the year he may take up the work and near the end of December, still find something new.

But it is not merely novelty, with which the reader of your book shall be gratified. There is much, very much, of exact information, derived from assiduous research in places inaccessible to most people. Even the errors will have the advantage of driving some explorers to unusual fields of investigation, for the pleasure of exposing the small number of them. More than the cost of the whole volume is well laid out for the knowledge of the curious census, in either of the places between pages 42 and 65, and page 270 to 277, respectively one hundred and fifty, and two hundred years back. No other city in the world, I presume, can show lists of so distant times, with such approach to perfection.

With great regard, I am Sir, your much obliged fellow worker,
Temple Place, 22 Nov., 1848.

ODE ON

MOUNT AUBURN CHAPEL AND CEMETERY,

By Nathaniel Dearborn.

This mystic Fane in Auburn's sculptured grounds, Prefers to Heaven the griefs and suppliant sounds, In aid of our infirmity;

The chastened heart to save, the mourner cheer, The message-promise from Jehovah hear

Of bliss through an eternity;

And here the bosomed relic of a friend, Returns to what it was, and is, an end

To re-produce frail, dying man;

The soul is called to Jesus' heavenly shrine, Beatic essence of the mind divine,

Communing with the GREAT I AM.

MOUNT AUBURN CEMETERY, CAMBRIDGE.

4 1-2 miles west from Boston - 1 1-4 miles west of Harvard University.

This spot of land was formerly called STONE'S WOODS: its uncommonly gorgeous and beautifully varied scenery; its full grown umbrageous. trees of many tribes, alluring numbers to its silent and peaceful shades, its name was changed by common consent to that of "SWEET AUBURN;" Under this appropriate appellation, it became more eminently a favorite grove for the lovers of nature, to enjoy the pleasing and healthy color and balmy atmosphere of green trees, shrubbery, grassy hills, solitary grottos, yet enlivened with music from the feathered songsters throughout this best elysium of nature's work.

The original lot comprised an area of 72 acres; but by an after purchase of 38½ acres, it now measures 110½ in all: the whole obtained at a cost of $9,766.89: The Trustees of Mount Auburn Cemetry contemplate adding about 100 acres of adjoining land to the present grounds of that cemetery, during the present season. The "HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY OF MASSACHUSETTS" were nobly impressed with the importance of an extensive rural cemetery for the burial of the dead, and after the above named purchases by them, they transferred the whole grounds to a society of gentlemen, who had labored for the accomplishment of this object, ever since the year 1825, for the sum of $4,222,42; thus making a generous gift of $5,544,47.

This latter society was Incorporateu, as "THE PROPRIETORS OF MOUNT AUDURN CEMETERY," June 23, 1831, and the ground consecrated on the 24th of Sept., in that year: the first meeting for agitating this subject, was held in 1825, at the house of Dr. Jacob Bigelow, the present President of the society; with the aid of the late George Bond, Wm. Sturgis, the late Hon. John Lowell, the late Samuel P. Gardiner, Thomas W. Ward, Nathan Hale, and John Tappan; who realized their fondest hopes in founding the FIRST, by date; the most enobling, and most beautiful garden cemetery in this extensive country; to become in time a paradise of sculptuary; of monuments and mausoleums, interspersed amid nature's lovliest productions; the capaciousness of the ground will permit 20,000 lots of 300 superficial square feet, each of which is offered at 100 dollars if purchased from any of those surveyed and located for the sale list; but if a lot be preferred in any part of the grounds not thus prepared, an additional sum will be required, say 10 dollars or more; around these lots the Avenues for carriages, 20 feet wide, and Paths for pedestrians, 6 feet wide, are laid out circuitously, to an extent, if measured in one straight line, would span a distance of 30 miles; about 1800 Lots have been disposed of, and about 350 Monuments, Shafts, Cenotaphs, Obelisks, and Slabs, have been raised to hallow and adorn the spot. received from the sale of Lots or from any other source, is expended in ornamenting and improving this Garden Cemetery. During the two first years of its consecration, upwards of 30,000 dollars were expended in grading the roads, building a house, &c. for the Superintendent, fencing, &c. The front entrance Gate from Cambridge road, is a design from an Egyptian model, and is masterly chiseled in Granite, at a cost of about $10,000; and the cast iron picketed fence on that whole front line was erected at a cost of about $15,000 :- a splendid Chapel was completed within its grounds in 1848, at a cost of about $25,000. The highest mound in the Cemetery is called Mt. Auburn, and is 125 feet above Charles River, which meanders by the grounds on its southern border: "It is proposed to erect on this summit a Tower; after some classic model, of sufficient height to be seen above the surrounding trees, to subserve the triple purpose of a landmark,-to identify the spot, and for an Observatory, commanding an uninterrupted view of the surrounding landscape" of cities, towns, hills, farms, rivers, Massachusetts Bay, with its many Islands and shipping; the lantern or cupola of this Tower, to be at least 185 feet above the river Charles.

MR. RUFUS HOWE,

The Superintendent of Mount Auburn, resides within its borders; and conducts the affairs of the internal management of the Cemetery, in a very eminently judicious manner: any one applying to him for information concerning the lots on sale, for burials, or any other item appertain-

ing to those grounds, will receive every polite attention; a direct application to him is therefore most advisable, to save trouble and time.

By a reference to the Map of Mt. Auburn, which is on the last page of this pamphlet, the Avenues and Paths exhibit an universal curvature; their lines are "not straight, but crooked;" and if one is not familiar with their windings, a visit there may be attended with much fatigue and exhaustion; and that too, without the compensating gratification of seeing the beautiful and grand mementos of the living to the dead: to aid the visitor to thread this mazy labyrinth, with a tolerable understanding, attended too with a satisfactory result, a direct guide through MOUNT AUBURN, pausing at the various clusters of Monuments and Shafts, by the most convenient route, is to be found on page 10; the SIXTY-FOUR engraved representations of them, are placed in the same progressive rotation; so, that, as one advances in the circuit laid down, by the printed guide, the monuments, engraved, will be met with in their designated accompanying position:-thus; the Sarcophagus of the late Dr. Spurzheim is the first one approached, and that is the first engraving and the first one named in the printed Guide: the monument of Story, being nearly the last one on passing through the Cemetery, by the printed Guide, the engraving of it is placed last in this work.

The order of the consecration of Mount Auburn, was an address from the late Hon. Judge Story, who was then President of the Institution; prayers from Dr. Ware and Rev. John Pierpont, with the following impressive hymn from the pen of the latter.

HYMN.

To thee, O God, in humble trust, Our hearts their cheerful incense burn, For this thy word, "Thou art of dust," And unto dust shalt thou return.

And what were life, life's work all done,
The hopes, joys, loves, that cling to clay,
All, all, departed, one by one,
And yet life's load borne on for aye!

Decay! decay! 'tis stamped on all, All bloom in flower and flesh shall fade, Ye whispering trees when ye shall fall, Be our long sleep beneath your shade!

Here to thy bosom mother earth,
Take back in peace what thou hast given
And all that is of heavenly birth,
O God, in peace, recall to heaven.

HYMN.

Home of the coming dend! The spot whereon we tread Is hallowed ground:
Here earth, in sacred trust, Shall hold their sleeping dust, Until her bonds they burst, And rise unbound.

Here shall the weary rest, And souls, with woes oppress'd, No more shall weep: And youth and age shall come, And beauty in her bloom, And Manhood, to the tomb; Sweat be their sleep! Around their lowly bed
Shall flowers their fragrance shed,
And birds shall sing:
On every verdant mound
Love's offering shall be found,
And sighing trees around
Their shadows fling.

And there's a holier light!
Hope, with her taper bright,
On every tomb,
Points upward to the sky;
There every tear is dry;
There is no mourner's sigh,
Nor death, nor gloom.

The Secretary will issue to the PROPRIETORS each one Ticket of Admission into the Cemetery with a vehicle; the loan of the Ticket involves a forfeiture of this privilege. In case of a loss of the Ticket, the Proprietor is requested to apply to the Secretary, from whom a new one can be obtained. This is necessary, as the Gatekeeper's orders are to admit no proprietor without a ticket.

Any person who has a relative interred in the Public Lot at the Cemetery, may, on application to any Trustee or to the Secretary, receive a special pass into the Cemetery on Sundays.

Repairs of Monuments and Lots. Any owner of a Lot wishing to have it kept in perpetual repair, by depositing funds with the Trustees for that purpose, will receive from them a Deed of Trust for the funds and assume the duties and responsibilities. The interest on 300 dollars will perpetually keep in repair a lot of 300 feet, with its monument, shrubbery and soil; the interest on 500 dollars is required for a similar sized lot if with a Tomb; if 100 dollars are deposited, its interest money will be expended for repairs as far as that will accomplish the purpose.

SUBJECT BY THE DEED OF THE CORPORATION, TO WIT:

First. The proprietor of the lot shall have a right to enclose the same with a wall or fence not exceeding one foot in thickness, which may be placed on the adjoining land of the Corporation exterior to the said lot.

Second. The said lot shall not be used for any other purpose than as a place of burial for the dead; and no trees within the lot or border shall be cut down or destroyed, without the consent of the Trustees of the said Corporation.

Third. The proprietor of the said lot shall have the right to erect stones, monuments, or sepulchral structures, and to cultivate trees, shrubs and plants in the same.

Fourth. The proprietor of the said lot shall erect, at his or her own expense, suitable land marks of stone or iron, at the corners thereof, and shall also cause the number thereof to be legibly and permanently marked on the premises. And if the proprietor shall omit for thirty days after notice, to erect such land marks and mark the number, the Trustees shall have authority to cause the same to be done at the expense of said proprietor.

Fifth. If the land marks and boundaries of the said lot shall be effaced, so that the said lot cannot with reasonable diligence be found and identified, the said Trustees shall set off to the said grantee, his or her heirs or assigns, a lot in lieu thereof, in such part of the cemetery, as they see fit, and the lot hereby granted shall in such case revert to the Corporation.

Sixth. If any trees or shrubs situated in said lot, shall by means of their roots, branches, or otherwise, become detrimental to the adjacent lots or avenues, or dangerous or inconvenient to passengers, it shall be the duty of the said Trustees for the time being, and they shall have the right, to enter into the said lot, and remove the said trees and shrubs, or such parts thereof as are thus detrimental, dangerous or inconvenient.

Seventh. If any monument or effigy, or any structure whatever, or any inscription be placed in or upon the said lot, which shall be determined by the major part of the said Trustees for the time being, to be offensive or improper, the said Trustees, or the major part of them, shall have the right, and it shall be their duty to enter upon said lot, and remove the said offensive or improper object or objects.

Eighth. No fence shall at any time be placed or erected in or around any lot, the materials and design of which shall not first have been approved by the trustees or a committee of them.

Ninth. No tomb shall be constructed within the bounds of the Cemetery except in or upon lots situated in such parts of the grounds as shall be designated by the Trustees for that purpose; and no proprietor shall suffer the remains of any person to be deposited in a tomb so authorized, for hire.

Tenth. The said lot shall be holden subject to the provisions contained in an act of the General Court, dated March 31, 1835, and entitled, "An Act to incorporate the Proprietors of the Cemetery of Mount Auburn."

Note.—The society request that all railings or inclosures of lots may be light, neat and symmetrical,—that all stones erected in memory of the dead may be marble or granite,—and that no slabs be placed in the Cemetery. Fences composed in whole or in part of wood are prohibited.

"There's beauty all around our paths, if but our watchful eyes
Can trace it midst familiar things, and through their lowly guise;
We may find it where a hedgerow showers its blossoms o'er our way
Or a cottage-window sparkles forth in the last red light of day.
Yes! beauty dwells in all our paths — but sorrow too is there;
How oft some cloud within us dims the bright, still summer air!
When we carry our sick hearts abroad amidst the joyous things
That through the leafy places glance, on many colored wings.
With shadows from the past, we fill the happy woodland shades,
And a mournful memory of the dead is with us in the glades;
And our dream-like fancies lend the wind an echo's plaintive tone,
Of voices, and of melodies, and of silvery laughter gone.
They hold us from the woodlark's haunts, and the violet-dingles back,
And from the lovely sounds and gleams in the shining river's track;
They bar us from our heritage of spring-time hope and mirth,
And weigh our burdened spirits down with the cumbering dust of earth."

GASPER SPURZHEIM, BORN

This eminent and talented lecturer in the cause of science and humanity, was born on the banks of the Moselle, at Longvich; was educated at the college of Treves, and destined for the church; but the war with France, in 1797, dispersed the students, when Spurzheim went to Vienna, a pupil to Dr. Gall, and became his partner: they commenced their lectures on Phrenology, in 1804: the next year they were in Germany, teaching the science to academic Professors: in 1807, and till 1813, in Paris: in 1814, Dr. S. visited England and Scotland; he tarried there three years; then returned to Paris, and espoused an accomplished lady: in 1832 he visited this country, landed at New York, and died in Boston, Nov. 10, 1832.

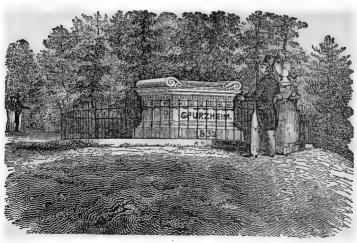

The most expressive tokens of regard and respect, and of mournful regret, were shown at his decease, by the government of the University at Cambridge, and an Eulogy pronounced by Dr. Follen; the following Ode by Rev. John Pierpont, was written for the occasion.

Stranger, there is bending o'er thee Many an eye with sorrow weet:
All our stricken hearts deplore thee Who, that knew thee, can forget?
Who forget what thou hast spoken?
Who, thine eye,—thy noble frame?
But that golden bowl is broken,
In the greatness of thy fame.

Autumn's leaves shall fall and wither,
On the spot where thou shall rest;
'Tis in love we bear thee thither,
To thy mourning mother's breast:
For the stores of science brought us,
For the charm thy goodness gave;
For the lessons thou hast taught us,
Can we give thee but a grave?

Mature's priest, how pure and fervent Was thy worship at her shrine! Friend of man,—of God the servant, Advocate of truth divine,—Taught and charmed as by no other, We have been and hope to be; But while waiting round thee, brother, For thy light,—'tis dark with thee!—

Dark with thee! no; thy Creator,
All whose creatures and whose laws
Thou did'st love,—shall give thee greater
Light than earth's, as earth withdraws.
To thy God, thy godlike spirit
Back we give in filial trust;
Thy cold clay—we grieve to bear it
To its chamber—but we must.

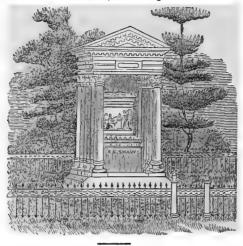

The Bowditch Statue is placed about midway on Central Avenue, at the junction of Central and Chapel Avenues: the figure is of a Metalic composition (whose weight is about 2500.) representing that supreme Mathematician in a contemplative, studious, sitting attitude; with his volume of "MECANIQUE CELESTE," on which he rests his right arm, as if it were fully sufficient for the support of a more important part: that of mind, talent, industry and character; and beside him is a tome from his mathematical energies, of equally important contents:-that of his "AMERICAN NAVIGATOR," whereby most of the ships and floating craft on the broad expanse of ocean, which covers 3-5ths of the earth, are guided and directed safely to their destined port, if the elements of nature permit:—and next to that, is the Globe over which he traversed as a navigator many years; and which furnished his gigantic mind with the only basis for his immortal productions, and caused him to out-reach every one of his age in the abstruse yet sublime study of mathematics; to become President of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and to be invested with the collegiate degree of Doctor of Laws ;-and yet, he set out in life with a common school education, and was brought up as a sailor boy from the port of Salem, Mass.; he removed to Boston in 1823, and died at the age of 65 years.

> "I've lost a day!" The Prince who nobly cried, Had been an Emperor without his crown. So should all speak; so reason speaks to all; Time, the supreme! Time is Eternity; Pregnant with all eternity can give ! Who murders time, but crushes in the bud A power etherial, only not adored."

ROBERT G. SHAW. LOT 85. PINE AVENUE.

"Be wise to-day; 'tis madness to defer;
Next day the fatal precedent will plead:
Thus on, till wisdom is push'd out of life.
Procrastination is the thief of time;
Year after year it steals, till all are fled,
And to the mercies of a noment leaves
The vast concerns of an eternal scene.
If not so frequent, would not this be strange?
That 'tis so frequent, this is stranger still.'

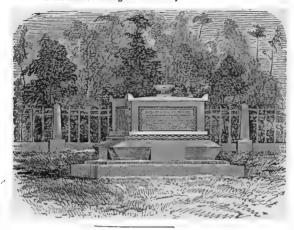

RICHARD HAUGHTON. LOT 777. PINE AVENUE.

"Ah! how unjust to Nature and himself
Is thoughtless, thankless, inconsistent man!
Like children babbling nonsense in their sports,
We censure Nature for a span too short;
That span too short, we tax as tedious too;
Torture invention, all expedients tire,
To lash the lingering moments into speed,
And whirl us (happy riddance) from ourselves."

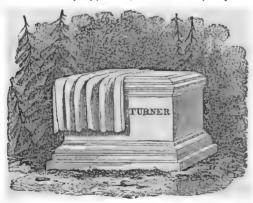

REV. WILLIAM ELLERY CHANNING, D.D. GREEN BRIER PATH.

"The sage, peer, potentate, king, conqueror? Death humbles these; more barbarous Life the man! Life is the triumph of our mouldering clay: Death is the spirit infinite! divine! Death has no dread but what frail Life imparts, Nor Life true joy but what kind death improves. No bliss has life to beast. till Death can give Far greater. Life's a debtor to the grave: Dark lattice! letting in eternal day."

ELISHA TURNER. LOT 714. YARROW PATH,

"O ye, whose hours in jocund train advance, O, ye, while Fate delays th' impending wee, Whose spirits to the song of gladness dance, Be roused to thought,—anticipate the blow; Whose flowery plains in endless pomp survey, Lest like the lightning's glance, the sudden ill Glittering in beams of visionary day; Flash to confound, and penetrate to kill."

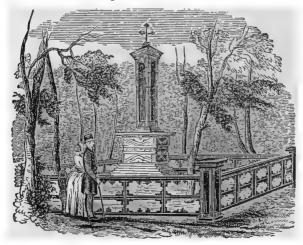

LOT 681. DEXTER'S SCULPTURE OF EMILY, ON YARROW PATH.

"Beware what earth calls happiness; beware All joys but joys that never can expire. Who builds on less than an immortal base, Fond as he seems, condemns his joys to death."

JOHN H. GOSSLER. LOT 1129, YARROW PATH.

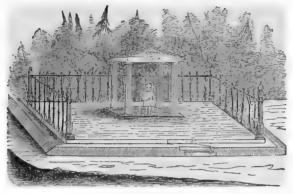

"Alas! how vain
The wreath that Fame would bind around our tomb—
The winds shall waste it, and the worms destroy;
The fickle praise of far posterity,
Come, weigh it at the grave's brink, here with me,
If thou cans't weigh a dream."

8. GARDNER'S LOT. MON. OF A LITTLE GIRL, BY DEXTER.

Death found strange beauty on that polished brow, And dashed it out. There was a tint of rose On cheek and lip. He touched the veins with ice And the rose faded. Forth from those blue eyes There spake a wishful tenderness, a doubt Whether to grieve or sleep, which innocence Alone may wear. With ruthless haste he bound The silken fringes of those curtained lids Forever. But there beamed a smile, So fixed, so holy, from that cherub brow, Death gazed, and left it there. He durst not steal The signet-ring of Heaven.

MRS. L. H. SIGOURNEY.

WM. APPLETON. LOT 920. HELIOTROPE PATH.

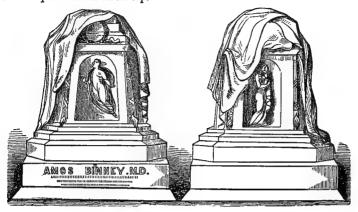

"If time past

And time possess'd both pain us, what can please? That which the Deity to please ordain'd. Time used. The man who consecrates his hours By vigorous effort and an honest aim, At once he draws the sting of life and death; He walks with Nature, and her paths are peace."

AMOS BINNEY, M. D. HEATH PATH, LOT 1390.

Died at Rome, Feb. 18, 1847, aged 41 years, and two smaller, but beautiful monuments, inscribed to father—mother, the latter with a rich boquet wreath on its top.

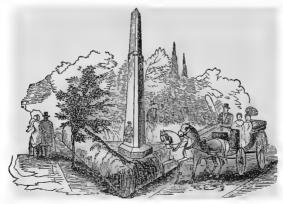

REV. CHARLES T. TORREY. JUNCTION OF FIR AND SPRUCE AV.

Copied from the monument.

Born at Scituate, Nov. 21, 1813; graduated at Yale College, August 1833; ordained at Providence, March, 1837; arrested at Baltimore, June 24, 1844; died in the Penitentiary of that city, May 9, 1846.

Charles Turner Torrey was arrested for aiding slaves to regain their liberty. For this humane act he was indicted as a criminal, convicted by the Baltimore city court, and sentenced to the Penitentiary for six years. While on his death bed, he was refused a pardon by the Governor of Maryland and died of consumption, after two years confinement, a victim of his sufferings.

Where now beneath his burthen, The toiling slave is driven, Where now a tyrant's mockery Is offered up to heaven, There shall his praise be spoken, Redeemed from falsehood's ban, When the fetters shall be broken, And the slave shall be a man.

LITTLE FRANKIE, B. O. WELLINGTON'S LOT 971. ELDER PATH.

One little bud adorned my bower, And shed sweet fragrance round; It grew in beauty, hour by hour, Till, ah! the spoiler came in power, And crushed it to the ground. Yet not forever in the dust
That beauteous bud shall lie;
No!—in the garden of the just,
Beneath God's glorious eye, I trust,
'Twill bloom again on high. c. s.

JACOB FOSS. LOT 719. SNOWDROP PATH.

ON ITS FRONT,

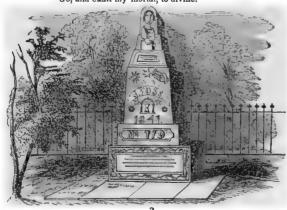

Make us eternal truth's receive, And practice all that we believe.

For modes of Faith, let graceless zealots fight, His can't be wrong, whose life is in the right.

ON THE EASTERN SIDE, God is Love.

Sacred to the memory of Mehitable H., wife of Jacob Foss, who departed this life April 10, 1846, aged 54 years.

Go, live! for Heaven's eternal year is thine, Go, and exalt thy mortal, to divine.

ZACHARIAH HICKS. LOT 168, WALNUT AVENUE.

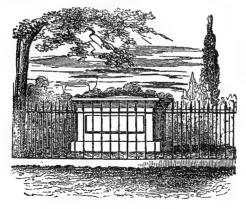

"I saw an aged man upon his bier:
His hair was thin and white, and on his brow
A record of the cares of many a year;—
Cares that were ended and forgotten now:
And there was sadness round, and faces bowed,
And women's tears fell fast, and children wailed aloud.'

HENRY ANDREWS. LOT 939. AMARANTH PATH.

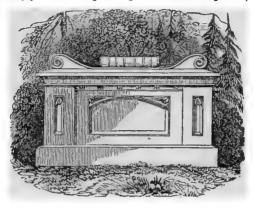

" Not lost, but gone before."

"For scarce upon our infant eyes,
The sprinkled dew of baptism dries,
E'er the thick frost of manhood's care.
And death's strong icy seal is there."

JOHN THORNTON KIRKLAND, LL. D. HARVARD HILL.

John Thornton Kirkland was President of Harvard University, from 1810, to 1828; which was a prosperous era for that institution: it was crowded with students, but his generosity kept him pennyless during the whole term: he loved his mother; in his memorandum book, he wrote, "one misfortune befel me in my junior year, which this world can never repair; my mother, on 23d Jan. 1788, died: the highest pleasure I could ever enjoy was that of pleasing her." he died April 26, 1840, Æ 69.

JOHN HOOKER ASHMUN. HARVARD HILL, COLLEGE LOT. Deceased April 1st, 1833, aged 33 years.

'Instructive emblem of this mortal state!
Where scenes as various every hour arise
In swift succession, which the hand of Fate
Presents, then whirls them from our wandering eyes.

Be taught, vain man, how fleeting all thy joys, Thy boasted grandeur and thy glittering store: Death comes and all thy fancied bliss destroys, Quick as a dream it fades and is no more.

Through earth's thronged visions while we toss forlorn, 'Tis tumult all, and rage, and restless strife, But these shall vanish like the dreams of morn When death awakes us to immortal life.''

MONUMENT TO HOFFMAN. COLLEGE LOT.

"In memory of a beloved and only son, Frederick William, son of David and Mary Hoffman, of Baltimore, Maryland. Accompanied by his parents for Italy, he died at Lyons, France, on the 30th of November, 1833, aged 17 years."

"How mortals dream of things impossible, Of joys perpetual, in perpetual change! Where now my frenzy's pompous furniture? The cobweb'd cottage, and its ragged wall Of mouldering mud, is royalty to me; The spider's most attenuated thread Is cord, is cable to man's tender tie On earthly bliss: it breaks at every breeze."

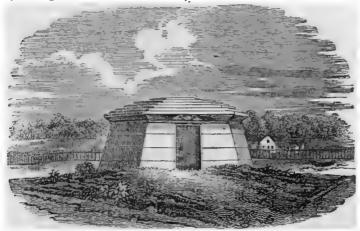

GEORGE W. COFFIN. LOT 35, CHESTNUT AVENUE.

"Wisdom though richer than Peruvian mines, And sweeter than the sweet ambrosial hive, What is she but the means of happiness? That unobtain'd, than Folly more a fool; A melancholy fool, without her bells. Friendship, the means of wisdom, richly gives The precious end, which makes our wisdom wise."

STRANGERS TOMB. LOT 324, CHESTNUT AVENUE.

Owned by the Proprietors of the Tremont House, Boston; built in 1833, of a pentagonal form, one side being occupied by the descending entrance steps, and on each of the other four sides, are three rows of horizontal cells, having three cells each, making 36 in all: if the remains are permanently deposited, the cell is closed with a marble tablet, bearing the name of the deceased, &c.

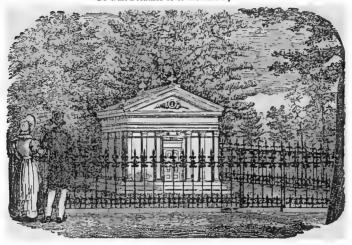

CHARLES T. HILDRETH. LOT 291, JASMINE PATH.

"We frail and blind, to whom our own dark moon, With its few phases is a mystery! Back to the dust, most arrogant! Be still! Deep silence is thy wisdom! Boast no more! But let thy life be one long sigh of prayer, An hymn of praise, till from thy broken clay, At its last gasp, the unquenched spirit rise, And unforgotten, 'mid unnumbered worlds, Ascend to Hins, from whom its essence came.'

SAMUEL APPLETON.

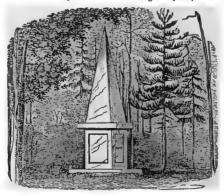

"Is it in the flight of human years
To push eternity from living thought,
And smother souls immortal in the dust? —
A soul immortal, spending all her fires,
Wasting her strength in busied idleness,
Thrown into tumult, raptured or alarmed
At aught this scene can threaten or indulge,—
Resembles ocean into tempest wrought,
To waft a feather or to drown a fly."

Z. B. ADAMS. LOT 455, ROSEMARY PATH.

"And is this all—this mournful doom? Beams no glad light beyond the tomb? Mark how you clouds in darkness ride; They do not quench the orb they hide; Still there it wheels—the tempest o'er

In a bright sky to burn once more; So, far above the clouds of time, Faith can behold a world sublime— There when the storms of life are past, The light beyond, shall break at last."

STANTON, BLAKE AND HALLET, JUNCTION OF IVY AND ASTER PATHS, LOT 407.

"The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power, And all that beauty, all that weath e'er'gave, Await alike th' inevitable hour:—
And paths of glory lead but to the grave.
Can storied urn or animated bust
Back to its mansion call the fleeting 'hrenth?
Can Honor's voice provoke the silent dust,
Or Flattery soothe the dull cold ear of death?"

FREDERICK P. LEVERETT. LOT 54, VINE PATH.

His hope we trust was in Christ.

"The distinguished reputation of a scholar, the exalted integrity of a man, the noble qualities which grace a husband, father, son, brother, friend, as they were his, won the praise and love of every heart: so are they his just memorial.

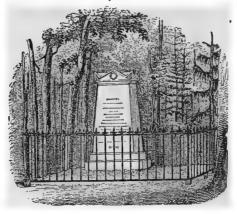

WM. A. STEARNS, LOT 646, MOSS PATH, MON. TO SAM'L H. STEARNS.

"Ay, freely hath the tear been given—and freely hath gone forth
The sigh of grief, that one like thee should pass away from earth;
But those who mourn thee, mourn thee not like those to whom is given
No soothing hope, no blissful thoughts of parted friends in Heaven:
They feel that thou wast summoned to the Christian's high reward,—
The everlasting joys of those whose trust is in the Lord."

HANNAH ADAMS. LOT 180, CENTRAL SQUARE. Historian of the Jews, &c. Deceased, Dec. 15, 1831, Aged 76, the first burial in Mt. Auburn.

"Hear, ye fair daughters of this happy land!
Whose radient eyes the vanquished world command,
Virtue is beauty; but when charms of mind
With elegance of outward form are joined;
When youth makes such bright objects still more bright,
And fortune sets them in the strongest light,
'Tis all of heaven that we below may view
And all but adoration is your due."

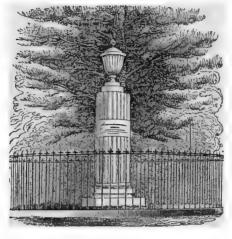

REV. JOHN MURRAY. LOT 587, MOSS PATH.

"The Soul!-the Soul! with its eye of fire, Thus, thus shall it soar when its foes expire;

It shall spread its wings o'er the ills that pained

The evils that shadowed, the sins that stained,
It shall dwell where no rushing cloud hath sway
And the pageants of earth shall have melted away.

WARREN COLBURN, DIED 1833. & 40 YEARS. LOT 429, LOCUST AVENUE.

Cherished in classic lore! Though short thy date!

"Virtue, not rolling suns, the mind matures. That life is long which answers life's great end. The time that bears no fruit, deserves no name :

The man of wisdom is the man of years:
In hoary youth Methusalems may die
Then how misdated on some flattering tombs!

CHARLES CHOATE.

"Faith builds a bridge from this world to the next, O'er Death's dark gulf, and all its horrors hides: Praise, the sweet exhalation of our joy, That joy exalts, and makes it sweeter still: Prayer ardent, opens Heaven, lets down a stream Of glory on the consecrated hour Of man in audience with the Deity? Who worships the great God, that instant joins The first in Heaven."

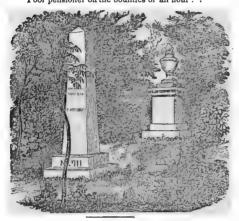

HENRY BLAKE MC CLELLAN. DECEASED 1833, 22. LOT 123, POPLAR AVENUE.

"We lately mused beside thy peaceful grave,
In Auburn's sweet and consecrated shades;
'Twas Autumn, and a mellow sunset cast
Its golden smile through variegated woods,.
And silence waved her tranquillizing wing.
There rose the beech-tree in its dying pomp,
The maple and the sumac clad in gold,
The sycamore in princely garments drest,
And the pale silvery birch, kissed by the glowing west."

ISAAC WILLIAMS. LOT 142, WILLOW AVENUE.

"The bell strikes one. We take no note of time
But from its loss: to give it then a tongue
Is wise in man.— If heard aright,
It is the knell of our departed hours,
Where are they? With the years beyond the flood;
It is the signal that demands despatch:
How much is to be done! my hopes and fears
Look down—on what? A fathomless abyss.
A dread eternity! how surely mine!
And can eternity belong to me,
Poor pensjoner on the bounties of an hour??

EDWIN BUCKINGHAM, DIED 1833, 22. YEARS. LOT 134. WILLOW AVENUE.

"Rest, Loved One, rest—beneath the billow's swell, Where tongue ne'er spoke, where sunlight never fell; Rest—illi the God who gave thee to the deep, Rouse thee, triumphant, from the long, long sleep. And you, whose hearts are bleeding, who deplore That ye must see your Edwin's face no nore, Weep—he was worthy of the purest grief; Weep—in such sorrow ye shall find relief; While o'er his doom, the bitter tear ye shed, Memory shall trace the virtues of the dead; These cannot die! for you, for him, they bloom, And scatter fragrance round his ocean-tomb."

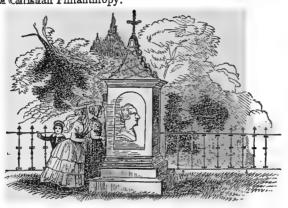

REV. JOSEPH TUCKERMAN. LOT 222, OAK AVENUE. Copied from the monument.

"For twenty-five years a faithful minister of Jesus Christ in the village of Chelsea, and for fourteen years a devoted missionary to the suffering and neglected of the city of Boston. His best monument is the ministry at large; his appropriate title, the Friend of the poor."
3d compartment—"Born in Boston, Mass., Jan. 18, 1778; Died in Cuba, W. I., April 20, 1840."

4th side-"This monument is erected by friends to whom his memory is dear for the services he rendered, and the impulse he gave to the cause of Christian Philanthropy.

THOMAS WETMORE. LOT 581, ALDER PATH.

"O Contemplation! I do love To indulge thy grateful musings: Why along The dusty track of commerce should I toil, When with an easy competence, content, I can alone be happy, — and loose the wings of Fancy?
And to be happy here, is man's chief end;
And to be happy, he must fain be good!"

MON. TO SAVAGE, ON GARDNER GREENLEAF'S LOT NO. 74, ALDER PATH.

"The dead, the much-loved dead!
Who doth not yearn to know
The secret of their dwelling place,
And to what land they go?
What heart but asks with ceaseless tone
For some sure knowledge of its own?"

"Ye are not dead to us;
But as bright stars unseen,
We hold that ye are ever near,
Though death intrudes between,
Like some thin cloud, that veils from sight
The countless spangles of the night."

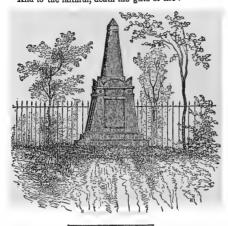

HON. JOSEPH STORY, LL. D. LOT 313, NARCISSUS PATH,

"Death! great proprietor of all! 'tis thine
To cast out empire, and to quench the stars;
The sun by thy permission, brilliant shines,
But one day thou shalt pluck him from his sphere,
And in this mighty plunder, was thy mark on me,
Insatiate archer! once could not suffice,
Thy shafts fiew thrice, and thrice my peace was slain."

JOHN W. WEBSTER. LOT 361, NARCISSUS PATH.

"Henceforth I learn, that to obey is best,
And love with fear the only God; to walk
As in his presence; ever to observe
His providence; and on him sole depend,
Merciful o'er all his works, with good
Still overcoming evil, and by small
Accomplishing great things by things deemed weak,
Subverting worldly strong, and worldly wise,
By simply meek; that suffering for truth's sake
Is fortitude to highest victory,
And to the faithful, death the gate of life!"

HENRY OXNARD. LOT 364. NARCISSUS PATH.

"Celestial Happiness! whene'er she stoops To visit Earth, one shrine the goddess finds, And one alone, to make her sweet amends For absent Heaven—the bosom of a friend; Where heart meets heart, reciprocally soft; Each other's pillow to repose divine."

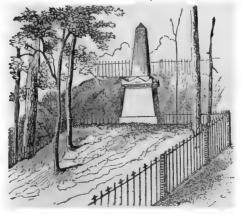

CLEMENT DURGIN. LOT 433. NARCISSUS PATH.

"Clement Durgin, Associate principal of Chauncy Hall School, Boston, born Sept. 29, 1802, died Sept. 30, 1833: a student and lover of nature, in her wonders, he saw and acknowledged and through them adored her benificent Author: his life was a beautiful illustration of his philosophy—his death, of the triumph of his faith: his pupils have reared this monument as an imperfect memorial of their great affection and respect."

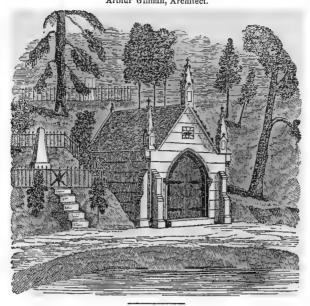

NATHANIEL FAXON. LOT 384 NARCISSUS PATH,

"There I placed
A frail memorial,—that when again
I should revisit it, the thought might come
Of the dull tide of life, and that pure spring
Which he who drinks of, never shall thirst more."

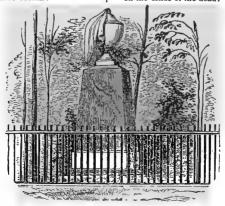

TOME OF WM. P. WINCHESTER. LOT 380, NARCISSUS PATH. Arthur Gilman, Architect.

MARTIN BRIMMER. LOT 394. INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

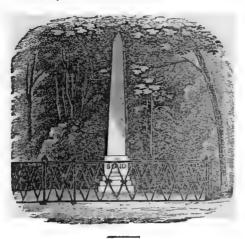

"The departed! the departed!
They visit us in dreams,
And they glide above our memories,
Like shadows over streams;
But where the cheerful lights of home
In constant lustre burn,
The departed! the departed!
Can never more return!

The good. the brave, the beautiful! How dreamless is their sleep, Where rolls the dirge-like music Of the ever-tossing deep:—Or where the hurrying night winds Pale winter robes have spread, Above the narrow palaces, In the cities of the dead!"

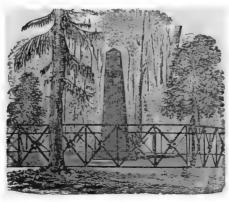

GEORGE BOND. LOT 156, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"Lost Friend, I shrink to say, so frail are we— So like the brief ephemeron that wheels Its momentary round, we scarce can weep Our own bereavements, ere we haste to share The clay with those we mourn."

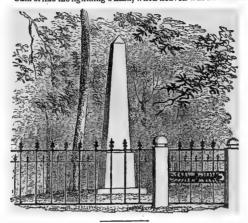

BENJAMIN SEAVER. LOT 158, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"I looked on manhood's towering form
Like some tall Oak when tempests blow,
That scorns the fury of the storm
And strongly strikes its roots below:
Again I looked—with idiot cower
His vacant eye's unmeaning ray,
Told how the mind of godlike power
Passeth away."

SAMUEL GREENLEAF. LOT 409, INDIAN RIDGE PAIH.

"Angel of death! did no presaging sign
Announce thy coming, and thy way prepare?
No warning voice, no harbinger was thine—
Danger and fear seemed past—but thou wer't there!
Prophetic sounds along the earthquake's path—
Foretel the hour of Nature's awful throes;
And the volcano, ere it bursts in wrath,
Sends forth some herald from its dread repose:
But thou dark Spirit! swift and unforeseen,
Cam'st like the lightning's flash, when heaven was all serene."

ENOCH PATTERSON. LOT 438, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

"For this mortal must put on immortality."

TO THE MEMORY OF DAVID PATTERSON.

"He sleeps beneath the blue lone sea, He lies where pearls the deep, He was the loved of all; yet none O'er his low bed may weep."

An infant son, born March 25, died March 9, 1837.

"Before the heart might learn In waywardness to stray, Before the foot could turn The dark and downward way;" "Shall love with weak embrace Thy heavenward flight detain? No! Angels seek thy place Among yon cherub-train."

NATHANIEL FRANCIS. LOT 333, INDIAN RIDGE PATH.

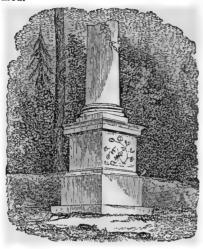

"For them no more the blazing hearth shall burn, Or busy housewife ply her evening care: No children run to lisp their sire's return, Or climb his knees the envied kiss to share. Full many a gem of purest ray serene, The dark unfathom'd caves of ocean bear; Full many a flower is born to blush unseen, And waste its sweetness on the desert air. Oh, who, to dumb forgetfulness a prey, This pleasing auxious being e'er resign'd,

Lest the warm precincts of the cheerful day,
Nor cast one longing, lingering look behind!"

JOHN TAPPAN'S MONUMENT. LOT 307.

At the junction of Linden and Narcissus Paths is a broken shaft, as an emblem of an unfinished course of life; with a rose bush limb, from which five of its flowers and buds have been broken off, leaving five roses on the principal stem; betokening the number of the social circle alive and deceased.

LEVI THAXTER. LOT 406, LINDEN PATH.

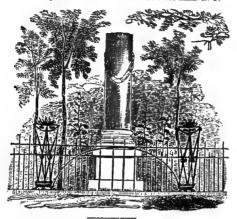

"No bitter tears for thee be shed,
Blossom of being! dead and gone!
With flowers alone we strew thy bed,
O blest departed one!
When all of life, a rosy ray
Blushed into dawn, and passed away."

"Thou wer't so like a form of light,
That Heaven benignly called thee hence,
Ere yet the world could breathe one blight
O'er thy sweet innocence:
And thou, that bright home to bless,
Hast passed with all thy loveliness."

DR. JACOB BIGELOW. LOT 116, BEECH AVENUE.

Joyous we move when health incites the veins, And genius floats in bright etherial strains! But when disease, the frame with paley stings, And the mind broods on lethal, hideous things, Excelsior head, the life-springs sagely scan, Makes pure the blood and renovates the man. N. D.

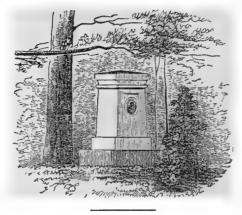

STONE AND STEVENS. LOT ON BEECH AVENUE.

"We see the circling hunt of noisy men
Burst law's enclosure, leap the mounds of right,
Pursuing and pursued, each other's prey,
As wolves for rapine, as the fox for wiles,
Till Death, that mighty hunter earth's them all.
Why all this toil for triumphs of an hour?
What though we wade in wealth, or soar in fame?
Earth's brightest station ends in "HERE HE LIES;,"
And "dust to dust," concludes her noblest song."

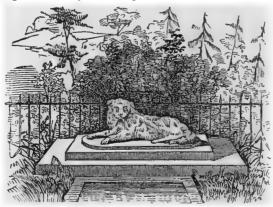

JESSE PUTNAM. LOT 473, BEACH AVENUE.

"'T is night, and the landscape is lovely no more:
I mourn, but, ye woodlands, I mourn not for you;
For morn is approaching, your charms to restore,
Perfumed with fresh fragrance, and glittering with dew;
And darkness and doubt are now flying away,
No longer I roam in conjecture forlorn;
So breaks on the traveler, faint, weary, astray,
The bright and balmy effulgence of morn.
See Truth, Love and Mercy, in triumph descending,
And nature all glowing in Eden's first bloom!
On the cold cheek of Death smiles and roses are blending,
And beauty immortal awakes from the tomb."

THOMAS H. PERKINS' WATCH DOG, LOT 108 CENTRAL AVENUE.

As history makes record of so many acts of fidelity, watchfulness and sagacity of the Dog, it is here considered appropriate to place him, as an apparent guard to the remains of the family who were his friends; it was sculptured in Italy from the purest Italian marble.

KEY FREDERICK T. GRAY: LOT 1843, HIBISCUS PATH.

Is a lowly, neat monument of a Bible opened, encircled with a branch of Olive, resting on an inclined slab, supported by a marble base.

"How beautiful on all the hills
The crimson light is shed!
"Tis like the peace the Christian gives
To mourners round his bed.

How mildly on the wandering cloud
The sunset beam is cast!
"Tis like the memory left behind
When loved ones breathe their last."

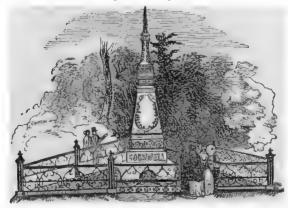

"And now, above the dews of night,
The yellow star appears;
So faith springs in the heart of those Whose eves are bathed in tears.

But soon the morning's happier light Its glory shall restore, And eyelids that are scaled in death. Shall wake to close no more."

sogswell, LOT 1142. JUNCTION OF CENTRAL AND CYPRUS AV.

"A part how small of the terraqueous globe Is tenanted by man!—the rest a waste, Rocks, deserts, frozen seas, and burning sands! Wild haunts of monsters, poisons, stings, and death. Such is Earth's melancholy map! but, far More sad! this earth is a true map of man: So bounded are its haughty lord's delights. To woe's wide empire, where deep troubles toss, Loud sorrows howl, envenomed passions bite, And threatening Fate wide opens to devour."

FAITH AND THE CROSS. MARIA LOUISA FORD.

"Farewell my best beloved! whose heavenly mind, Genius with virtue, strength with softness joined; Devotion, undebased by pride or art, With much simplicity, and joy of heart: Tho' sprightly, gentle, though polite, sincere; And only of thyself a judge severe; Thou was't beyond what verse or speech can tell My guide, my friend, my best beloved, farewell!"

ELDREDGE MONUMENT. EGLANTINE PATH, This monument is on Eglantine Path, Lot 1539, owned by C. F. Bagley

SAMUEL STORY, JR., LUPINE PATH, NEAR SPRUCE AV.

"O Thou! whose word from solid darkness struck That spark, the Sun; strike wisdom from my soul; My soul, which flies to thee, her trust, her treasure, As misers to their gold, while others rest: Through this opaque of Nature and of Soul, This double night, transmit one pitying ray, To lighten and to cheer. O lead my mind (A mind that fain would wander from its woe,) Lead it through various scenes of life and death, And from each scene the noblest truths inspire."

TOUCH NOT THE FLOWERS.

BY MRS. C. W. HUNT.

"O, do not pluck the flowers; they are sacred to the dead."

Touch not the flowers, the cherished flowers, Within its clustering petals lie.

The festal gift of summer hours; Memories and hopes that cannot die; They're holy things; They bloom to shed A gladening radiance round the dead; Their glowing cups and sweet perfume Dissolve the shadows of the tomb; 'Twas no vain love,-the love that gave Their vernal freshness to the grave. The snowy marble's sculptured height, May seem to thee a prouder sight, And ye may read in language fair, High names and deeds emblazoned there; But can its gorgeous splendor vie With the imperial lily's dye? Its shrine a purer record be Of all that binds the lost to thee? Touch not the flowers; we know not death Amid their loveliness. each wreath That floats upon the summer gale Bears saddening tones from sorrow's wail; O! can ye mark their bloom, nor feel The truth their bursting buds reveal, That earth her sacred trust must yield, Whether from bower or tented field?

There, where you simple daisy rears Its smiling head, with many tears They laid a fair young bride to rest, Touch not the flower her love hath blest; Her spirit o'er its leaves hath shed A life that animates the dead.

How vain the costly pile to rear O'er those who scorned such trappings here; Swift time, with strong, o'ermastering power, Prostrates high tomb, and lowly flower; But summer's breezes shall renew The rose's bloom, the violet's hue; Not so the carved and fretted stone-It springs no more; its glory's gone. Touch not the flowers; O, can there be, Childhood, a holier type of thee? A fitter image of thy doom Than the wild floweret's transient bloom? Let the pure sculpture gleam for him Before whose breath the world grew dim, But spare to purity the shrine Upspringing by a band divine. Touch not the flowers; the fervent prayer, Poured o'er the erring slumberer there, On incense pinions shall arise, With blissful chastenings to the skies.

God speaks in every glorious hue, Bright words of promise unto you; O'er all his healing love he sheds: Touch not the flowers. They are the dead's.

FAREWELL OF THE SOUL TO THE BODY,

BY MRS. L. H. SIGOURNEY.

COMPANION dear! the hour draws nigh, The sentence speeds-to die, to die, So long in mystic union held, So close with strong embrace compell'd, How canst thou bear the dread decree, That strikes thy clasping nerves from me? To Him who on this mortal shore. The same encircling vestment wore, To Him I look, to Him I bend, To Him thy shuddering frame commend.

—If I have ever caus'd thee pain, The throbbing breast, the burning brain, With cares and vigils turn'd thee pale, And scorn'd thee when thy strength did fail-Forgive!—Forgive!—thy task doth cease, Friend! Lover!—let us part in peace— If thou didst sometimes check my force, Or, trifling; stay mine upward course, Or lure from Heaven my wavering trust, Or bow my drooping wing to dust-I blame thee not, the strife is done, I knew thou wert the weaker one, The vase of earth, the trembling clod, Constrained to hold the breath of God. -Well hast thou in my service wrought, Thy brow hath mirror'd forth my thought, To wear my smile thy lip hath glow'd, Thy tear, to speak my sorrows, flowed, Thine car hath borne me rich supplies Of sweetly varied melodies, Thy hands my prompted deeds have done,

Thy feet upon mine errands run-Yes, thou hast mark'd my bidding well, Faithful and true! farewell, farewell. -Go to thy rest. A quiet bed Meek mother Earth with flowers shall spread. Where I no more thy sleep may break With fever'd dream, nor rudely wake Thy wearied eye.

Oh, quit thy hold, For thou art faint, and chill, and cold, And long thy gasp and groan of pain Have bound me pitying in thy chain, Though angels urge me hence to soar, Where I shall share thine ills no more, —Yet we shall meet. To soothe thy pain Remember-we shall meet again. Quell with this hope the victor's sting, And keep it as a signet-ring, When the dire worm shall pierce thy breast, And nought but ashes mark thy rest, When stars shall fall and skies grow dark, And proud suns quench their glow-worm spark, Keep thou that hope, to light thy gloom, Till the last trumpet rends the tomb -Then shalt thou glorious rise, and fair, Nor spot, nor stain, nor wrinkle bear, And, I with hovering wing elate, The bursting of thy bonds shall wait, And breathe the welcome of the sky-"No more to part, no more to die, Co-heir of Immortality."

ODE. BY NATHANIEL DEARBORN.

"Scots who has."

Sons of Pilgrims, from afar,
Scourged by Priests' unholy war,
Denied the light of Bethlehem's star,
Rejoice, your sons are free!
Free to praise Jehovah's throne,
Proclaim a worship of their own,
Reap the fruits their sires have sown,
Heavenward Liberty!

Here just rulers from your kin,
Freemens' voices usher in,
Laws from them have ever been
Those you most approved!

Here our youth we'll train aright, Ungodly power to curb its might, The joys of life—an equal right, By foreign power unmoved!

Speed the boon thus nobly planned,
'Their growth will crown and bless the land,
Worth and Science—hand in hand,
Will make it rich in store!
Protect the Mothers' sovereign right,
The sons will bask in earth's delight,
And virtue's nerve impart them, might—
To joy for evermore.

WOMAN.

BY NATHANIEL DEARBORN.

Dame Nature had finished her toil -'Twas all good in the world to her eyes -But she dwelt with peculiar delight
On her last and best work -- 'twas a prize --

" My labor was arduous," she said,
" With materials too rough I began,
And my taste was not good as you see,
For with them I finished a man;

But woman, I moulded you last!

With a delicate hand I progressed —

Truth and innocence placed in your heart.

And with beauty and love did the rest!

To man I must e'en trust this flower,
With this charge, if they ask to be blest —
Protect, love and honor the fair,
Rememb'ring its high heaven's behest!"

1774, Dec. 19. Cheering information was received from Portsmouth, N. H., that a body of their people had attacked the Fort at New Castle, on the 15th of December, scaled its walls, disarmed the commander and his men, and taken off 97 barrels of powder, 60 stands of muskets, and 16 pieces of cannon, and conveyed the whole to a safe retreat in the country. This acquisition made a gratifying offset to the loss at Cambridge. The Governor of I H. Colony proclaimed the act to be "open hostility and direct oppugnation to His Majesty's Government."-Dearborn's Boston Notions.

A BALLAD. BY NATHANIEL DEARBORN.

In a stormy, wint'ry, midnight hour, Seventy-six years ago, Seventeen hundred and seventy-four, Some Portsmouth boys, we know, Scaled the great tower-Newcastle's fort, They simply seized the power to slay, Chained there its leader foe, Took sixteen cannon from their port,--Guns sixty, thro' the snow! Gunpowder, too, was for them there,

Full barrels, ninety-seven,

All trotted off, securely, where They could not them replevin: No blood was shed-no wife's dismay, Or children wrapt in woe, Seventy-six years ago. The Granite chaps with truth relate, The daring of its hardy scions, T' achieve and elevate their State, Or beard unruly British Lions.
